DENY 4 MILLION RIGHT OF VOTING IN SOLID SOUTH

Majority Negroes and Poor Whites.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—Nearly 4 million persons of voting age have been disfranchised by the dominant Democratic régimes in the 11 southern states. Most of those disfranchised are Negroes and poor whites, who hitherto have been overwhelmingly Republican.

Whether they would vote Republican today, if permitted to exercise the franchise, is problematical. The Negroes in the north have swung conspicuously to the New Deal, and the New Deal politicians are confident the southern Negroes and poor whites would do likewise, if given the chance.

Would Outlaw Poll Tax.

That is the reason the New Dealers, with the blessing of President Roosevelt, are promoting a movement in congress to outlaw the poll tax, which is the principal device in eight southern states for disfranchising colored citizens and poor whites. With the support of these elements, freed from poll tax payments as a voting qualification, the New Dealers calculate they would be strong enough to unhorse the present dominant conservative faction of the Democratic party in the south.

This proposed legislation probably has less chance of getting thru the United States senate than has the antilynching bill, for the conservative southern Democrats do not intend to let down any of the bars to the registration of colored voters. Senator Carter Glass [D., Va.], in a rejoinder to the President's disparagement of the poll tax, quoted figures to prove that it is not the poll tax but apathy that accounts for failure of citizens in the south to exercise the franchise.

Estimates by States.

A conservative estimate of the number of citizens of voting age disfranchised by various devices in the south follows:

Alabama	450,000
Arkansas	250,000
Florida	100,000
Georgia	500,000
Louisiana	350,000
Mississippi	450,000
North Carolina	350,000
South Carolina	375,000
Tennessee	225,000
Texas	375,000
Virginia	300,000
Total	3,725,000

The 14th amendment to the constitution provides a penalty for disfranchisement of citizens. It provides that if a state denies a person 21 years of age or over the right to vote "except for participation in rebellion or other crime" the number of its representatives in congress shall be reduced in the proportion that the number disfranchised bears to the whole number of voting age.

Penalty Loss in Congress.

If this provision were enforced the southern states would lose at least one-third, possibly one-half or more of their representation at Washington. Some northern states also would be penalized to some extent, for while none has a poll tax qualification, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, Oklahoma, Oregon, Washington, and Wyoming impose literacy tests. Michigan, Montana, Nevada, Rhode Island, and Utah impose property tests, and Arizona both property and literacy requirements.

To disfranchise the Negroes and poor whites Arkansas and Tennessee rely upon the poll tax payment alone. Louisiana and North Carolina effect the purpose by a literacy test. Texas and Virginia impose a property test as well as a poll tax payment. Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, and South Carolina invoke all three tests—property, literacy, and poll tax. In almost all cases these qualifications of voters are provided for in the state constitutions.

No Restrictions in Florida.

Florida alone has no statutory restriction today on the right to vote. Its sole prerequisite hitherto, the poll tax payment, was repealed by the state legislature in 1937. The immediate effect was an increase in the total vote in elections. In the 1938 primary 415,000 votes were cast, compared with a previous high water mark of 300,000. In the national election this month the total vote was 485,541, compared with 327,365 in 1936. Such disfranchise-

APPROVE BOOST IN WATER FLOW TO FLUSH CANAL

Court Lifts Rate for 10 Day Experiment.

The Illinois waterway into which Chicago sewage drains was granted an experimental flushing yesterday. The United States Supreme court authorized the Sanitary district to increase from 1,500 to 10,000 cubic feet a second its diversion of water from the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence watershed for 10 days beginning Dec. 2.

Monte M. Lemann.

At the same time, Ross Woodhull, president of the Sanitary district, announced that contracts are being let on a $10,500,000 addition to the southwest side sewage treatment plant at Stickney. The addition will permit the district to give complete treatment to all sewage in the system by the end of 1942.

Urged After Hearing.

The experimental increase in diversion was recommended by Monte M. Lemann, who was appointed a special master of the Supreme court to hear evidence recently on Illinois' plea for a two year temporary increase in the flow of water from Lake Michigan. Six lake states which opposed the increase agreed to the 10 day experimental diversion.

Primary objective of the flushing is to scour out the Brandon road pool in the waterway which lies just north of the Brandon road dam within the city limits of Joliet.

During the hearings before Lemann it was brought out that sewage sediment has settled in the pool and has created a health hazard. Residents in the vicinity and along the main channel testified to sickening odors that left them groggy.

The Supreme court on Jan. 1, 1939, ordered the district's diversion of 5,000 cubic feet a second cut to 1,500 cubic feet on the plea of the other lake states—Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and New York.

Sediment Clogs Canal.

At that time the southwest plant was not finished and during the early months of 1939 the sediment piled up in the canal. Subsequently the plant was thrown into operation but the reduced flow was not enough to carry out the accrued waste, hence the noxious odors.

"The sludge has settled in Brandon pool—which is more like a lake," said H. P. Ramey, assistant chief engineer of the Sanitary district, "and it has rotted. It's become a nuisance! If the waterway will clear up with the flushing, the treatment plants now in operation will be able to keep the situation from getting bad again."

He said that at the rate of 1,500 cubic feet a second the water moved approximately three-quarters of a foot per second while it will move at two and one-half feet a second under the 10,000 rate.

Effect of Steady Rain.

"In effect, the water will move about as much faster as it would if there were a steady rain falling 24 hours a day," Ramey explained.

Engineers will take 70 tests daily of the water during the 10 day test period, Ramey said. The results will be filed as a supplemental report with Lemann. William Claussen, assistant attorney general, said that Illinois' briefs on the case will be filed Dec. 10.

In the meantime Sanitary district engineers are working at top speed to start work on the new addition to the southwest plant. When finished, the sewage treatment plan outlined in 1923 will have been completed at a cost of approximately $177,000,000.

Huge Potential Capacity.

At present the southwest plant treats 400 million gallons of sewage per day, while the adjacent west treatment works removes about 40 per cent of the solids in 472 million gallons of sewage. Upon completion the two plants will be able to handle 900 million gallons daily in a satisfactory manner.

It is estimated by sanitary district engineers that the area's sewage totals approximately 1,070,000,000 gallons a day, or between 475 and 500 tons. The combined capacity of the two plants, plus that of the Calumet and northwest plants, is more than sufficient to handle the job, they said.

2 See Nation at No Expense—to Themselves

An amazing odyssey by "Prof." Harold Hennessy, 40 years old, and a pretty friend and traveling companion, Mrs. Bernadine Marshall, 38, a former Chicagoan, was told last night by Detectives John Reilly and Louis Cella of the Woodlawn station. It began in Cambridge, Mass., five months ago with the theft of a car, and ended—at least for the present—with the giving of a fraudulent check for $8.50.

Harold Hennessy.

In the interim the pair, accompanied by Mrs. Marshall's four children by her first marriage, saw Chicago, spent seven weeks in Florida, visited the west, and returned to Chicago once more, despite having left Cambridge with only $70 between them.

Here Is the Record.

Reilly and Cella, after three days' investigation, have worked out the following timetable:

On July 4 Hennessy, recently fired from his job as an assistant government meteorologist at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, heard that his wife had learned of his affair with Mrs. Marshall. Mrs. Marshall, police said, promptly rented a car for $10 from a gas station attendant and left town with Hennessy and her four children, 11 to 15 years old.

Two days later they checked in at the Del Prado hotel, 5307 Hyde Park boulevard, where Hennessy let it be known that he was a "professor at the University of Chicago," and signed the register as C. Morrows. The party took the bridal suite, tipped their waitress 50 cents per meal [which they had put on the bill] and left owing $84.40.

Back to Chicago Again.

From here they went to St. Petersburg, Fla., stayed seven weeks, and went out to Dermott, Ark., where they stole another car, borrowed while their original was being repaired. They left there Sept. 1, and on Oct. 5, after touring the southwest, checked in at 6342 Ingleside avenue.

There, police say, they peddled their car to a steel worker, Raymond Brands of 3441 Highway street, Hammond, Ind., for $70. Brands paid $7.25 to get it out of storage, and accepted a statement written and "notarized" by Hennessy, that the title was clear. Hennessy used the name, Austin J. Barlow, for the notary's signature and drew a little circle in ink as a seal.

Unable to pay their rent, they left the children there and went to 5125 Dorchester avenue, stole a set of books, sold them, and moved to 6509 Minerva avenue. It was here that they offered the check for $8.50. Their landlady, Mrs. Mary Lambert, called police because they asked her to hold the check, and the two were arrested.

Cella and Reilly also learned, and the couple admitted, that Hennessy charged goods worth $365 after getting a job as an architect at a store at Homan avenue and Arthington street. He was soon fired.

Mrs. Marshall, who said she divorced her husband, a loop insurance broker, in 1936, also told police that she married a second man in 1937 and charged $1,200 to his account in a loop store, $785 of it in one month.

"They're a couple of slick articles," said Policeman Cella. "And she certainly flattened us with some of those big words."

MRS. CATT URGES USE OF SPANKING MACHINE ON EMPIRE DREAMERS

New York, Nov. 25 (AP).—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, 81 years old, veteran of the woman suffrage movement, said tonight that "perhaps what we most need is an international mothers' gestapo whose business it will be to hunt out the world empire dreamers in infancy" and use a spanking machine on them.

"Millions and millions of men are lying in their graves, sent there by the wicked power of men who dreamed of empire," she said in an address before the Woman's Centennial congress. "Whatever you plan for the future, in the name of peace, remember that your work will be useless unless you provide the means for suppressing every man who dreams of empire."

Mrs. Catt urged women attending the congress, which commemorates a century of organized effort to end discrimination against women, "to make the aim of the next 100 years' plan the abolition of war."

'BLITZ HEROES,' BRITISH AIR RAID WORKERS, STRIKE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Something of a sensation was caused today when air raid precautions workers, who generally have been conceded to be the heroes of the blitzkrieg, went on strike in St. Mary Cray and Orpington. The strikers allege the civil defense committee, under which they work, has refused to remedy their grievances.

One striker, a world war veteran, summed up their complaints thus: "We want heat and light at our stations. The wooden sheds provided do not protect the men at night. The supply of tea and sugar is inadequate. Some volunteers still do not have helmets and others wear their own clothing and are not compensated. All are engaged in dangerous jobs and many have had narrow escapes."

According to newspaper reports it is feared that the strike may spread.

Japan Names Adm. Nomura Envoy to U. S.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Japan, Nov. 25.—The selection of Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura as Japan's ambassador to the United States was announced today. He is the first former foreign minister ever sent abroad as an ambassador and his selection was considered in all circles to be highly significant, indicating a strong desire of influential quarters here to remain friendly to the United States.

A growing section of the public has been loudly assailing American actions in the far east and calling America Japan's enemy.

Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka's selection of Nomura was seen as evidence of an earnest desire by the government to dispel the dark clouds hovering over the Pacific.

"Peace" to Be His Theme.

One of Nomura's first duties, it is reliably reported, will be to try to convince the United States that Japan's union with the Rome-Berlin axis was not aimed at bringing the United States into the war, but to keep it out, and that it has no intention of seeking trouble with America. His second duty will be to attempt to have the United States cease its hostile attitude toward Japan's aims in Asia.

Gen. Nobuyuki Abe, special envoy to China, left Tokio this morning for Nanking bearing important new instructions. It is expected that Abe in Nanking and Nomura in Washington will be Matsuoka's main pillars in the future diplomacy of Japan.

Plans No "Favor Currying."

Nomura was said to have accepted the Washington offer only after persistent requests. He said later:

"The task I am assuming is difficult and will not succeed unless the government and people fully cooperate with each other. I will not adopt a favor currying attitude. It takes two to play the diplomatic game. Unless the other side reciprocates, there is nothing I can do."

[Admiral Nomura has long been considered one of the most "pro-American" of Japanese leaders. As a captain he was naval attaché at Washington, D. C., during the world war. He is 62 years old, a plain spoken seaman who speaks English well, likes a joke, and laughs freely. He will succeed Kensuke Horinouchi, who was recalled last September.]

Fear Big Loss of Life Among Homeless Jews

HAIFA, Palestine, Nov. 25 (AP).—The refugee steamer Patria, packed to the gunwales with 1,771 wandering, homeless Jews, exploded and capsized in Haifa harbor today with an undetermined but possibly heavy loss of life. The refugees, who had sought illegally to settle in Palestine, had been placed aboard the ship for transportation to some other British colony for the duration of the war.

Arrow shows where ship capsized.

Cause of Blast Unknown.

Cause of the explosion was not determined.

Many of those aboard managed to swim ashore, but an official announcement said that "some casualties" were feared.

The refugees had been aboard the ship since last Thursday, waiting to start their voyage as soon as authorities deemed conditions in the Mediterranean to be reasonably safe.

[Jewish immigration to Palestine was forbidden in June, 1939, when the British colonial secretary asserted there was an organized attempt to thwart the usual immigration quota law.]

Ship Taken Over by Britain.

The Patria was an 11,885 ton French freight and passenger vessel recently taken over by Britain.

The refugees, mostly from Austria, Slovakia, Bohemia, Hungary, and Rumania, reached Haifa early in November. They had sailed from an unidentified Black sea port. British authorities were reported to have held their ships unseaworthy and arranged to transport the refugees elsewhere on the Patria.

[In August, 1939, there was a refugee incident at nearby Tel Aviv which contained some particulars paralleling the present case. At that time the 1,000 ton ship Parita, with 870 Jewish refugees aboard, was run aground at Tel Aviv by her all-Jewish crew after various Mediterranean ports had refused her entrance. The passengers were interned.]

SLAYER OF LOEB ASKS HIGH COURT TO RELEASE HIM

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 25 (AP).—James E. Day, slayer of Richard Loeb in 1936 when both were prisoners in the Stateville penitentiary, asked the Illinois Supreme court today to order his release from the state prison at Pontiac.

Day, now 27 years old, was acquitted of a murder charge when he testified he killed Loeb in self-defense. He was transferred from Stateville to Pontiac prison and has served more than eight years under a 1 to 10 year sentence for a $26 robbery in Chicago in 1932.

Attorney Jay J. McCarthy of Chicago filed in the Supreme court a motion for leave to petition for a writ of habeas corpus contending Day should have been freed May 19, 1938, under the state law granting convicts time off for good behavior.

Loeb, slashed to death with a razor at Stateville Jan. 28, 1936, was serving a life sentence for his part in the kidnap-slaying of Bobby Franks of Chicago.

HUNDREDS RACE FOR 200 APPLES SPILLED IN A BERLIN STREET

BERLIN, Nov. 25 (AP).—Scores of Germans beat the strict food rationing system today when a truck spilled 200 apples on Berlin's main street.

Making a short turn into Unter den Linden, the truck lost part of its load. Before the driver could stop, hundreds of pedestrians ran into the street and scrambled for the fruit.

Only children heretofore have been getting apples, but yesterday it was announced that each adult could have one pound within the next two weeks.

It was announced today that two more eggs can be purchased by each adult between now and Nov. 30, and that a quarter pound of candy per capita may be dished out between now and Dec. 31.

STORM BREWING OVER U. S. FISCAL HELP TO BRITAIN

Lord Lothian Talks with Roosevelt.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—The question of lifting the ban on credits to Great Britain today became an issue of paramount interest in the capital as legislators plainly indicated stiffening resistance to such a move and the administration cagily refrained from a definite stand.

The immediate interest in the subject of credits was aroused by the remarks of Lord Lothian, the British ambassador, upon his return Saturday from London. He said then that Britain is beginning to come to the end of her financial resources and that financial aid must be taken up possibly within the next six months. British quarters immediately explained Lothian's remarks as referring to dollar balances in the United States rather than Britain's financial resources in general.

Two Laws Bar Credits.

There are two laws on the statute books which prohibit credits to Britain and other countries involved in the European war—the Johnson act barring loans or credits to countries which have defaulted on their world war debts and the neutrality act which provides that belligerents can buy war materials here only on a "cash and carry" basis.

Today's developments included the following:

1. Lord Lothian conferred with the President for an hour and 20 minutes, during which he reviewed the entire British war situation and blandly insisted after the conference that "the President and I never mentioned finances." He said, however, in response to inquiries, that "I am optimistic over the situation provided we can get more help from you."

Roosevelt Reaffirms Stand.

2. President Roosevelt, thru his secretary, Stephen Early, stood by his statement of last Friday that the repeal or modification of the Johnson and neutrality acts to permit credits had not been discussed within the government.

3. Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, senate majority leader, asserted after a 90 minute conference of legislative leaders with the President that the question of financial aid to Great Britain would not come up at this session of congress, which ends Jan. 3. However, he did not extend this statement to cover the new session.

4. Senator William H. King [D., Utah], lame duck whose term expires with the session, declared he will press for action on his resolution to permit credits to Britain when the senate foreign relations committee meets Wednesday.

Senator Johnson Unyielding.

5. Senator Hiram W. Johnson [R., Cal.], author of the Johnson act, promised a last ditch fight to keep the ban on loans in operation. "There will be a fight to the finish on this matter when and if it comes up," he warned. At the same time Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] introduced a resolution calling for a senate investigation into the amount of British financial resources in the United States.

6. Secretary of State Cordell Hull told his press conferences that the matter of loans or credits to Britain must await clarification of congressional opinion. He declined to discuss reports from London that Britain might exchange West Indies possessions for armaments in this country. The suggestion also has been made that the British liquidate their 1½ billion dollar investment in Latin American countries and acquire dollar balances.

Lothian Also Sees Hull.

After seeing the President, Ambassador Lothian conferred with Hull for an hour and said that the matter of credits was not discussed "any more than it comes into the general picture." A trade of West Indies possessions for armaments was not taken up with Hull, Lothian said.

Resources of the United Kingdom in the United States were estimated by the department of commerce at approximately 4 billion 803 million dollars at the close of 1939. In addition, Canada had an estimated investment of 1 billion 630 million dollars in the United States at the beginning of the European war in September, 1939. Other British countries had holdings of several hundred millions.

The British purchasing commissirecently announced commitments for war materials from this country totaling 2½ billion dollars up to Nov. 1. In addition, other commodities were bought. But the total unfavorable balance of trade with the United States for British countries in the first year of the war was only 71' million dollars, representing a drain to that extent on balances here. From these figures rough estimates would indicate British resources of 3½ ·l-lion dollars remaining in the United States.

Tactics Are Forecast.

The Johnson act bars Britain from cr··its by reason of a 5½ billion dollar debt on which more than 1 billion in interest has been defaulted. Germany, Italy, and Greece, also have defaulted on heavy debts.

Informed quarters here believe that the White House is watching the reaction to trial balloons sent up now on removing the credit bans and that a program of agitation for such a move, such as preceded the destroyer deal, will be undertaken, culminating in a definite legislative request.

In discussing the British situation with reporters at the White House, Lothian repeated that assistance from the United States next year falls in the fields of airplanes, munitions, ships, and finance. The President made no promises of any kind as to what further help might be extended, Lothian said. The rule now is 50 per cent of our materials' production for Britain.

He said that England has the advantage in daylight bombings against Germany but night bombing has not been solved yet. The Germans never have had air supremacy, however, he said. What impressed him most in his trip to England, the ambassador said, was the speedy change in airplane design. The fighter planes now carry 10 guns instead of 8, to provide greater firing power, and also carry more and heavier armor, he reported.

CONVICT CAPTAIN OF PHILIPPINES SCOUTS AS A SPY

MANILA, P. I., Nov. 25 (AP).—Convicted by a general court martial on a charge of conspiring to sell military information, Capt. Rufo Romero of the Philippine Scouts was sentenced today to 15 years' imprisonment at hard labor and ordered dishonorably discharged.

Capt. Rufo Romero.

Romero, a West Point graduate, had been charged with removing maps from Fort McKinley here for the purpose of selling them. The maps were found in the locked trunk of his automobile. He denied the charges and offered to resign his commission and undergo a brain operation to eliminate any possibility that he could duplicate the maps from memory.

No public mention was made as to whom the information was to have been sold, but an army officer testified Romero was to have received $7,000. Mrs. Romero, the former Lorraine Becker of Brooklyn, N. Y., expressed the belief that if the court had allowed competent experts to examine her husband, they would have found him "not entirely sane."

BERMUDA TAKES UP SOVEREIGNTY OF U. S. BASE AREA

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 25.—Sovereignty of the land turned over to the United States for defense bases and possible loss and injury to the community were subjects of debate in the assembly today.

A message to the governor, proposed last week, was amended today to include the statement that "we must confess the area involved and the scheme generally exceeds anything we had expected or inferred; we feel that these islands are indeed small for such a project." It also called for "adequate compensatory measures for which the government of the United States would be responsible."

The assembly concurred on the broad lines of the site proposed, the message said, but advised against any addition to the extensive facilities already agreed upon.

Some members expressed uncertainty about sovereignty of the sites, noting that Britain had given the Newfoundland and Bermuda bases as a free gift, not linked with the exchange of United States destroyers for other British possessions.

Bullet Proof Fuel Tanks Put on U. S. Army Planes

Santa Monica, Cal., Nov. 25 [Special].—The Douglas Aircraft company revealed today that all military planes being produced for the United States army and the British air force are being equipped with bulletproof gasoline tanks. The tanks, developed by the United States Rubber company, are made of a self-sealing material which prevents loss of fuel and averts the danger of fire when the tank is hit by machine gun bullets.

Mayor Buys Seals

Mayor Kelly buying the first Christmas seals yesterday from Miss Virginia Smith.

The 1940 sale of Christmas seals in Chicago was inaugurated yesterday by Mayor Kelly with the purchase of the first block of seals released locally by the Tuberculosis Institute of Chicago and Cook County. Miss Virginia Smith, 222 Prospect avenue, Park Ridge, was the salesgirl who served the mayor.

This is the 34th annual sale of the seals in Chicago. Homer J. Buckley, president of the board of directors of the local Tuberculosis institute, said he hoped to raise $170,000 this year. The sales last year totaled $155,000. Profits are used for the prevention and eradication of tuberculosis.

ULSTER PICKS NEW PREMIER; TALK OF UNION REVIVED

British Deal for Bases in Ireland Suggested.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Nov. 25 (AP).—John Miller Andrews, deputy prime minister of Northern Ireland, was elevated to prime minister today to succeed Viscount Craigavon, who died unexpectedly last night. He is 69 years old.

Lord Craigavon, bitter foe of proposals to unite Ireland and Northern Ireland [Ulster], had been the first and only prime minister since the Ulster government was formed in 1921.

Andrews has also opposed union proposals, but some observers expressed belief there may be a remote possibility of a stronger move for unification. It has been suggested that under such a program the six British controled Ulster counties might be given to Ireland in return for the leasing by Ireland of naval bases to Britain.

[Prime Minister Winston Churchill recently told the British parliament Britain's war against German submarines was hampered by the lack of bases in Ireland.]

Andrews to Hold Two Posts.

Andrews was appointed after a three-hour cabinet session in which members said they were confronted with a "ticklish legal problem" because there was no precedent for selecting a successor for a prime minister who dies in office.

An official announcement said Andrews consented to continue to hold office also as finance minister.

Andrews was summoned to an audience with the duke of Abercorn, governor of northern Ireland, after the cabinet session broke up.

Slender and white-haired, Andrews has been finance minister since 1937 and previously had been labor minister from 1921 to 1937. He had been a member of the Northern Ireland parliament since its organization in 1921. He was long successful as a business man, both as a landowner and director of several companies.

De Valera Tells of Sorrow.

DUBLIN, Ireland, Nov. 25 (AP).—Eamon De Valera, prime minister of Ireland, expressed sorrow today on learning of the death of Viscount Craigavon.

"Notwithstanding the views he expressed, I always cherished the hope he would yet play a leading part in bringing about a reunion of our country," De Valera said. "I met him once and liked him personally. What a pity it is that he is dead while the thing he supported [partition of Ireland] lives."

Elevated Train Kills Man Trying to Retrieve Hat

A man identified as John Spence Horn, about 55 years old, 1126 Wenonah avenue, Oak Park, was crushed to death between an elevated train and the platform at 22d street and Wabash avenue early today, apparently while trying to retrieve his hat from the tracks. Motorman James Gifford, 1387 Oakwood avenue, Des Plaines, told Policeman John Nevell of the Cottage Grove station that the man dashed for the platform as the northbound express roared down on him. Firemen under Battalion Chief James Gibbons freed the body. Horn was a foreman for a motor delivery firm.

DIG TO LAST CENT TO PAY FOR WAR, BRITONS WARNED

Expenses Almost Double in Year; to Go Higher.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Nov. 25.—England is fighting the costliest war the world has ever known. The costs are nearly double now in comparison with those of the first year of the war, but "it would be a cause of dismay if this expenditure had not increased and did not increase further," Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer, told a Glasgow audience today.

In the first year of the war the average daily cost was 5,300,000 pounds [about $21,200,000] and in the first 77 days of the second year the average rose to 9,100,000 pounds daily [about $36,400,000], he said.

Taxation, now at a record peak, could not begin to meet these costs, Wood declared, and he urged every one to save more to make funds available for government use. In the first year the government obtained 1,140,000,000 pounds [about $4,560,000,000] from loans and savings, but "much more will have to be achieved," he said.

'Real Sacrifice' Needed.

The gap between government income and expenditures, Wood added, "must be bridged by the people of Britain saving and sending in every pound and every penny to the point of real sacrifice."

Surveying the way in which the war savings campaign "had confounded the gloomy prophets," the chancellor concluded, "we can look forward with confidence and hope."

Newspapers here are offering numerous suggestions regarding payment for British purchases in the United States. It is expected that the government, when the house of commons reassembles, will make a statement on Britain's financial resources, which Lord Lothian, British ambassador, told American newspaper men are nearing the end.

The Daily Telegraph's Washington correspondent declared, "The critical period will not come until about the middle of next year, but it requires considerable time to familiarize the American public with the new idea." This may explain the admission by Lord Lothian, he said.

The same paper's financial editor said, "This situation should be appreciated in the United States in good time so that no difficulties over payment will interrupt the flow of essential war materials."

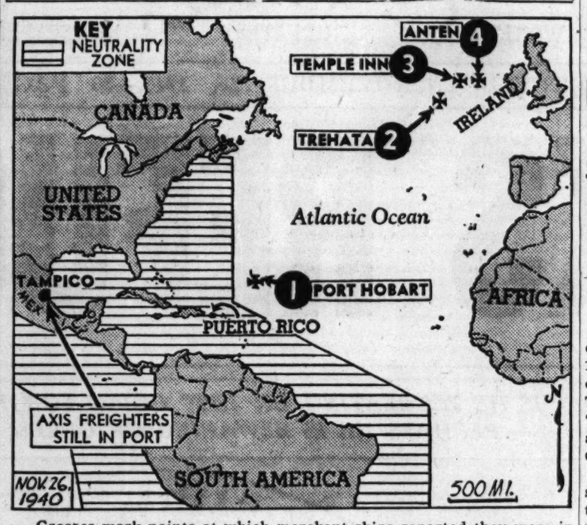
Offer Way Around Johnson Act.

Among suggestions offered here by political correspondents to obtain American credit is one for the American government to underwrite British orders. This, it was said, would not infringe on the Johnson act, which prohibits the United States from extending credit to any nation delinquent on its world war debt payments.

The Tribune correspondent has seen no suggestion here for the sale of Britain's West Indies possessions to the United States or for the making of any concession of this type by which Britain might wipe out her debt to America. Satisfaction of the debt would automatically restore Britain's right, even under the Johnson act, to float loans in America.

Lord Lothian's statement on British finances had little effect on the stock markets here. Commentators stressed that "there is no reason for alarm," but the ambassador's frank declaration was regarded as "timely."

Ships Reported in Trouble



Crosses mark points at which merchant ships reported they were in trouble as follows: 1. The Port Hobart, unreported after message that it was being shelled. 2. The Trehata, also missing after reporting that it was being followed by "suspicious" ship. 3. The Temple Inn, which radioed it was being attacked by submarine. 4. The Anten, torpedoed Saturday, reported that it was breaking up.

U-BOAT ATTACKS ANOTHER BRITISH SHIP OFF IRELAND

New York, Nov. 25 [Special].—Radio messages telling of fresh Nazi attacks on shipping in the North Atlantic sealanes were picked up here today by Mackay radio. The 5,218 ton British freighter Temple Inn, built only this year, radioed that it was being attacked by a U-boat 300 miles off the northern coast of Ireland.

The 5,135 ton Swedish steamer Anten, one of three torpedoed in the same vicinity on Saturday, wirelessed that it was still afloat, but was breaking up amidships and listing badly. Thirteen men remained aboard, and there was only one life-raft left.

Nothing more had been heard of the 9,430 ton British freighter Port Hobart, which wirelessed it was being shelled, nor of the 4,817 ton freighter Trehata, which radioed it was being followed by a "suspicious" ship.

Axis Ships Cease Activity.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 25 (AP).—Bustling activity of the pre-sailing variety aboard a dozen axis merchant ships in Tampico harbor had dwindled away into a heavy silence tonight and dissipated expectations that they would try immediately a concerted dash for home.

TWO CANADIAN FLYERS DIE AS PLANES COLLIDE

LONDON, Ont., Nov. 25 (AP).—Two royal Canadian air force men, Lewis Duff, 23 years old, sixth ranking Canadian tennis player, who learned much of his game at the University of Miami, Florida, and John Higginbotham, 23, of South Orange, N. J., were killed today in the collision of their training planes near here. Both were classed as leading aircraft men. The school commandant said Duff and Higginbotham were preparing to land when their machines collided at an altitude of 500 feet. They locked and crashed together.

Prominent Athlete.

South Orange, N. J., Nov. 25 (AP).—John Higginbotham, killed today in a collision of two army training planes in Canada, was a prominent athlete and brilliant student at Princeton university, where he was graduated in 1939. He gave up a promising business career in Philadelphia to enlist in the Canadian air force in September. He was born in Manila, P. I. His father, Henry E. Higginbotham, who is a British subject, is a partner in P. L. Pritchard company, hemp and jute importers, of New York.

NAZIS IMPRISON 18 ALSATIANS FOR CRITICIZING RULE

Tell Persons with French Names to Drop Them.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—The Strasbourg chief of police today announced that 18 Alsatians have been placed in concentration camps within recent days. They are charged with displaying an "anti-German attitude in words and actions against the symbols of Nazi Germany."

The Germanization of former Alsace-Lorraine is being increased systematically. Persons with French names are being requested to drop old names and adopt German ones instead.

Appeal Broadcast.

One of the Nazi experts for Alsace, Dr. Ernst, broadcast an appeal to this effect from Stuttgart, which was reprinted in the Strasbourg Nazi organ, Neuste Nachrichten. He said that persons with French names should drop them, especially if their ancestors distinguished themselves in the service of Germany. Ernst asserted that by dropping the old names they would be "setting up a fine monument to the memory of their ancestors."

Alsatians Complain.

Alsatians complain that in other parts of Germany, Germans are allowed to retain their French family names.

"In other German districts nobody could suspect a German with a French name of being French in his heart," these Alsatians are told. "But in Alsace the danger exists that a French name could be considered as a symbol for a French mentality."

LOTHIAN'S WORDS 'BEGGAR CRY FOR HELP,' NAZIS SAY

[Copyright: 1940: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—The remarks of the marquess of Lothian, British ambassador, on his return to the United States from London have been interpreted by the German press as "the cry for help of a beggar."

That "cry," it is emphasized, indicates the effects of the German counter-blockade on British financial reserves and shipping tonnage.

Such an appeal for help from America, the press asserts, indicates further that the British realize they will be "starved out" long before the year 1944, in which the English offensive is scheduled to begin, and that the possibilities of America delivering material to England are restricted by the "natural boundaries" of that country's industrial capacity and American armament requirements.

GREEK SOLDIERS ENTER ANOTHER BASE IN ALBANIA

Units Reach Outskirts of Argyrokastron.

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 26, Tuesday (AP).—Greek troops advancing in most places along a 100 mile front in Albania have "overshot" Pogradetz, 25 miles north of Koritza, and have entered the outskirts of Argyrokastron, main Italian base in southern Albania, it was reported today.

At the same time, British air force headquarters in Greece announced heavy daylight raids were carried out yesterday by R. A. F. bombers on Durazzo, described by the R. A. F. as the "only important port on the Albanian coast."

Reports 10,000 Ton Ship Hit.

The R. A. F. said direct hits were scored on shipping, including two hits on a 10,000 ton ship.

The Greek forces pursuing the Italians across Albania were reported in advices from the front to be about to take Argyrokastron. The entry into the southern Italian base, the last remaining to the Fascists in that sector, was reported yesterday, just four days following the capture of Koritza, northern base of Premier Mussolini's backfiring invasion of Greece.

A government spokesman said the Greeks were pushing ahead despite a lack of good roads and were capturing more equipment.

Claim Italians Isolated.

Below the threatened southern base, a large number of Italians virtually have been isolated, the Greeks reported, in the fast developing, "full fledged counter offensive" which they declare is aimed at throwing the Fascists out of Albania altogether.

At this end of the curving battle-front the Greeks said the Italian troops were fighting fiercely against forces threatening to back them up against the Adriatic coast.

Additional Greek columns were thrusting toward Premeti, east of Argyrokastron, and on the central front the Italians were said to have abandoned their fortifications on Mount Ostrovitza.

Coupled with the Greek's proclaimed aim of wresting the whole of Albania from Mussolini was a possible plan for Greek-British seizure of Italy's strategic Dodecanese islands, lying between southeast Greece and Turkey.

Troops Massed on Crete.

An "expeditionary" army of Greek and British troops was reported massed on the island of Crete, ready to spring the attack on the strongly fortified Dodecanese as soon as the British naval blockade could weaken the islands' bases.

A neutral military observer estimated, meanwhile, that the Greeks have taken around 6,000 Italian prisoners.

[An Exchange Telegraph, British news agency, dispatch received in London from Athens said the capture of 8,000 more Italians was announced in the Greek capital.]

Malta Airport Attacked.

ROME, Nov. 25 (AP).—A machine gun attack by an Italian pursuit plane squadron on an airport at Malta, British mid-Mediterranean naval base, was reported by the high command today to have set fires visible in Sicily, more than 50 miles away.

Three planes on the field were set ablaze immediately by the Fascist gunners, the communique said, and the fire spread quickly, causing several violent explosions. All the raiding planes returned, it said.

Acknowledging British raids at Durazzo, Albanian port, the Italians said several persons were wounded and "light damage" was done.

On the Greek front, it was said, "effective counter attacks were made by our forces," and "enemy positions" were bombed, particularly along the Epirus coast.

Greeks Advance in Albania

(Story in adjoining column.)

Greek troops advanced in most places along a 100 mile front in Albania yesterday and have entered the outskirts of Argyrokastron, main Italian base in southern Albania.

ITALIAN COLONEL SHOOTS OWN MEN FOR FALLING BACK

Tragic Story Related by Prisoner of Greeks.

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 25 (AP).—A captured Italian lieutenant's story that two men in his unit were shot by their colonel after the group retreated before the Greeks was told today to an Associated Press correspondent at the front.

The correspondent, sitting in Greek trenches, watched the lieutenant and 21 other Italians surrender.

This minor action took place 10 miles east of Argyrokastron, Albania, toward which the Greeks are driving.

The Correspondent's Story.

Here is the correspondent's story:

"All during the day artillery and machine gun fire echoed thru numerous valleys in this region and Italian planes flew high overhead.

"The 22 prisoners were remmants of a 60 man unit. All others had been killed.

"Three more Italian companies were holding out on adjoining hills.

"The prisoners I saw taken were driven from their cover by artillery fire originating in the place where I sat. They came out of the bushes, holding their hands above their heads.

"They were a sorry sight, ragged and hungry. The lieutenant said they had not eaten in three days.

Gave Up to Prevent Slaughter.

"'I had to surrender to prevent pure slaughter,'" he said. "'Two days ago I asked for reënforcements. They said they would send me some but they never did. Finally I had to abandon the position. We retreated. The colonel in command a little behind the line shot two of us for it—just put them up against a tree and shot them. He turned us back with hand grenades and guns. We had no automatic weapons. We were outnumbered and lost.'"

"What I [the correspondent] have seen today confirms that the Greeks are fighting like lions while the Italians, unwilling to give battle, are fleeing or surrendering all along the front.

"Stories of booty left behind are not exaggerated. The amount is so great it literally clogs the roads. I counted as many as 23 Italian trucks, seven or eight tanks and motorcycles, and bicycles by the hundreds over a distance of 30 miles.

"There is no regular front. The soldiers stay at their posts night and day. They sleep where they are."

FRANCE NAMES NEW HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR MANDATED SYRIA

VICHY, France, Nov. 25 (AP).—Jean Chiappe, member of the Paris municipal council, was appointed today to succeed Gabriel Puaux as high commissioner to French mandated Syria. No reason for the shift was given in the official announcement.

Jean Chiappe.

[Jean Chiappe gained fame as Paris chief of police and head of the surete nationale (secret police). As police chief he modernized the city's control of traffic and developed the art of stopping riots. He was ousted by Premier Edouard Daladier in 1934 in the first move to clean house following the Stavisky pawn shop scandal.]

ITALIAN AIRMEN RAID NAVAL BASE AT ALEXANDRIA

ROME, Nov. 25 (AP).—The Italian high command today announced that Italian planes had attacked the British naval base at Alexandria, Egypt, and had bombed port facilities.

One person was injured, the communique said, when "a hospital displaying quite clearly, the insignia of the Red Cross," was machine gunned and bombed by British planes "from a low height" at Apollonia, and five were killed and two injured in a children's seaside camp at Derna. Apollonia and Derna are in Libya.

Aid Victims with Italian Money.

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 25 (AP).—Egypt today began aiding victims of Italian air raids on Alexandria with Italian money. A commission set up under a new decree drew on sequestered Italian funds in Egypt to add to Egyptian relief funds.

Seventy-six persons were killed and 204 wounded in last Tuesday's raid, the most serious thus far on Alexandria. Eighty houses were destroyed. The defense ministry reported 4 were killed and 28 wounded in a raid yesterday.

IL DUCE'S FLEET FLEES TARANTO, BRITISH DECLARE

Show Photos to Prove Raid Damage of Nov. 11.

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP). — British naval sources said today the R. A. F.'s bombing of the Italian fleet in the harbor of Taranto on Nov. 11 had forced the Italian navy to withdraw the major portion of its fleet from that badly damaged base to an undisclosed place of greater safety.

The Italian fleet movement, the British said, was disclosed by photographs released for publication today. They were taken by British scouting planes making daylight flights as low as 6,000 feet above the fortified port.

British naval sources said that comparisons of the number of warships in the whole of Taranto harbor, just at the instep of the Italian boot, at the time of the first attack on Nov. 11, and those shown in the four photographs taken on Nov. 14 in a scouting flight, disclosed the departure of many units of the Italian fleet.

Three Battleships Remain.

The photographs, it was stated, disclosed that only three battleships, eight cruisers, and nine destroyers were left in Taranto, whereas the total strength at the time of the attack on Nov. 11 was six battleships, ten cruisers, 27 destroyers and a large number of submarines.

One photograph, according to British naval experts, shows a battleship of the Littorio class—probably the 35,000 ton Vittorio Veneto — badly down by the bows in the middle of outer Taranto harbor. Salvage ships and tugs are shown alongside.

The second photograph shows what experts said was a 23,622 ton battleship of the Cavour class beached on the east shore of the outer harbor.

The picture shows the ship with a heavy list to starboard and the whole length of its starboard side submerged as well as its stern, aft of the rear gun turrets.

Activity Around Ship.

The same photograph shows another battleship of the same class, around which some activity was apparent, perhaps indicating it also was damaged.

The third photograph, the same experts said, shows another battleship of the Cavour class down by the bows and beached on the northeast shore of the outer harbor, with auxiliary craft alongside.

Naval sources saw in the picture evidence of "obvious attempts to make it seaworthy so it could be towed out for repairs."

The fourth photograph shows two cruisers, one of the Trento class and the other of the Bolzano class. The experts said there was evidence of a considerable quantity of oil on the water and "it is fair enough to say this probably indicates some damage to the two ships, altho no damage can be seen."

Ex-Minister Gets One Year for Disobedience in India

TRICHINOPOLY, India, Nov. 25 (AP).—Dr. T. S. S. Rajan, former congress minister in Madras, was sentenced today to one year of rigorous imprisonment for civil disobedience. He is the first former minister arrested for participation in the campaign promoted by Mohandas K. Gandhi.

BULGARS TO STAY OUT OF AXIS FOR PRESENT—BERLIN

Diplomatic Pressure Goes On, Nazis Hint.

BERLIN, Nov. 25 (AP).—Bulgaria, long viewed as a likely convert to the axis lineup, is staying out, for the present at least, informed Nazi sources indicated today.

This disclosure came with the surprise statement by these informants that the signatures of Hungary, Rumania, and Slovakia to the Rome-Berlin-Tokio pact ended the present series of additions.

Diplomacy to Continue.

Authorized quarters hinted, nevertheless, that Adolf Hitler's diplomatic maneuvers, which already have covered most of the continent, will continue.

Nazi circles said that the fact Bulgaria is not expected to join up at this time has nothing to do with developments in Turkey.

The belief was expressed in foreign diplomatic quarters here that Bulgaria's signature would seem untimely at a moment when that country is faced with a political crisis.

[Sofia dispatches have indicated dissension with the Bulgarian government over the question of signing.]

Bulgarians Rejoice.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Nov. 25 (AP).—There was rejoicing in Bulgaria tonight over indications that this country will not be forced to sign up immediately with the axis powers—a development which diplomatic circles took to mean that soviet Russia did not yet see eye to eye with Germany on their respective spheres of influence.

The belief was expressed in official circles that Bulgaria had avoided being rushed into signing until after the Greek-Turkish-Russian situation became clarified.

"It now appears certain to us that Bulgaria will not be involved in war this winter," said a Bulgarian official.

Bulgaria's arguments against joining the axis were generally believed inspired by the Russians, who still are not willing to concede that all the Balkans belong to the German lebensraum [living space.]

Papen Sees Saracoglu.

ANKARA, Turkey, Nov. 25 (AP).—In a busy round of interviews, Turkey's foreign minister, Sukru Saracoglu, today conferred with Ambassador Franz von Papen, of Germany for the second time since that envoy returned from Berlin, and talked also with the Greek and Jugo-Slav ambassadors.

No official comment was available after any of the conversations, but it was known they dealt with the threatened spread of the Balkan war.

The military attaché of the German embassy left Istanbul by plane for Berlin yesterday. It was reported unofficially he carried confidential memoranda on the results of the first Von Papen-Saracoglu talk.

ST. LEONARD'S, DR. JOHNSON'S CHURCH, RUINED

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP).—St. Leonard's church, one of London's oldest and a favorite place of worship of Dr. Samuel Johnson, has been virtually destroyed in recent air raids. The government permitted publication today of the fact that a high explosive bomb fell in the churchyard and demolished the 17th century part of the structure, altho some parts of the 14th century building still stand. It was in St. Leonard's that Boswell recorded Dr. Johnson knelt and kissed the stones when he left Streatham for the last time.

BOMBS START 46 FIRES IN BRISTOL, GERMANS CLAIM

Declare Port of Western Britain Much Damaged.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—Following last night's mass attack on Bristol, western British port which receives much cargo from the United States, German reconnoitering planes tonight reported the town still was under a pall of smoke occasionally pierced by flames. German observers stated that 46 large fires were counted, aside from numerous smaller fires.

Whole blocks of streets were said to be still blazing and the southern part of the harbor seemed to the observers to have been hit especially hard. Ten large buildings from 400 to 700 feet long—part of the big industrial plants—were reported afire.

The Germans further stated that in the northwestern part of the city also widespread fires could be observed, with bursts of flame rising to a height of more than 1,200 feet.

Gas Tank Blown Up.

It was asserted that a series of high explosive bombs, which had been dropped on the tanks of the Bristol gas company, caused one of them to explode. A number of big mills and grain elevators were hit by incendiary bombs, the Germans claimed.

Along with the harbor and industrial areas of Bristol, German sources also listed Gravesend, on the Thames below London, and Portland, British naval base, as targets of their night raiders.

Meanwhile, an overseas raider was declared to have sunk a total of 95,000 tons of British shipping in the war.

Raidless Night in London.

LONDON, Nov. 26, Tuesday (AP).—Several bombs dropped in the west of England, killing a few persons, marked the only ovenight activity of German air raiders against Britain, the air and home security ministries announced today. It was the second night in 80 that London escaped a raid.

Previous reports indicated the entire country escaped the raiders for the first time since Sept. 7, but the government acknowledged the Nazis made one "token" attack despite bad weather.

Didn't Change Their Habits.

Londoners did not change their usual shelter habits. A few more tables were occupied in all-night restaurants. Most folks slept.

London's only previous alarm-free night was on Oct. 6.

British bombers dropped "many tons" of explosives on Hamburg shipyards, where German naval craft are turned out, in an extensive raid early yesterday, the air ministry said.

Coupled with this raid were others on Harburg, southwest of Munich, where fires and explosions were said to have been set off in the important Nord Deutsche Chemical works; Wilhelmshaven, where bombs were aimed at the frequently attacked dockyard; and the Dutch port of Den Helder, where returning pilots told of watching a dockside warehouse collapse in the glare of bursting bombs.

'ALLIGATOR' TANK DOES EVERYTHING BUT LAY AN EGG

Amphibian Vehicle Is Navy's Newest.

Clearwater, Fla., Nov. 25 (AP). — A mechanical version of the Florida alligator, able to travel on land or water with equal ease, is one of the navy's latest additions.

The navy has ordered 200 of the "alligators"—amphibian tanks—from Donald Roebling, wealthy young Clearwater contractor.

The machines can do just about anything a real alligator can do except lay an egg.

Their Probable Purpose.

The navy isn't telling what the tanks will be used for but it is expected they will be used for landings on difficult terrain and in crossing rivers in land combat.

The novel feature of the "alligators" is that they depend on the same equipment for traction on land or water, and consequently are able to splash and crash thru swampland and mud that is neither land nor sea. Traction is supplied thru caterpillar treads equipped with extremely wide cleats that act as fins or paddles.

First One Built in 1935.

Roebling built his first "alligator" in 1935. Compared with his later model it was a somewhat crude affair.

The later model is an 8,000 pound job, twenty feet long and eight feet wide. It does 25 miles an hour on land and eight and a half in the water—and looks like a machine from Mars either place.

In tests the ponderous vehicle ran from land into water and back again as easily as its animal prototype. Roebling then tried it in mushy swampland where a land vehicle would bog down and a boat couldn't run. The alligator wallowed along without hesitating. Logs, seaweed, grass, slime—none had any effect.

PETAIN SWEEPS POPULAR FRONT OUT OF POLITICS

Ousts Mayors, Councils in Reform Move.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Nov. 25. — More mayors of French commune towns [townships] have been suspended and many municipal councils have been ousted, it was announced today. The action has resulted from reforms and modifications in state and local institutions.

The general reform program has been going on for three months and hundreds of political leaders, departmental administrators, civil servants, teachers, and instructors have been removed from office.

The Petain government seeks to eliminate unnecessary employés hired by the Leon Blum popular front régime and those politicians hostile to the reforms planned for the rehabilitation of the country.

Burocracy Blamed for Defeat.

French burocracy, Minister of the Interior Marcel Peyrouton said, was clogged with politicians who were cashing in on political loyalties rather than trying to conduct an efficient administration.

The viewpoint is that this civil corruption was the main factor in the French military defeat.

Since July, half of the prefects of France have been replaced, nearly 100 mayors have been suspended or fired, and an equally large number of municipal councils have been discharged or suspended.

Professors Ousted.

The ministry of public instruction also is cleaning out teachers and professors known for anti-national and extremist activities and the ministry of finance is discharging many employés whose activities are believed inimical to the principles of this government.

Among the teachers removed have been Prof. Jourdan of the agricultural school at Hyres, Louis Bruntz, rector of the university at Nancy, J. Ducuing of the Toulouse university medical faculty, and the celebrated Prof. Paul Langevin of the college of France in Paris.

A month ago the Petain government also suspended all regional councils, which were elected consultative bodies to advise the prefects of departments. Political activities of these groups, it is charged, practically paralyzed the administration of the prefects.

Liquidate Popular Front.

Marshal Petain and Peyrouton are getting rid of political intriguing and the centers of partisan quarrels. They are liquidating the Popular Front, which dominated this country in 1937 and 1938, when a stranglehold on politics was obtained by communists and radicals. The reform measures probably will make all new authorities appointive and responsible to a higher official.

Under Petain's plans, France will be divided into about 20 regions, more or less like American states, and each will have a governor subject to orders from the central government, but, aside from that, on his own responsibility.

DIES COMMITTEE BRANDS U. S. LAX IN CURBING REDS

Demand Action to Save Defense Program.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—The Dies committee on un-American activities today accused the government of "deplorable weakness" in dealing with the subversive activities of communists in the United States.

A special committee report on conditions in the aircraft industry on the west coast drew demands in congress for steps to curb alien operations in California.

Meeting in its temporary quarters in the house office building, while repairs are being made to the regular chamber, the house heard two Republicans and a Democrat appeal for swift action.

Vultee Strike Is Cited.

The Dies report charged the department of justice, as the chief law enforcement agency of the nation, with failure to deal properly with the Vultee Aircraft company strike in California which "has caused irreparable damage to our national defense program."

"The first thing we know," shouted Representative Robert Rich [R., Pa.], to his colleagues, "we will find ourselves in the position of France. Let's put the Reds in concentration camps."

Representatives Leland M. Ford [R., Cal.] and John M. Costello [D., Cal.] backed up Rich's appeal. Ford denounced what he described as communist inspired labor strikes which have tied up shipping on the west coast and seriously interfered with the government's airplane building program.

"The attorney general has failed to take action on these strikes," declared Ford. "Why hasn't he done something?"

"Have the American people lost all their rights?" chimed in Costello.

Legislation Is Proposed.

Representative Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] submitted a bill designed to prevent unions from requiring membership of workers engaged in defense production.

Representatives E. E. Cox [D., Ga.] and Homer D. Angell [R., Ore.] advocated immediate enactment of legislation to outlaw strikes in defense industries.

The Dies report stated that the committee had reported a year ago that members of the communist party were entrenched in the leadership of at least ten labor unions. Most of these unions, it declared, are organized in key industries which form the backbone of our defense.

The results of the committee's investigations in California have been submitted to government agencies, Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] reported, but no action has been taken.

"Our committee has shown conclusively that the program of the communist party calls for the sabotage of our national defense," the report stated. "The party's own printed literature has made no secret of its concentrated efforts in our basic and war industries.

"One of the most effective methods of sabotage in defense industries is the communists' use of the political strike. Such a strike may be more damaging to national defense than an explosion, and furthermore it has the immense advantage of legality."

ARMY EXHIBITS PARACHUTISTS TO NEWSPAPER MEN

Sky Troops Can Be Used for Attack or Defense.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fort Benning, Ga., Nov. 25.—The army today exhibited its first battalion of parachute troops to 17 newspapermen making a survey of defense developments at the invitation of Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff.

The Germans used parachutist troops effectively in the blitzkriegs in Poland, the low countries, and France. This was the first time in actual war that air infantry [parachutists] ever had been utilized. Profiting by the experience of the Nazis, the American army decided that parachute units are essential in building a modern armed force.

Zero Ceiling Bars Action.

Altho a zero ceiling forced cancellation of a planned demonstration of an attack from the air, reporters were permitted to inspect the unit on the ground. The inspection included a demonstration of how transport planes are loaded, how men handle their chutes to escape injury, and how parachutists are trained.

The pistols, rifles, mortars, machine guns, and 37 mm. guns with which infantry is armed can be used equally well for defense or for attack.

America led the way in experimenting with parachute troops. In the 1920s the army experimented with air infantry at Chanute Field, Ill., and on Long Island. The experimentation was abandoned when the army high command ruled that such a unit would have no place in the army of that date, whose mission was to protect the United States.

Unit Now Has 450 Jumpers.

The army's one battalion of air infantry, the 501st, has grown in a few weeks from an experimental platoon of 2 officers and 48 enlisted men. It now numbers 450 jumpers and 50 men in its ground crew.

Units of 500 men can be trained in five weeks, it was said. This would turn out about 5,000 parachute troops in a year, more than the Germans are believed to have used at any one time.

Training can be expanded rapidly. The air troops are acquiring their own landing field here, one of 900 acres. The field will have one building for indoor training and another for maintenance work, where jumpers will be taught to take care of their chutes and other equipment.

The air troops are transported in planes of commercial type which have been stripped of luxury fittings. Present transport planes, made by the Douglas Aircraft company, hold 12 jumpers in addition to the crew. They can be unloaded in 10 seconds.

The jumpers drop from a height of about 700 feet and have no protection in the air except grenades and automatic pistols. On the ground the units can open fire in 1 to 2½ minutes with machine guns. The officers would not say what type of weapon is used, but it probably is the Browning automatic rifle.

WALLED GHETTO CLOSES AROUND WARSAW JEWS

500,000 Begin New Life Behind Fence.

BERLIN, Nov. 25 (AP).—Approximately 500,000 Jews will begin tomorrow a new life behind an eight foot concrete wall built by Germans to enclose the ghetto district of Warsaw, dispatches from the former Polish capital reported tonight.

By German decree all Jews in Warsaw have been required to take up residence in the ghetto, which lies in the central district of the city, and it has become overcrowded, with as many as seven persons living in one room in some buildings.

18 Gates in Wall.

The Germans built the wall last winter, saying the action was not anti-Semitic but simply a health measure to protect Poles and Jews alike from the pestilences likely to follow total war.

They left 18 entrances open—but effective tomorrow all persons who wish to enter or leave must have a special pass. This applies also to any Gentile Pole wishing to enter the district temporarily.

The Jews have been busy taking their belongings and their business properties within the Warsaw wall.

Ghetto at Radom, Too.

The German decree also brought about a wave of frantic purchases outside the ghetto in an effort to stock up on things which may not be procured within. The wall—unusual in modern times—surrounds 100 or more city blocks and closes off 200 streets and even street car lines.

The Warschauer Zeitung [Warsaw Times] reports from Radom that another ghetto has been founded there and the Jewish population ordered to take up residence within it.

A. F. OF L. BOOSTS GREEN'S SALARY TO $20,000 YEAR

Federation May Forego Strikes, Chief Hints.

BY WILLIAM SHINNICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New Orleans, La., Nov. 25.—Sentimental oratory was poured upon American Federation of Labor delegates this afternoon before the convention voted to amend the federation constitution to give President William Green and Secretary Treasurer George Meany $8,000 increases in pay. Green's raise was from $12,000 a year to $20,000 and Meany's from $10,000 to $18,000.

Daniel J. Tobin, head of the powerful Teamsters' International union, recalled that Green had worked for 16 years at the same salary and never had asked a raise. This, he said, was in a period of great difficulty for the A. F. of L.

The vote showed the convention almost unanimous for the higher figures.

Much controversy arose over an amendment designed to define the powers of the executive council of the federation in suspending unions.

The convention committee on law recommended that the council be granted power to suspend any unions found guilty of conspiracy with other unions to desert the A. F. of L.

Dubinsky Offers Substitute.

David Dubinsky of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' union took the floor to demand that such suspended unions have the right to appear at conventions with full voting strength.

Tobin and other speakers demanded to know what justice there could be in allowing "treasonable" unions to sit in convention with bona fide bodies. President Green said such permission would be like letting a man charged with crime sit on the jury trying him.

When the vote was taken after hours of debate the Dubinsky proposal received only a few votes and the regular amendment to the constitution, approved by the committee on law, was adopted.

The convention approved a proposal to set the federation's per capita tax on affiliates at 2 cents per month and to do away with assessments for a "war chest" to fight the C. I. O. The old arrangement was 1 cent a month plus assessments.

Pledge Help to Britain.

At the morning session Green gave a pledge that the federation will make production of a steady stream of war materials for Great Britain one of its chief objectives.

Later, in an interview, Green indicated that the labor organization is prepared to go to great lengths—virtually to the point of giving up the right to strike—in order to aid the United States in its preparedness program and Britain in its war needs.

The federation president suggested that tribunals be set up, with labor men and government production officials as members, to settle disputes arising under the defense program.

Green's remarks were made after the convention delegates had heard Sir Walter Citrine, executive secretary of the British Trades Union Congress, give an account of wartime conditions in Great Britain. Sir Walter urged that American workers make workshops on this side of the Atlantic "the first line of defense for all democracy."

Paints Bloodless Victory.

"American labor can conquer the Nazis without firing a shot," he declared.

Sir Walter admitted that German bomb attacks are slowing production in British factories.

"I tell this so you may realize the help you can give us," he continued. "Our fellows are working thru bombings and even gunfire. There is a great tax on our capacity to produce; the bombs are having an effect on our output, and we need planes—more planes—and war materials of all kinds."

Sir Walter explained that the government also has taken full control of property, and that sacrifices are being demanded in equal measure from employers.

EVANSTON TAXI MEASURE VETOED AND PASSED AGAIN

The Evanston city council passed a new taxicab ordinance last night after Mayor Henry D. Penfield had vetoed a similar measure which the council approved a week ago.

The ordinance raises fares 15 to 30 per cent, prohibits drivers from picking up passengers at bus stands, and provides for a three man regulatory commission composed of aldermen and appointed by the mayor. Minimum fares now include a 10 cent flag pull for the first half mile and 5 cents for each additional one-third mile.

Mayor Penfield said he vetoed the proposal because it was introduced and passed by the council last week without allowing adequate time for public hearings.

Herbert Ovrson, Montana cowboy who reported 26 horses lost, but later discovered horses safe and himself lost in Chicago.

A tired little lost 6 foot cowboy, whose high heeled boots were blistering him painfully on the hard pavements, gave up and asked Policemen John Hickey and Alfred Lauderdale where he was yesterday. They told him 14th and Halsted streets, but that didn't help much.

What he really wanted to know was how to get back to the carload of horses he brought here from Montana for a rodeo that opens next week. And he hadn't any idea where he stepped off the car. The cowboy, Herbert Ovrson, had been walking the streets 13 hours when he met the policemen. He knew his horses were getting terribly hungry.

The policemen looked in his pockets and found the railroad's bill of lading. Then they telephoned the railroad, learning that the carload of horses was on a siding in the stock yards. The policemen took Cowboy Ovrson back. The horses were glad to see him again and vice versa.

SENATOR ASSAILS DRAFT LAW AS EXTRAVAGANCE

Denver, Colo., Nov. 25 (AP).—Calling the conscription act "one of the most wasteful and extravagant measures ever enacted by congress," United States Senator Edwin C. Johnson [D., Colo.] tonight declared that five billion dollars to be spent training draftees for one year will "provide little or no defense."

In a radio address Senator Johnson said conscription training would be sufficient only to make foot soldiers out of conscriptees and observed:

"You cannot stop a 20 ton tank moving 60 miles an hour with a bayonet, nor bring down a bomber five miles in the air with a Springfield rifle."

Senator Johnson contended that conscription training was building the nation's "fourth line" of defense before the first three—the navy, the air corps, and motorized military forces.

"It requires three years of intense application today to learn to pilot a bomber or pursuit ship, five years to become an expert gunner, and many, many years to become a valuable seaman," the senator asserted.

CABINET JOB MAY PAY LA GUARDIA POLITICAL DEBT

Rumors Put N. Y. Mayor in Perkins Post.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Nov. 25.—President Roosevelt will pay off his election debt to Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York by elevating him to a cabinet post—possibly that of secretary of labor, to succeed Frances Perkins.

This was the belief expressed here today by leaders of both parties, altho White House Secretary Stephen Early in Washington declared Madam Perkins had not submitted her resignation. Reports were circulated over the week-end that Secretary Perkins had finally stepped down, and the President had accepted the resignation.

An additional denial from Madam Perkins herself shifted the speculation somewhat to the post of secretary of war, now filled by Henry L. Stimson, a Republican. This also was regarded as a likely cabinet spot for the New York mayor to land.

Mayoral Prospects Doubtful.

It is an open political secret at the city hall here that La Guardia has been angling for a cabinet job for some time because his chances of being reëlected as mayor next year are far from rosy.

When La Guardia was elected for the first time during a three cornered mayoralty scrap in 1933 his narrow margin of victory was more than furnished by the G. O. P. He was the Republican nominee for mayor that year and also the nominee of the fusion party, which included a number of Republicans as well as independent Democrats. La Guardia beat the regular Democratic nominee, John P. O'Brien, and the Recovery party nominee, Joseph V. McKee.

Again in 1937 the Republicans renominated La Guardia and again without their support he would have been defeated. In this election the mayor was also the nominee of the radical American Labor party.

Leader Opposes LaGuardia.

That LaGuardia will not be nominated by the Republican party if he runs for a third term next year was made plain today when Warren B. Ashmead, G. O. P. leader for the borough of Queens, announced he would demand the nomination of a true Republican. Ashmead told associates he would not support LaGuardia for renomination under any circumstances.

This year La Guardia refused the pleadings of his Republican friends that he support Wendell Willkie. Instead he went on the stump for Roosevelt in an active campaign which reached its climax when he assaulted a man who sought to question him on the steps of the Detroit city hall.

Links Flynn to Racketeers.

Benjamin H. Owens, victim of the assault, had asked La Guardia whether he was taking orders from Boss Ed Flynn, Democratic national chairman. In his 1933 campaign for clean government La Guardia had excoriated Flynn and linked him with racketeering and graft.

Another political move during the campaign which grieved his old friends was the mayor's appointment of James J. Walker, the former Tammany mayor, as mediator in the cloak and suit industry. Walker quit as mayor eight years ago when his administration was under investigation and made a dash for Europe.

CONTINUE CONFERENCE IN EFFORT TO SETTLE VULTEE PLANT STRIKE

Downey, Cal., Nov. 25 (AP).—Negotiations for settlement of the nine day old strike at the Vultee Aircraft corporation continued today with the union's international president sitting in. No indication of progress was forthcoming.

The major points at issue were still the no-strike-under-any-circumstances and compulsory arbitration clauses which the company insists be included in a two year contract and which the C. I. O. United Automobile Workers' union has rejected.

U. A. W. President R. J. Thomas entered the conferences today declaring he hoped to exercise "whatever influence I have" to promote settlement.

TWO EDISON MEN KILLED, 1 BURNED IN POWER PLANT

Two workmen were fatally burned yesterday and another was burned slightly when a power line in the Commonwealth Edison company substation at 4401 Clifton avenue short circuited.

Company officials described the accident as a flash—a dazzling spurt of electricity. They were unable to explain what caused the short circuit, but said a full investigation would be made.

The dead men were members of a construction crew doing rehabilitation work in the plant. They were Joseph Farris, 56 years old, 5445 Parker avenue, and Joseph F. Ernst, 47, of 2435 North Drake avenue. George Clary, foreman, was injured.

SIX BOOKIES FINED $13.50 EACH.

Judge Leon Edelman fined six men $13.50 each in South State Street police court yesterday for accepting bets on horse races.

LYNDEN SMITH'S SECRETARY ASKS ABOUT SUBPENA

Finds That She Hasn't Been Called About Book.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 25.—Mrs. Margie Metz Spengler, confidential secretary of the late F. Lynden Smith, learned on inquiry this afternoon that she has not been subpenaed to appear before the federal grand jury here. She said she had been apprehensive of a visit from a deputy United States marshal since THE TRIBUNE a week ago published that government agents had found Smith's "little black book."

"Could you tell the government more than you told a legislative investigating committee about this 'little black book'?" she was asked by a reporter.

"I don't need to answer that question unless I am subpenaed," she replied.

Private Money Record.

This "little black book" was Smith's private record of campaign collections and donations. He was downstate Democratic campaign manager as well as director of public works. Before his mysterious death in a bathtub of a Springfield hospital last March, he described this book to his intimates as his protection against being framed by his political enemies. He was estranged from the bedside cabinet of the late Gov. Henry Horner.

Before a legislative committee last spring, Mrs. Spengler answered "I don't know" to a long series of questions about the "little black book," even denying knowledge of the existence of such a book. Thereafter the two young downstaters, Mrs. Spengler, and her husband, Norbert, received Cook county patronage jobs.

She is working in the office of the Chicago subway commission and he is working in the Cook county office of the state highway department.

Jury Adjournment Near.

There were other indications today that the federal grand jury will not delve into many if any of the entries in the "little black book." At the federal building here it was reported that the jury plans to adjourn on Friday or Saturday, ending a session that started last August. The head prosecutor, O. John Rogge, chief of the criminal division of the United States attorney general's office, was in Washington, D. C., last week; in Detroit, Mich., today, and was expected to return to the investigation here on Wednesday.

From Wednesday to Friday or Saturday would be little time for hearing witnesses in regard to many of the items in the "little black book." The entries are bare notations of who donated and the amount each donated and who received payments from the campaign kitty and how much each got.

Public Utility Inquiry.

The grand jury's inquiry has been directed to an investigation of alleged slush fund expenditures by three midwestern public utility companies, alleged to be contributions to politicians who might influence rates or regulations.

Earlier in the inquiry, the prosecutors sought information about a deal in Commonwealth Edison stock with $25,000 cash from the strong box of former United States Senator James Slattery.

After the grand jury adjourns, the "little black book" may furnish leads for a state investigation. Alfred H. Greening, a Republican who will succeed a Democrat as state's attorney of Sangamon county here on Dec. 1, has requested the government agents to turn over the book to him when they are thru with it. There were reports that the income tax agents may want to see the record before it is given to state authorities.

A Few Republicans.

Those who knew about the book before it reached federal hands say a few Republicans as well as Democrats might be embarrassed by publication of the entries thru a state investigation. Most of the items are donations or shakedowns for the Democratic campaign kitty of contractors and others doing business with the state.

In the campaign expenditures, however, there are said to be at least two entries of money received by minor factional downstate Republican leaders, supposedly for their support in 1938 of United States Senator Scott Lucas against the Republican candidacy of Richard Lyons.

Radio Plea Takes Help to Injured Man on Lake Ship

Coastguardsmen from the Old Chicago station, in response to a radio request, last night took a badly injured seaman off the freighter, Fred W. Green, brought him ashore in a small boat and sent him by ambulance to the United States Marine hospital. Boatswain's Mate William Silva said the victim, John Borke, of Wisconsin, was injured in a fall.

The queen of National Art week was chosen last night in the Chicago Towers club by a jury of business and professional men and women. She is Charlotte Sweet, 20 years old, of the Eastgate hotel, a professional model, as were all of the 75 or so contestants.

Miss Sweet is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, and has gray eyes and blonde hair. She will be crowned at the Artists and Models ball next Friday. Chosen as her attendants were Miss Eileen Parsels, 20, of 1244 North Dearborn street, better known as Eileen, the Skating Songstress, and Miss Linda Whitney, 23, of 2738 Pine Grove avenue.

Eileen is 5 feet 5 inches tall, weighs 118 pounds, and has blue eyes and blonde hair. Linda is 5 feet 9, weighs 118, has green eyes and auburn hair.

SENATE AGREES TO VOTE ON CURB FOR BUROCRATS

Action on Walter-Logan Bill Is Forced.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25.—Over the protests of the Democratic leadership, the senate today voted to consider the Walter-Logan bill which is designed to curb the powers of government agencies by facilitating judicial review of their rulings.

The vote was 34 to 21 with 17 Democrats joining 17 Republicans to defeat 21 Democrats. A bare quorum was present. Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley [D., Ky.] had indicated hope that the absence of a quorum might delay action on the measure.

May Face Roosevelt Veto.

The New Deal's next parliamentry maneuver to defeat the bill, according to reports, will be to introduce the anti-lynching bill as a rider to the measure. This would result in a filibuster by southern senators.

Sponsors of the Walter-Logan bill are confident of enough votes to assure senate passage. There have been predictions, however, that President Roosevelt will veto the act. A question exists whethere there is a two-thirds majority to over-ride a veto.

Unless the bill is passed at this session, it must be reintroduced next year and again run the entire legislative gauntlet.

Second Defeat for New Deal.

Senator Barkley argued that action should be deferred until next year. Senator Carl Hatch [D., N. M.] replied that it was the duty of the senate to consider the measure, whether or not it was enacted.

The vote marked the second defeat for administration leaders in congress since the Presidential election on Nov. 5. Last week, the house rejected a proposal for adjournment with Democrats aligning with Republicans to beat down the leadership program. The same coalition functioned today.

LAKE BOATS RUSH DOWN WATERWAY FOR NAVAL DUTY

Making up for time lost by a delayed start Sunday from Chicago, four navy vessels and two coast guard boats churned on down the Illinois waterway and tied up at Peoria last night. The trip to New Orleans, La., where the boats will join the neutrality patrol, will require almost two weeks.

Leaving the Dresden lock at daybreak, the boats reached Marseilles at 9:30 a. m. and the Starved Rock lock at 10:30 a. m. They entered the Illinois river at Peru. In the procession were two submarine chasers of world war vintage, the 330 and 432; two yacht patrols, the 28 and 31, and two new picket boats, the 4350 and 4351.

Lieutenant Commander H. M. Hart said he expected to tie up at Grafton tonight and at St. Louis, Mo., tomorrow night. Thus far he experienced no difficulty as a result of the Supreme court order limiting diversion from Lake Michigan to 1,500 cubic a second. The depth of the channel was 9 feet. The largest of the six boats has a 7 foot draft.

SPECTATORS HOLD UP FIREMEN.

Falls City, Neb., Nov. 25 [Special].—Onlookers crowding the doorway of a store delayed firemen in gaining entrance here. As a result Chief John Mosiman has ordered firemen to turn the hose on all spectators who hinder them in the future.

622 INDUCTED INTO ARMY FOR YEAR'S TRAINING

A year's military training in the federal service began yesterday for 622 men in Chicago.

The 439 officers and men of the 1st, or Black Horse, squadron of the 106th cavalry regiment, Illinois National Guard, were inducted in the armory at 234 East Chicago avenue. The unit will leave next week for Camp Livingston, near Alexandria, La. The remainder of the 106th cavalry was inducted yesterday in Springfield and Urbana.

The Maywood tank company, designated Company B of the 192d tank battalion, Illinois Guard, also was inducted yesterday. It has 131 officers and men. They are expected to leave tomorrow for Fort Knox, Ky.

Fifty-two men, selected under draft act regulations, also were inducted in the Chicago avenue armory. They were examined, given the soldier's oath, and taken by train to the reception center at Fort Sheridan. All were volunteers.

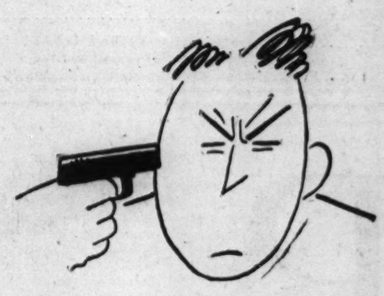
1,000,000 WOMEN EXTRA!

Here are pictures of some men we know contemplating the subject of women. Men contemplating women always look baffled. But these men are contemplating a million women. The captions explain why.

Joe Blivens, a simple guy who lives down the street registers mere astonishment. It hadn't occurred to Joe there were a million women.

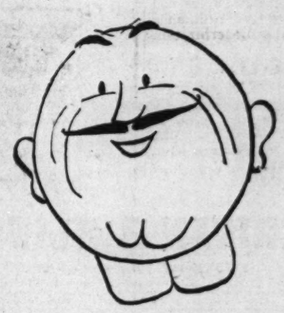
A young wool-holder named Humble (whose mother and three aunts are knitting fiends) owes his present state to an attempt to count the sheep that would be involved if each of the million women decided to knit a sweater.



This is a stocking-seam connoisseur. He has just figured that these women buy 1996⅓ pairs of silk stockings every hour, meaning a stocking run every 2 seconds. The average run proceeds to 19 inches before quitting. 5244 miles of runs a year!

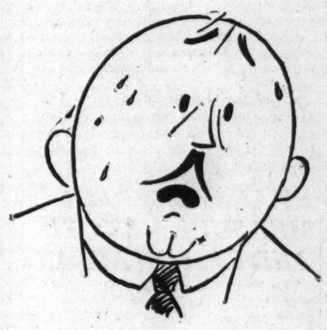
Rev. Swybok, a prominent clergyman, has just heard that there are 42,843 marriages and 69,774 christenings anticipated in the lives of that many women within the coming year. A little slow on the mental arithmetic, Reverend?

This is an unidentified man who is thinking . . . well, he is just thinking.



Utilities chief Ulysses G. Kilowatt has just imagined that each of the million women (who already use 890,000,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity annually in their homes) might receive a new electrical gift for Christmas! He is electrified!

Claude Kiss, the Hollywood make-up man, is apt to go on surface appearances. 6 million boxes of face powder, 7 million lipsticks annually . . . "Quelle beauté," sighs Claude ecstatically.



Hector Swope, the soup king, is in a stew. Hector figures that with 80,000 gallons to one sitting, soup service to an extra million women would take 45,000,000 more cans a year of Swope's swellest! A pretty kettle of soup, thinks Hector!

Finally, here is an editor. He would like to know how a magazine which reached 2½ million buyers 6 years ago went about getting another million. That's easy, Dr. Gimmick. Just give women one they like and they'll do the rest.

● In 6 years, sales of the Ladies' Home Journal at newsstands increased 155%. The number of subscribers is up 32%. A million women extra now buy the Journal!

With no increase in advertising rates, this means 1,000,000 bonus circulation to every advertiser. And Journal advertising has increased over half-a-million dollars in 10 months

Today 3,545,000 women buy the Ladies' Home Journal because they like it. Because they like it, IT'S A BUY!

COUNCIL GROUP MOVES TO FORCE BUS FRANCHISE

Votes to Omit Company from Transit Plans.

The city council local transportation committee acted yesterday to force the Chicago Motor Coach company to obtain a franchise to operate on city streets. It voted to name a subcommittee to recommend terms on which a franchise should be granted.

Ald. Jas. R. Quinn.

The committee also voted to omit the bus company from the pending transit unification plans and submit to the council a traction ordinance for the surface and elevated lines. Committee members criticized the bus company for its recent attitude toward the traction merger program.

Assails Bus Line Stand.

"The bus company has been going along here for more than two years with the idea that it should be included in the unification," Ald. James R. Quinn, chairman, asserted. "Now, suddenly, the company wants to be left out of the program. I think we should go ahead without the company. We certainly ought not to permit a company with a book value of 4½ million dollars which carries only a few per cent of the city's riders to interfere with a comprehensive traction ordinance."

Quinn's remarks followed the reading of a letter sent Nov. 18 to the committee from Benjamin Weintraub, president of the bus company. The company on Sept. 26 had offered to sell its properties for 10 million dollars. This offer was assailed as excessive by aldermen and other critics.

Weintraub's letter of Nov. 18 said the company would prefer not to sell its properties at all. It offered instead to work out a transfer agreement between its buses and other Chicago transit lines.

Ald. John J. Duffy [19th] asserted that the coach company has no more right to use city streets "than a company that comes in here over night."

Mayor Urges Action.

Mayor Kelly, who attended the meeting, said the matter of requiring the bus company to get a city franchise should be investigated promptly. He favored also omission of the company from the unified ordinance to avoid delay on the modernization program.

Following the passage of the "home rule" act by the state assembly in 1935, the bus company applied for a franchise, as required under the act. Ald. Quinn said yesterday that action would have been taken long ago on this application if it had been known that the bus company would refuse to join the unification program.

MAYOR TO SEEK LIFTING OF BAN ON JUKE BOXES

Mayor Kelly will ask the city council today to amend the ordinance which prohibits the operation of nickel in the slot phonographs, or juke boxes, he disclosed yesterday. He said the amendment should not provide for any special taxes.

"Music should be free," he said.

Juke boxes were doing well in Chicago until two weeks ago.

Then came a new slot machine amusement. Several taverns opened an invisible hostess system.

When that one came out, Police Commissioner Allman was stumped. For some time he had been studying an ordinance on the books which ruled that no nickel machine could be used for entertainment.

So juke boxes were banned. When that happened trouble started for the aldermen. They had tavern owners crying in their offices because customers wanted juke box music.

Mayor Kelly's only explanation was: "It happened when I was away. The police commissioner asked for an interpretation of the law and he always follows the law. I never thought that law should be enforced strictly as far as music boxes are concerned."

First Airmen Trained in Canada Reach British Port

LONDON, Nov. 25 (AP).—The air ministry announced today that the first contingent of airmen trained in Canada arrived at a northwestern English port during the week-end.

ASSEMBLY PLANS T O STUDY HIKE IN AGED PENSIONS

Proposals to increase old age assistance and to keep politics out of the pension system will receive sympathetic consideration by the general assembly which will convene Jan. 8, State Representative Elmer J. Schnackenberg [R., 13th] said last night at the annual dinner of the Woodlawn Business Men's association. More than 300 attended the meeting in the Hayes hotel, 6345 University avenue.

"While we try to help the aged we will have the duty of economizing elsewhere to offset any increase in expenditures in their behalf to avoid additional taxes," said Schnackenberg, a leading contender for the speakership of the house. "It should be kept in mind that any changes in the assistance law must conform to federal regulations under which the cost is shared by the state and federal governments."

The old age assistance burden tends to become ever greater because a falling birth rate decreases the tax-paying group while increasing longevity adds to the size of the benefits group, he said. When the program was started it was estimated that 70,000 would be eligible for benefits in Illinois. Now 140,000 receive checks—one out of every three persons over 65 in the state.

CLOCK REPLACES TEN COMMANDMENTS.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 25 [Special].—Sam Cosentino, clock maker, today gave the South Side Police court an electric clock. Judge John Battin ordered the ten commandments moved from the wall to make room for it.

FIRES BUNDLE OF CLOTHING; WIFE BURNED FATALLY

Mrs. Anna Lepp was fatally burned yesterday in a fire which her ex-husband admitted starting by sprinkling a box of clothing with kerosene and lighting it in their home at 1908 Carolina street, Gary. The ex-husband, Steve Lepp, was held after questioning by Detective Capt. Harold Miller. Lepp, until recently a WPA employé, is 64 years old. Mrs. Lepp was 65. They were reconciled a few months ago after a divorce, but she decided to leave home after a quarrel yesterday. Lepp said she packed some of his clothes along with hers, and that he then set them afire

SLEET AND SNOW STILL HOLD TEXAS IN THEIR ICY GRIP

Worst Storm Since 1913 Raging After 72 Hours.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bryan, Tex., Nov. 25.—After 72 hours of continuous rain, intermingled with sleet, snow, and fog, northern and eastern Texas tonight still shivers in the grip of the worst storm since 1913. From the Panhandle area on the New Mexico border to Galveston the state is blanketed by low clouds that continue to spill moisture on flooded lowlands and rivers.

At least seven persons were feared drowned in the Brookshire area when two homes were washed away.

Virtually all Texas rivers—normally trickles of water thru parched plains—are in flood stage. Families living near the Brazos, the Guadelupe, the Neches, and the Trinity rivers are moving to high ground as their meadows and fields become vast shallow lakes spreading over many miles of territory.

Heavy Financial Losses.

Financial losses have been heavy. Most seriously affected was Amarillo, where all telephone, power, and telegraph circuits were cut by snapping of ice-laden wires. Railroad service was interrupted for more than 48 hours by washouts and slips that carried away earth fills supporting the tracks.

Amarillo's situation was made more serious by continued snowfall, and by a 30 mile an hour wind from the northwest that buffeted the city and froze an ice layer on streets, dwellings, trees, and automobiles.

Regular air transportation to Amarillo ceased Saturday morning, and no automobile or bus traffic has been able to enter or leave the city since about the same time.

Fort Worth and Dallas Hit.

Fort Worth and Dallas felt the storm's fury and were partly flooded. Highways to north, south, and east were blocked by high waters, but no serious interference with rail traffic was reported. Air lines operated intermittently on Saturday, but yesterday and today even this service was cut off.

Most of the Brazos river valley reported rains of 6 to 8 inches.

Hearne, Bryan, Marlin and Waco are isolated by highway washouts.

Galveston, on the gulf coast, was badly hit, reporting several feet of water in its main business section and many stores and business houses partly under water. Flood waters of the Lavaca river were within half a block of the courthouse at Hallettsville.

Similar reports of high water came from Temple, Cameron, Nacogdoches, Corsicana, Palestine, Carthage, Navasota, Brenham and Caldwell.

Severe Storm Strikes Texas

(Story in adjoining column.)

Rain, sleet, snow, and fog which struck northern and eastern Texas continued yesterday and held the state in its worst storm since 1913. Financial losses are heavy.

DENY 4 MILLION RIGHT OF VOTING IN SOLID SOUTH

Majority Are Negroes and Poor Whites.

ment as obtains is accomplished by intimidation of Negroes to deter them from registration for general elections.

Negroes are barred from the Democratic primary in Florida by the rules of county and city Democratic committees limiting participation to white persons. Similar state-wide Democratic party rules barring Negroes from primaries exist in Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, Texas, and Virginia.

The "white primary" device has been sanctioned by the Supreme court. A 1923 Texas law forbidding participation by Negroes in Democratic primaries was struck down by the Supreme court in 1927. Five years later a subsequent Texas law authorizing state party committees to determine the qualifications of primary voters, under which Negroes had been barred from Democratic primaries, was invalidated by the court in a five to four decision, on the ground that it violated the constitutional guaranty of equal protection of the laws.

In 1935, however, the action of the Texas state Democratic committee in barring Negroes from the party primary was upheld by the court on the ground that the discrimination had been exercised by the Democratic party, not by the state.

In all of the southern states the Democratic organizations proclaim it a "gentleman's obligation" that the participant in a Democratic primary shall vote for the nominees of the primary if he goes to the polls in the general election. If he should vote for a Republican after participating in a Democratic primary he is subjected to social and business ostracism or otherwise disciplined. The Democratic machine has abundant means of keeping tab on his vote.

NEGROES BARRED ON TEXAS JURY; RAPIST IS FREED

Supreme Court Rules It Is Discrimination.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25 (AP).—The conviction of a Houston, Tex., Negro for raping a white woman was reversed by the Supreme court today on a finding that Negroes had been barred from grand juries in the county where he was indicted.

Justice Hugo L. Black.

"It is part of the established tradition in the use of juries as instruments of public justice that the jury be a body truly representative of the community," said the unanimous decision, delivered by Justice Hugo L. Black.

The court found that altho Negroes constitute more than one-fifth of the population of Harris county, Texas, and "a minimum of from three to six thousand of them measure up" to statutory qualifications, only five had served on grand juries from 1931 thru 1938, when the defendant was indicted, and none had served in 1937 or 1938.

The defendant, Edgar Smith, 18, had been sentenced to life imprisonment. The decision apparently had the effect of freeing him completely for George W. Earcus, Texas assistant attorney general, told the court that the time limit for obtaining a new indictment had expired and thus he could not be retried. He has been held in jail since Aug. 1, 1938.

Black, in an opinion last Lincoln's birthday upset the conviction of a Florida Negro who was subjected to a "third degree." In today's opinion he said that Smith's conviction could not stand if there had been discrimination, however it was accomplished.

"For racial discrimination to result in the exclusion from jury service of otherwise qualified groups not only violates our constitution and the laws enacted under it but is at war with our basic concepts of a democratic society and a representative government," he wrote.

3 MEN SERVE 7 YEARS IN CELL; IT'S A MISTAKE

Freed When Another Confesses.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 25 (AP).—Seven years after they were sent to prison for a crime they did not commit, three men were freed today—their innocence established.

Each received from the state a suit of clothes and $12.60.

Release of the trio, Glenn Davis, 30 years old; Herschel McCarn, 34, and Bill Hathaway, 33, was ordered by the Alabama Board of Pardons and Paroles, which said it was convinced that the convictions resulted from mistaken identity.

Another Man Confesses.

The men were sentenced for the $5,237 robbery of the Bank of Berry, Ala., on Sept. 27, 1933, a robbery which the board said an unidentified man confessed recently, implicating two others.

Davis and McCarn were convicted and sentenced to 15 years in prison. Hathaway then pleaded "guilty" and accepted a 10 year sentence.

Records of the case showed, the board said, that Davis was "identified" by a bank attaché as one of the trio involved in the robbery, and that other witnesses testified they saw McCarn and Hathaway in an automobile on a road near Berry about the time the crime was committed.

Mother's Faith Justified.

Mrs. Edwina Mitchell, board member, said the man who confessed recently apparently did so on the pleas of Davis' mother, who never doubted her son's innocence, and a private detective who worked on the case for seven years.

A board statement announcing the pardons said:

"They [the freed men] are intelligent enough to know that their own past conduct was largely responsible for their conviction. The circumstances that lent themselves to their conviction were the fault of no one."

WALLACE HELD UP BY FLOODS ON WAY TO MEXICO

Laredo, Texas, Nov. 25 (AP).—Vice President Elect Henry A. Wallace arrived here today by auto en route to Mexico for the Presidential inauguration of Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho.

With Mr. and Mrs. Wallace were J. D. Le Cron, his secretary, and Mrs. Le Cron. The party was delayed by floods in south and east Texas.

Impressive welcoming ceremonies were arranged for his visit, which was described by Ambassador Francisco Castillo Najera as a "red letter" event in Mexican-United States relationships.

Najera, Mexican ambassador to the United States, arrived early today, also delayed by high water in east Texas. He said Wallace had requested informality thruout the trip and that this would be observed.

TRYING TO CRACK HITLER'S EMPIRE.

Herr Hitler's union of Europe is almost completed, from Spain to the Russian border and from Scandinavia to the Mediterranean. Where the Nazis do not rule by dictate they rule by influence. The countries have been brought under control by force of arms, by fear of consequences, and by promise of benefit. However evil this achievement may seem—and it shows no regard for what we think should be imperishable human values—it is there. For whatever may be its duration it is one of the great political and economic achievements of ages. It presents the incredible. The question is, what is to be its fate?

At present Europe appears to be prostrate and helpless. This realm of Hitler's is controled by the greatest military machine of the world. It would appear impossible for any external opponent to find a place on its frontiers which could be cracked with any force now available or conceivable.

Hitler started his expansion with the most formidable armament in the world and by his conquests he has added to it the armament and the armament facilities of the nations he has overrun. His wars were so swift that the opposing material was not exhausted and probably not badly impaired. He has the equipment of the Dutch, the Belgians, the British, and the French, and whatever remained of the Polish. He has all Norway had and he has the resources and the plants and shipyards and the mechanics and laborers of these countries, as well as the resources and industries of the former Czecho-Slovakia, Rumania, and Hungary. Italy is subordinate to his dictate when he gives it.

Nearly every material for the prosecution of war that Europe can produce is at his command and, in addition to its materials and its resources, nearly all its man power is at his disposal for work in the factories, on the farms, and in military auxiliary functions if not in military service. Only Russia is outside this domain and, however uncertain the Russian alliance may be, the time to settle accounts has been at least deferred by the two dictators.

If these are the facts, as they appear to be, what prospect, then, is there of a successful military attack from without upon the régime Hitler is establishing on the continent? Is there any prospect of creating more and better military equipment than the Nazis have or of raising armies so powerful that they could make a landing and throw upon European soil an irresistible force that Hitler's armies could not defeat?

The assumption that the Hitler continental system can be cracked from without, next year or the year after, appears to ignore all the facts discernible. It doesn't follow that Hitler can defeat Great Britain and the British empire. Nor from that does it follow that the British empire can find a way to destroy the thing Hitler has created on the continent. It may endure for his lifetime, held together by the relentless methods he pursues and by the forces he can command. It may endure long enough to work out a revolutionary experiment in economic, social, and political fields. No one can predict the span of its life except to believe that it is not durable. It may be cracked inside before its enemies can crack it from without.

It is composed of peoples held against their will. The manner of life imposed is undesirable, even if it is not miserable. Nothing in the history of such subjugated peoples warrants the conclusion that they adjust themselves to the commands of a foreign tyrant. It isn't in nature for people to become satisfied under dictate when it humiliates their national instinct, debases them individually, and denies them all things in life that people have always thought to be worth a fight.

The promise of any immediate overthrow of the Hitler continental system is a slight one, requiring miracles, but the longer view contains more hope for the people who are now suffering from it.

THE GOUGING BILL.

A bill is to be introduced in the forthcoming session of the Illinois legislature to create a new authority to regulate barber shops in the state. The business is now supervised by the state thru the department of registration and education; the law was enacted in the belief that insanitary barber shops and barbers who did not know the rules of hygiene would menace public health, as they undoubtedly might. The department is intended to protect the patrons by seeing to it that shops are sanitary and that barbers are free of communicable disease and know and practice the rules of hygiene. Barbers are required to pass examinations and shops are inspected periodically.

This type of regulation seems to have worked fairly well. It is being attacked now on the ground that some barber shops are not as sanitary as they might be, but it is difficult and, indeed impossible, to see how the proposed law would result in improvement. The probability is all to the contrary.

The new form of regulation would be entrusted to a board of five members, two of them to be nominated by the Master Barbers' association, two by the barbers' union, and the fifth by the governor. The fifth man could represent the public interest in a conflict of opinion between employers and employés, but he would be powerless to combat a combination of the two against the public.

The bill is calculated to further just such a combination. It could be used to protect the master barbers from competition in their neighborhoods and to force every journeyman barber into the union. That would encourage the gouging [in both senses] of the customers. The master barbers would welcome a form of regulation which would keep prices as high as they could be pushed and the barbers' union would welcome a form of regulation which would increase the union membership.

Under this system it would not be as easy as it is now to force the owner of an insanitary shop to clean up. He and others like him would wield a considerable influence in the association and their representatives on the state authority would know it. If they wanted to keep their jobs on the state pay roll they would have to be lenient. Likewise the union representatives would be reluctant to withdraw the license of an incompetent barber belonging to the union, tho they might act precipitately against a better man if he did not carry a card.

The type of regulation proposed is familiar. It was found in NRA, with its code authorities empowered to make laws in their own interest. It is curious and not a little disturbing to read that the bill setting up this system is to be introduced in the legislature by Representative Leroy Green, a Republican. The people of Illinois elected a Republican legislature this year to no small extent because they disapproved of this kind of government.

A TEST OF SINCERITY.

A strike has halted production at the plants of the Aluminum Company of America at New Kensington, Pa. For several days now the Vultee airplane factories in California have been strikebound. Both firms are producing essential war materials.

The action of the administration with respect to these two industrial conflicts will be watched with interest. As the New Dealers tell it, the nation today is in deadly peril. America must rush war supplies to Britain and, in addition, must accumulate supplies for our own needs with the utmost haste if we are to survive as a free and independent people. Every hour, every moment, is of critical importance.

That is their story. It was on that theory that the unprecedented third term was demanded, the draft was instituted, and the immense defense appropriations and the accompanying tax increases were justified. If the New Dealers really believe that the danger is as acute as they say it is, they ought to be moving heaven and earth to prevent even an hour's interruption of production. In the past Mr. Roosevelt has not hesitated to assume emergency powers, but thus far he hasn't acted aggressively to restore peace in these two industries.

Those of us who have felt that Mr. Roosevelt has exaggerated the immediate dangers to this country need not be too greatly disturbed by these strikes. Perhaps they are justified and perhaps not. Perhaps they are communist-inspired and perhaps not. At any rate, they offer an immediate check on the sincerity of the cry of emergency. If the New Dealers really believe that what they have been saying is true they cannot tolerate these interferences with our effort to rearm in the shortest time.

THE LASTEST NAME.

The war department has asked the authorities of Tennessee to propose a new name for what is now known as Camp Peay, at which the Illinois National Guard is to undergo its year of training. Brig. Gen. T. A. Frazier, adjutant general of Tennessee, says he will recommend to his governor the name of Camp Forrest or Fort Forrest to honor the memory of Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest, the confederate cavalry leader. Maj. Gen. Samuel Lawton, commanding the Illinois troops, thinks the suggestion a good one. The 33d division, says Gen. Lawton, will be proud to serve in a camp named for a man who possessed so much dash and color.

The reference to color was not entirely fortunate. Gen. Forrest's occupation in civil life—or should we say in life between the states?—has been that of slave trader. In spite of this, he was greatly gifted as a military commander; he was fearless, and he is supposed to have coined the phrase that the way to win battles is "to git thar fustest with the mostest men." Beyond that there isn't much to be said for him. He commanded the confederates who took Fort Pillow in west Tennessee in 1864, and was responsible for the needless slaughter of the relatively small garrison of Negro and white troops who had defended it with much gallantry. It was evidently his view that Negro soldiers when captured and the white officers who commanded them were not to be spared under the rules of civilized warfare. Accordingly, as he reported with evident pride after his victory, "the river was dyed with the blood of the slaughtered for 200 yards."

To all the Negroes in the Illinois National Guard, and to most of the others, the name Forrest ought not to have great appeal. If the selection is to be made with the idea of letting bygones be bygones, Tennessee might well recommend that the camp be known as Camp Andrew Johnson to honor the memory of the war governor of Tennessee who became commander in chief of the United States army. The site at which the Tennessee guard is to train could be named for Robert Gould Shaw, the deathless son of Massachusetts, who commanded the first regiment of Negro troops at the storming of Fort Wagner and fell in the moment of victory. Plainly, if the Illinois troops are to inhabit Fort Forrest, the Georgia contingent should have Fort Sherman for their own.

WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO?

[New York Daily News.]

The question to which we have yet to hear the answer, or find any one who knows the answer, is: What is the United States' policy, exactly or even approximately, with reference to likely far east developments?

Are we going to fight to keep the Dutch East Indies safe for the Dutchmen living there, or for Queen Wilhelmina in London? Do we battle to save Saigon for whoever is running Indo-China at the moment? Are we planning to keep Indo-China, indeed, safe for Adolf Hitler's puppet French government at Vichy? Or what?

The only inkling we've had as yet of our far east policy is the recent remark that the United States is going to appease nobody in the world. That sounds like a pretty large order, as well as a pretty vague one.

Well, anyway, Two Ships for One—over, under and on the sea.

ECHOES OF OLD BATTLES.

We took a notion to find out how near the fighting on the Greek-Albanian frontier is to the scenes of two famous battles of antiquity—Pharsalus, where Cæsar mopped up Pompey to get a stranglehold on the dictatorship, and Philippi, where Brutus saw Cæsar's ghost. We used four volumes of the Britannica and Putzger's Historischer Schul-Atlas [yes, in German] to discover that the idea was no good. Both Pharsalus and Philippi were well within the border of modern Greece. . . . So we can't spring anything about Mussolini meeting Cæsar's ghost at Philippi; not yet, at any rate.

British military aid to the Greeks recalls Lord Byron, who went to help in the war of independence against the Turks in 1824 and died there. His heart is buried at Missolonghi [also far from the present war zone]. You will find this story in elaborate detail in "Trelawny," a biography of the most astonishing adventurer in English literature. Trelawny's own writings are the only source of information about his pre-Shelly, pre-Byron buccaneering exploits, and we suspect that he let his imagination soar in the telling. His story, however, is unique, and if the Adventurers' club ever wants to change its name to the Trelawny club we'll offer no objections.

Homeric exploits on the football field are hurried over in a few blunt words by the sports writers, and so you who did not see the Northwestern-Notre Dame game will never understand the true majesty of a large and lumbering lad named Don Clawson. Why, man, he barged up and down the field with Notre Dame tacklers hanging to him like bananas to a stalk, and dropping off again like autumn leaves.

LESSON OF THE TREES.

Let me grow old as trees grow old, dear Lord,
With pliant boughs, made resolute and strong
By wresting storms, extended to afford
Their welcome shade or shelter woodland song.
As trees are harps for every breese, keep me
Attuned to passing life. As trees are havens, give My days the joy of constant ministry
To human need so long as I shall live.
As trees put forth green leaves for every spring
Let me renew my hope thruout the years.
As trees become more stalwart, let age bring Adversity unmarred by sapling fears.
Let me greet death, when it is time to die,
With valiant head uplifted to the sky.

The Little Old Home Town.

Most native born Americans have their little town tucked away somewhere. Rolling Prairie, Ind., is my little town and as I think of it many pleasant thoughts return to haunt me.

Its short main street is not quite the same. The hitching posts are gone, and the old town pump, and the familiar ring from the old frame blacksmith shop that once I knew. Here and there a building has gone or been remodeled, or the occupancy has changed, but enough remains to call to mind the town of old. Altho many old friends have gone there are still enough left to make it a friendly place to me.

The electric line is marked only by the mound where the tracks used to run. The railroad station, however, hasn't changed a bit and here a large bobsled filled with straw and blankets would meet us a day or two before Christmas. Christmas at grandfather's farm was a Christmas to be remembered.

I knew my first homesickness here the day I saw the train take my mother to the city and leave me behind. After the first night, however, so many interests filled my mind that my loneliness was soon forgotten. I learned to walk barefoot and discovered the pleasure of walking in the furrow with the soft cool earth between my toes, and eventually I became a hardy lad who walked over wheat stubble without wincing. Here many lessons in botany, biology, and hard work were learned without the supervision of a teacher.

Many things have changed in Rolling Prairie, but my memories haven't; it is still my little town.

Something for Women to Howl About.

About 700 passenger trains in the United States bear names, and many of them are named after famous personages. But only three are named for women: the Nelly Bly, running between New York and Atlantic City; the Ann Rutledge, running between Chicago and St. Louis; and the Pocahontas, running between Norfolk, Cincinnati, and Columbus.

strung on a silver chain of adoration modestly I arrange them and wait expectantly for you to come alive and take them deep within yourself

cold and clear cut—reflect them sharply while you remain impenetrable

The Old Exposition Building.

The Inter State Industrial Exposition building of earlier Chicago was built in 1873, with W. W. Boyington as architect. It was an imposing structure, extending from Monroe street to Jackson boulevard on the east side of Michigan avenue, with its main entrance at Adams street.

This building had the largest floor space of any in the United States at that time. It opened with an industrial exposition that lasted for two months in the fall of 1873. It was also used for political conventions [President Garfield was nominated there], Masonic conclaves, horse and cattle shows, concerts, etc. It was a focus of Chicago life until the city began to prepare for the World's Fair of 1893, when it was demolished. The present Art Institute occupies a portion of its site.

WHEN STOMACH SECRETIONS ARE LACKING.

HUMAN beings function much like a delicate machine with a host of gadgets. But we distinguish between vital organs, which are regarded as indispensable and those which we can get along without. For example, one undamaged kidney can handle the job of two. We can lose a leg and still carry on efficiently with an artificial substitute. Then too, if the need arises, a segment of the digestive tract can be dispensed with—including a generous portion of the stomach.

But sometimes adjustments are required, as removed areas may have had special work to perform. As an illustration, one of the requisites of good digestion is hydrochloric acid, which is found normally in the gastric juice. Curiously enough, even tho the pouch is intact and apparently well behaved, the cells which secrete this substance may be wanting in ambition. In such circumstances numerous symptoms may be experienced, varying from anemia to frequent bouts with diarrhea.

Just why the material is deficient we are not quite sure. In some instances, no doubt, the factory cells have wasted away. In others, something has gone wrong with the nerves which govern their activity. Nevertheless, the condition is widespread—occurring in nearly 15 per cent of those who are past middle life, altho there will be no proved disorder within the alimentary canal. The simple fact remains that hydrochloric acid is either not adequate in amount or has disappeared entirely from the secretions. In consequence nutrition suffers and, after a while, disagreeable signs may be noted.

In this same connection we must understand also that we cannot get along with too little calcium, phosphorus, iron, copper, manganese, sulfur, and iodine. Lacking one or more of these elements, various intestinal upsets may be suffered, usually associated with nervousness and irritability. If the two situations come together—namely, insufficient acid in addition to some mineral failure, we may ascribe the latter to poor assimilation. In other words, supplying hydrochloric will be followed frequently by the reëstablishment of a chemical balance.

Just how much the acid has to do with absorption is not clear, but we do know that when it is scarce we will encounter not only poor digestion but diarrhea, which usually leads to decreased weight. Most of these patients recover on the administration of vitamin B [brewer's yeast] plus iron and the acid by mouth. Nutrition and avoirdupois pick up rather promptly, and these patients lose that "all gone" feeling which typifies exhaustion.

Fortunately, hydrochloric is easy to take. Of course, it should not be given unless a check of the stomach contents has proved its absence. A few drops [20 to 30] before meals has in thousands of instances brought about restoration of the digestive functions.

A recent report relates the history of a man of 52, who complained of burning pain in the upper abdomen after meals, which would continue for at least an hour. Considerable poundage had been lost. A careful examination of the intestinal tract with test meals, X-ray, etc., showed no trouble within the stomach or the duodenum. But there was only a very small remnant of acid in the gastric fluid. When this preparation was fed by mouth the pain departed completely. Within three months he had regained his average weight.

In this case, the power of the mucous lining of the stomach to produce hydrochloric will probably not be regained, but the daily employment of this medicine is a small price to pay for excellent health.

FLUIDS AT MEALTIME.

L. M. writes: Is it better to drink while eating or to wait until after the meal is finished?

REPLY.

At one time it was thought that beverages taken with meals interfered with digestion. The fact is that fluid actually promotes the secretion of gastric juice. Too much, however, will greatly dilute this important liquid. Sipping water during the meal is usually advised—but not when the mouth is filled with food.

MIDDLE AGED KNEES.

M. P. H. writes: My knee joints are stiff at times. I feel it more while going up and down stairs. Would you suggest some remedy?

REPLY.

The cause is no doubt a mild arthritis. Heat, exercise, and massage — all are helpful.

A POLL WATCHER'S DAY.

Brookfield, Ill., Nov. 23.—I was one of 6,000 volunteer workers at the polls on election day, intent upon stopping vote frauds. Readers may be interested in my experience on that day. I was assigned to a colored district. My co-worker and I relieved two similar workers at 3 p. m. The morning workers were on duty at 5:30 a. m. and saw to it that the ballot box was empty when the polls opened at 6, and that the correct number of unbroken packages of ballots were on hand at the beginning of the vote. My co-worker and I stayed thru from 3 to 11 p. m. We checked off every voter from the precinct register of voters. That list had been made as correctly as it was humanly possible to do so by other volunteer workers prior to election day.

The entire proceedings were carried out according to law, so far as the voting was concerned. A Chicago policeman from a different district remained on duty until after 11. He did a fine job of maintaining order.

At the count the ballot box was opened in plain view. Ballots were carefully emptied on the table and none "spilled" on the floor. Ballots were handled only by the judges and clerks of election. The total number cast in this precinct was 250. The total number of applications for ballots on the application binder at the close of the polls was 250. Ballots were separated as follows: Straight Democratic, straight Republican, split ballots, spoiled ballots. Each was carefully checked. Roosevelt got 60 per cent of the votes in this precinct and Willkie 40 per cent. I was informed afterward that prior to this cleanup drive the Nash-Kelly machine had virtually "gone to town in its own peculiar way." Yes, fellow citizens, it is possible to get something like honest elections in Chicago and the good which can be accomplished by this volunteer work has just begun.

The Democratic precinct captain in this precinct was very busy hustling in his votes. He was fortified with an automatic revolver which he wore in a shoulder holster and a badge on the order of a policeman's badge [which I didn't take the time to look into]. Since when is it customary for precinct captains to come and go from polls armed? Maybe he had a gun permit and was lawfully deputized for other purposes. I don't know. In any event I think we could well dispense with gun toting precinct captains. He also had a formidable bankroll. Where did he get it and what was it being used for? I don't know. I only surmise.

Chicago is getting a subway sponsored by its "benevolent" mayor. So far the visible evidence of it is most pronounced by sagging downtown streets and weakened building foundations. His "Roosevelt and Humanity" smoke screen accomplished his purpose, temporarily, at least. It seems to me that the next step needed to make Chicago the kind of a city it can be is an investigation into the whys and wherefores of Chicago's subway.

Strongbox Slattery failed to make the grade on the Roosevelt coattails and will now have plenty of time on his hands in which to buy and sell Commonwealth Edison stock if he chooses.

TEASPOONSFUL NEVER RIGHT.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Several days ago some one asked the Voice how one correctly formed the plural of teaspoonful. Not having seen a reply, I send the following explanation.

Either teaspoonfuls or teaspoons full is correct, depending upon what is in the speaker's mind. Teaspoonsful is never right. Teaspoonful is one word and its plural is formed in the regular way by adding an s. Teaspoon full is two words and forms its plural by adding s to teaspoon. Thus, five teaspoonfuls means that one teaspoon was filled five times; five teaspoons full means that there were five separate teaspoons, each of which was full.

The same explanation applies to handful, bucketful, and similar words ending in ful. JAMES E. REMINGTON.

UNIONS AND DRAFTED MEN.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—The greatest question now: What will happen if the striking unions are granted all their demands?

And what would happen if the drafted men in camps were on a strike, saying:

We don't like our pay.
We don't like our housing.
We don't like our suits.
We don't like our meals.
We don't like our working hours.
We don't like our bosses.

Would the government sit in the old swivel chair—go visiting or fishing or let committees huddle or pussy-foot along? O no. The boys in camp are helpless and the strikers do as they please, with no interference. And should such men be trusted with work that means life or death to many others? L. L. S.

MAYBE A FORECAST.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Have you noticed in the last eight years how remarks made by Mrs. Roosevelt in an apparently off-hand manner have later proven the forerunner of policies and laws instigated by F. D. R.?

Well, here's one for the book: Mrs. Roosevelt recently remarked—"if we are to preserve our American way of life America must not be afraid to give up the rights of a free people."

How can she distort the giving up of our rights as being synonymous with "our American way of life"?

Is this just another subtle warning of what the Roosevelt family are planning next? SOUTHSIDER.

BREAKS HIS EXTRA SLEEP.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—On the one day of the week I can get a few hours extra sleep what happens? I am rudely awakened by voices screaming "Sunday morning TRIBUNE!"

My day would be lost without my TRIBUNE, but I certainly don't get it that way. One newsboy wouldn't be so bad, but when six or eight of them get together and see how much noise they can make, that is just too much. Can't something be done about it? H. J.

STREET CAR SERVICE ALSO POOR.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—It seems that our aldermen are trying to convince the general public that the Chicago Motor Coach company is the big bad wolf, trying to finish off the two little pigs, namely, the Chicago Surface Lines and the Rapid Transit company.

These men should try a few samples of the other transportation facilities that our fair city offers. Let them ride any one of the Elston avenue street cars between 7 and 8 a. m. or any Milwaukee avenue car at about the same time. Also try the Ravenswood express in the morning and evening. These cars are filled up before they are two or three blocks on their way to the loop, but they continue to pack them in all of the way down to the loop.

I think that you should know that the Chicago Motor Coach company offers more seats per passenger carried than any other transportation company in Chicago. DISGUSTED.

FINDS IT COSTS TO WORK.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Four thousand five hundred mechanics must pay $50 to $100 apiece for the right to work at Camp Grant. And this is typical of what's going on all over the country. Is this practice one of the treasured American institutions we must fight to defend?

2. What is the time limit on probating a will?
3. If there is no will filed, how is the inheritance tax determined?
4. How would a court know of kinship so as to notify me of any procedure?
5. Deeds must be recorded before death how long to avoid inheritance tax?

1. The first step would be to inquire at the office of the clerk of the Probate court at the county seat at the county in which he resided at the time of his death.
2. In some cases probate can be entirely dispensed with.
3. On the basis of the papers filed with the attorney general's office.
4. Presumably the court would not know.
5. It is presumed that a gift made within two years of death is made in contemplation of death and therefore subject to an inheritance tax.

CONTROLER CUTS MILLION DOLLARS OFF CITY BUDGET

Preliminary Report Puts Total at 55 Millions.

A preliminary estimate of $55,550,393 for the city corporate or operating budget for 1941 was reported yesterday by Controler Robert B. Upham. The total is $1,030,449 less than the 1940 appropriations and $7,848,715 under the $63,399,108 which had been sought by city departments for next year.

Relatively few departmental increases were allowed over last year. Among those granted were for the police and fire departments. The police department sought $18,821,478, or $1,130,564 more than last year. Upham allowed $18,009,053, a decrease of $812,425 from the amount sought but $318,139 more than was provided last year.

Fire Department Asks 9 Millions.

The fire department asked $9,492,162, or $1,246,191 more than last year. The controler approved $8,270,040, an increase of $24,069 over last year. Automatic pay increases are allowed in the fire and police department budget estimates.

Following are the 1940 appropriations, the amounts requested by principal departments for 1941, and the amounts approved by Controler Upham:

Dept.	1940.	Requested.	Allowed.
Chief Justice Munic. ct.	$ 541,500	$ 550,200	$ 538,000

Several of the departments, among them the law department, requested less money for 1941 than was allocated in 1940.

Most Departments Ask More.

The general trend observed by department heads was to ask for more money than was allowed in the preceding year.

Department requests and the controler's estimates will be turned over to the city council finance committee. Starting tomorrow, the committee will hold public hearings on the budget estimates, after which it will submit budgetary recommendations to the council.

In previous years the committee considered its recommendations before giving the public a chance to express opinions on how city funds should be spent.

WOMAN IS GIVEN 2 TO 5 YEARS FOR $500,000 THEFT

New York, Nov. 25 [Special].—Mrs Mary B. Roberts, 51 years old, who last August pleaded guilty to stealing more than $500,000 from her late employer, was sentenced to 2 to 5 years in prison today. She heard Judge Saul S. Streit's pronouncement without a quaver.

"It would be a miscarriage of justice not to send this woman to prison," Judge Streit responded to her lawyer's plea for a suspended sentence.

Mrs. Roberts was accused last July 24 of having looted the estate of Samuel C. Thomson, mining engineer, whose confidential secretary she had been since 1920, and who had died on July 13. When she confessed Mrs. Roberts declared that she had taken the money to support her aged mother and to educate her 19 year old son. She lost most of it in speculation, she said.

SCHOOL BOARD TO ASK BOOST IN PEGGED TAX LEVY

At the next session of the state legislature, the Chicago board of education will seek to have the 1941 pegged levy increased from the present 48 million dollars to more than 51 millions, President James B. McCahey of the board said yesterday.

The move was made necessary by the action of the legislature in 1938 that reduced the schools' share of motor fuel tax receipts by $1,000,000 a year in 1939 and 1940 and eliminated it for 1941. The present pegged levy was fixed by the general assembly for a three year period before the action on the motor fuel tax receipts was taken.

New York, Nov. 25 [Special].—Edward T. Magoffin, 2½ year old veteran of 100 hours in the air, was fitted out with an unusual parachute harness today. The harness hooks on to his mother's parachute straps. In case of an emergency she can snap it on and both can "go over the side" together. Tho it weighs only two pounds the gear is said to be strong enough to support the curly haired youngster's 41 pounds.

Edward is the son of Annette Gipson Magoffin, famous aviatrix. He has often flown with his mother.

EX-WIFE SEEKING WIDOW'S HALF OF FRIEND MILLIONS

Insane When Divorced by Doctor, She Says.

A legal fight to obtain a widow's share of the $2,000,000 estate of the late Dr. Emanuel Friend, noted Chicago physician, was begun yesterday by Mrs. Magdalen Friend Lanskop before Judge John J. Lupe.

One-half the estate—$1,000,000—is at issue. According to Mrs. Lanskop's lawyers, a widow is entitled to half her husband's estate if there are no children. Dr. Friend was childless.

Dr. Friend, who was senior physician at Michael Reese hospital, died on July 19, 1938, at the age of 68. He left the bulk of his fortune to charity.

Received $25,000 Settlement.

In 1917 Dr. Friend married Mrs. Lanskop, then Miss Magdalen Alexander. He was 47 and she was 24. She sued for separate maintenance in 1933, charging cruelty. He filed a cross-bill for divorce, charging desertion, and won the decree. She was given a $25,000 settlement in lieu of all dower claims.

She moved to Laguna Beach, Cal., built a home, and in 1935 married her gardener, George Lanskop. Yesterday her lawyers, Floyd Lanham and Milford H. Olds, asserted that she was insane in 1933, when Dr. Friend divorced her, and insane in 1935, when she married Lanskop, but is sane now.

Would Nullify Second Marriage.

Specifically Mrs. Lanskop is asking that Dr. Friend's divorce decree be set aside on the ground she was mentally unsound when it was granted. The effect of this would be to make her the physician's widow and at the same time nullify her marriage to Lanskop.

A. J. Pfiaum, attorney for the Northern Trust company, executor of the Friend estate, asserted Mrs. Lanskop is a shrewd business woman, and described her suit as "fictitious, weird, and unbelievable." He promised to produce 27 depositions to show she was and is sane. A deposition in behalf of Mrs. Lanskop, made by a Los Angeles physician, was read yesterday. The physician stated he had found her "emotionally unstable" in 1931 and 1932.

IDENTIFY SLAIN BANDIT; 15 TELL OF ROBBERIES

A bandit shot to death Nov. 18 in an attempted holdup of a filling station was identified yesterday as William Armstrong, 25 years old, of Hobart, Ind. He was identified by three Chicago filling station attendants as the man who had robbed them in recent weeks, and witnesses from the Calumet-Gary area identified him in 12 more holdups there.

Armstrong was shot twice by Richard Eastman, attendant in a filling station at 2401 Cottage Grove avenue.

NITTI DOMINATION OVER BAR UNION UP IN TWO COURTS

Trial of 5 on Conspiracy Charge Opens.

Selection of a jury was begun yesterday in the Criminal court to try Frank [The Enforcer] Nitti and four others who at the same time were being referred to in another court as "the subversive element purged from the bartenders' union."

Before Judge John P. Bolton in the Criminal court, Nitti was a defendant along with Murray Humphreys, veteran public enemy, Fred Evans, Nitti's fiscal agent, Louis Romano, former president of the bartenders' union, local 278, and Tom Panton, former assistant business agent for the bartenders. The charge is conspiracy to injure a man in his employment, punishable by a 1 to 5 year sentence in prison as the maximum.

A Dozen Are Challenged.

No jurors were accepted and the efforts to agree on a jury will continue today. The defense counsel made use of a dozen peremptory challenges, in objecting to veniremen. They are allowed 50 such challenges—10 for each defendant.

Nitti, whose wife died last week while he was in a hospital suffering from stomach ulcers, appeared in court in mourning. Two important state's witnesses, William Salvatore and Miss Margaret Meyers, still were missing. First Assistant State's Attorney Wilbert F. Crowley said the state would try to get along without their testimony, altho he had hopes his subpena servers would be able to find Salvatore, who formerly was an assistant business agent of the union and is a brother-in-law of George B. McLane, Nitti's principal accuser.

Wants to Dissolve Receivership.

In civil proceedings before Judge Robert Jerome Dunne of the Circuit court, meanwhile, attorneys argued about "giving the union back to its membership." The action was on a petition to dissolve the receivership ordered last Aug. 16 by Judge Dunne on McLane's representations that Nitti and his gang had become the rulers of the bartenders' union. McLane and the Romano faction of the union joined in the petition to dissolve the receivership.

Attorney A. C. Lewis, representing McLane, told Judge Dunne yesterday that the purpose of the receivership for which McLane had asked had been accomplished—that gangsterism has been overcome in the union. Lewis' statement was in opposition to the claim of Attorney Raymond F. Hayes, who said McLane had been coerced originally into making Romano president of the union and that McLane is being coerced now into asking the court to dissolve the receivership.

Hayes was seeking to intervene in the lawsuit in behalf of 51 persons he said were bartenders who want the court to supervise the election of union officers on Jan. 6.

Attorney Lewis said that McLane, who built up the union and its $175,000 treasury, and went to court to protect it, could be trusted to take over its management again. He said that McLane, as much as any one else, wants an honest election and he is sure that gangsters, having burned their fingers once in this union affair, never would seek to touch it again.

Salvatore, the missing witness in the criminal action, also failed to appear in Judge Dunne's court to support his challenge to the right of more than 100 persons to vote in the Jan. 6 union election, if that election is held under court supervision.

Phillips 66

If your car has starting trouble as the weather gets colder, there is one sure-fire prescription:—

HIGHER TEST (more volatile) GASOLINE.

That's a perfect description of Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

During the coming winter months, you can confidently expect . . . based on past experience . . . that the Volatility Number (high test rating) of this amazing motor fuel will be 50 per cent higher than the average Volatility Number of premium price gasolines.

Think of it! Most motor fuels, including those which cost 2¢ extra per gallon, will not come within hailing distance of the volatility given by Phillips 66 Poly Gas, which sells at regular price.

If you wonder how Phillips can afford to be so generous with high test quality, remember that Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline.

Find out for yourself how this extra high test gasoline gives extra fast starting, even after your car has been standing all night in the cold. Note the faster warm-up. Feel the improvement in power and pick-up. And don't forget, you get more mileage, because you save the gasoline usually wasted by excessive use of the choke with low test motor fuel.

Tonight, get a trial tankful of extra high test Phillips 66 Poly Gas, without paying a penny extra. Then tomorrow, you can touch the button and START everytime, no matter how cold the day.

Art Institute Plans Great Goya Exhibit

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE Art institute of Chicago in 1941 will offer another of the magnificent exhibitions of great masters for which it has won renown in recent years.

The most ambitious, as well as the most important, Goya show ever held in America will open Jan. 30, continuing thru March 2, Daniel Catton Rich, director, revealed yesterday. Displayed in it and covering four of the institute's spacious galleries will be some 50 oils, 30 drawings, and 70 etchings in which Spanish art, under the masterly, fevered fingers of Goya, reached its glorious climax. For the show private collectors and great museums alike are unleashing their most treasured Goyas.

The Metropolitan museum is lending the celebrated "Majas on the Balcony"; the portrait, "Perez" and "Bull Fight," one of the magnificent canvases the turbulent Goya produced after his year with a quadrilla of bull fighters. Another, "Portrait of a Bull Fighter," is coming from Canada.

Many of His Portraits to Be Included in Show.

The show will contain a copious array of the stern portraiture in which Goya excelled, notably his "Duke of Wellington," which he completed, according to legend, after having first hurled a plaster cast at the ducal head of his subject. This and his portrait of Dona Teresa Sureda are being lent by Mrs. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen of New York.

Among the rarest Goya items are the canvases he executed as designs for the royal tapestry factory of Santa Barbara by command of Charles III. Chauncey McCormick, however, has a celebrated one, "Boy on the Ram," which Mrs. McCormick's father, the late Charles Deering, purchased in Spain. It has not been shown publicly for many years, but Mr. McCormick, who is vice president of the institute, has offered it for the coming show.

Easterners Are Lending Best of Their Collections.

Mrs. Edward Harkness of New York is lending her portrait, "Yriarte," and Samuel Kress of New York is lending the cream of his fine collection, as is Oscar B. Cintas of Havana. Negotiations still are under way for various Goya works now in South America.

One outcome of the show is pretty certain. Chicagoans undoubtedly will brush up on the Napoleonic wars, for this is the era in which Goya struggled, and many of his most stirring works, particularly his etchings, deal with the ravages of war. The show will open, as is customary with the institute's major showings, with an evening reception and preview on Wednesday, Jan. 29, for trustees, their wives and guests.

Today in gallery M-5 at the institute Mrs. James Ward Thorne will be hostess at a tea for students of the school of the institute. The occasion is the presentation by Mrs. Thorne of 16 Balinese drawings to the school. Mrs. Charles H. Worcester will assist Mrs. Thorne.

The Casino and Racquet Club Having Parties on Dec. 13.

The Casino and the Racquet club will both be ablaze with lights and filled with dance music on Friday night, Dec. 13, for a gay party has been arranged to take place in each club that evening. It will be a club party at the Casino, but the Racquet's will be a private party, a dinner-dance for Debutantes Betty and Caryl Broome. Mrs. Kendrick E. Morgan and her daughter, Mrs. William George Lee, will be the hostesses. Mrs. Lee is spending this week in the east.

Invitations to the Casino affair were received yesterday. In addition to dinner and dancing, members and their guests will be entertained by "The Escorts and Betty" during the evening.

English Speaking Union Founder Guest Here.

Sir Evelyn Wrench, who founded the English Speaking union shortly after the world war, and Lady Wrench will be guests of the Chicago branch of the union at a reception at the Arts club from 4 to 6 o'clock this afternoon. Sir Evelyn, long distinguished in British affairs, and his wife, sister of Lieut. Gen. Sir Alan Brooke, who replaced Gen. Sir Edmund Ironside as commander-in-chief of the British home forces in July, will be in the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. George F. Spaulding. Mrs. Charles W. Dempster is in charge of the tea, and Mrs. Richard

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

Chapped elbows, knees, hands and shoulders are a discomfort and a disfiguration that cry for correction. A lotion that smooths away the roughness and relieves the extreme dryness is an invaluable winter beauty aid.

Chapping is certainly to be classed among the most irritating of all skin problems. Some women never know what it is to have skin that is smooth and white from November until June; at first whiff of cold weather their skin dries up so badly that the discomfort is almost unbelievable.

Shoulders, knees, and elbows seem to be the areas that suffer most. Just the contact with linen is enough in some cases to make the skin red and rough. One skin specialist we talked with suspects that contact with linens laundered and bleached in a certain way has a tendency to set up the irritation, but it's merely a theory as yet. We know, however, from our own experience that the skin irritation is always worse when we're traveling than it is when we're at home. Strong hotel linen, very white and very crisp, is often irritating to us.

But relief isn't so difficult to find. The choice of soap is important; every woman with thin, sensitive skin should do her soap shopping carefully. What one woman can use with comfort and satisfaction may be much too harsh for another. Find one that leaves the skin with as little of the parched, dry feeling as possible. And, in winter at least, we like to leave the rough washcloth to the Spartans. We'll take as soft a one as we can find.

Then there are the soothing lotions. These are wonderful nowadays because they're not too greasy. They relieve the chapping and oil the skin a little, but they leave no film of grease that makes the skin sticky or soils clothing.

Lately we've been using a smooth-skin lotion that turned out to be perfect. It's a thin creamy liquid, pure white, that smooths away the roughness and leaves the skin just moist enough to be soft. It can be used for rough elbows, knees, chapped shoulder blades, or even on the hands and face. As a matter of fact, it's a good powder base. And it's quite inexpensive. ELEANOR NANGLE.

Bright Sports Togs Inspire Wish for Snow

BY REA SEEGER.

All the gay high colored winter sports clothes are out making the grownup shoppers wish for snow and ice with the same fervor as the youngsters. Red and white and black make the most popular color contrast costumes. Velveteen smooth wool jersey and the popular windbreaker textiles lighter in weight than the woolens and velveteens but just as snug and warm are favorite fabrics.

Sweaters rate the same attention as always. They are giddier in color contrast than ever before. Mittens, caps, mufflers, and socks plus good old fashioned long underwear and skating tights, fancy belts, suspenders, lounging slippers, and lounging slacks complete the lists.

Cartwheel and double cartwheel skirts are the most popular choice of the skating crowd. These skirts have the same swirl as the ballerina costumes on the stage, only in heavier materials. Contrasting linings are used for nearly all models. Tyrolean fancy braid and yarn embroidery are used lavishly for trim on jackets, caps, mittens, belts, and suspenders, actually used or only for accent trim.

Ski, toboggan, and snow sports costumes have a knife thin streamlining. Pants are tailored and have none of the casual fullness of slacks. Jackets are fitted with emphasis on the fitting. Most of them are buttoned in a double breasted manner and high around the throat. Quilted and padded affairs are plentiful in bright as well as neutral and dark colors.

Chatterton Has Play Worthy of Her Talent

"PYGMALION."

Comedy in five acts [played as three acts and five scenes], by George Bernard Shaw. Staged by Auriol Lee. Settings by Lemual Ayres. Lighting by Feder. Presented by Harold J. Kennedy, in association with Jus Addiss and Hayden Rorke, in the Selwyn theater, Monday evening, Nov. 25, 1940.

THE CAST.

Eliza Doolittle	Ruth Chatterton
Henry Higgins	Barry Thomson
Col. Pickering	Dennis Hoey
Clara Eynsford-Hill	Eleanor Wilson
Mrs. Eynsford-Hill	Myrtle Tannahill
Freddy Eynsford-Hill	Hayden Rorke

First Bystander	Mortimer H. Weldon
Sarcastic Bystander	Arthur Gilmour
Maid	Velma Royton
Tommy Atkins	Richard Bowler

BY CECIL SMITH.

What a great joy it is to see an actress of Ruth Chatterton's mettle finally settled down in a play fully worthy of her excellent gifts! Last year a thin and ill-constructed piece called "Tonight We Dance" reminded us, after her 15 year absence from Chicago's footlights, that Miss Chatterton is beyond peradventure one of the first ladies of our stage. But she was wasted, partly at least, on material that challenged nothing more than her ability to keep an unseaworthy domestic farce from foundering completely.

Now in "Pygmalion," as she matches her wit with that of Bernard Shaw, the Selwyn theater becomes one of the exciting places in Chicago to be in, and attendance is compulsory for all who care more than a snap of the fingers for theater art on its highest plane.

Miss Chatterton's impersonation of the rough-hewn Cockney flower seller who attains the outward graces of a duchess under the tutelage of Barry Thomson's Prof. Higgins, is a tour de force of the most brilliant and carefully measured technique. But like all truly first class performances her playing is apparently as easy and as spontaneous as breathing.

There is no sense of painful artifice in her dropped and added h's in the scenes in which her Cockney dialect is still with her. And in the wonderful third scene, when she appears at a tea in a state of partial phonetic revision, her carefully aspirated initial h's explode with the most delicious caution. When finally the perfected Chattertonian diction, as choice as any our present day theater can offer, appears in its full aristocracy, there still remain the most subtle intrusions of first-act inflection to remind us of the original Eliza underneath the veneer.

Miss Chatterton will not mind, I am sure, the remark that she has taken off weight, to the point that her figure is as youthful and appealing as one could wish. And with what subtle, almost choreographic skill she develops her portrayal by means of carriage and movement which take on, from scene to scene, the gradually improving level of her social outlook! Her whole performance is guided by the most patrician judgment; there is never an error in taste nor so much as a momentary failure to achieve the particular tone she is seeking to create.

Mr. Thomson provides sturdy support as the unconsciously sadistic phonetics professor. He is not, to my mind, quite the physical or emotional type suggested by the part, for he is too hearty to suggest the cadgy, high strung, confirmed bachelor I have always supposed Shaw to have had in mind. But he is wise enough to bring the rôle around to some sort of effective congruence with his own personality, and since he is a strong and forceful player there is a good rebound in his scenes with Miss Chatterton.

As Col. Pickering, the more suave and gentlemanly partner in Prof. Higgins' experiment, Dennis Hoey is ideally cast, and he acts with perception and sympathy. Richard Temple's portrait of Eliza's father is a trifle obvious in its comic machinery, but the gusto with which he delivers Shaw's thrusts at middle class morality proves irresistible.

The smaller parts, without exception, are capably handled. The settings by Lemual Ayres, whose work was new to me, belong in the big time category—especially the strikingly handsome living room of Mrs. Higgins and the evocative treatment of the first act scene in the rainswept lee of Covent Garden.

Lafayette Gingerbread Recipe.

There have been so many requests for the recipe for the Lafayette gingerbread—the kind served him by Gen. Washington's mother when he went to Fredericksburg to pay his respects to her—it has been mimeographed and copies are being sent to those who have sent stamped, self-addressed envelopes. The recipe, as given by Mrs. Vivian Minor Fleming of the Washington Lewis chapter, D. A. R.:

Cut up in a pan ½ cup of the very best fresh butter with ½ cup of excellent brown sugar, beat to a cream with a paddle. Add 1 cup of West India molasses and ½ cup of warm milk; 2 tablespoons of powdered ginger and 1 heaping teaspoon of cinnamon, mace, and nutmeg, powdered and mixed; 1 wine glass of brandy (I use coffee now). Beat 3 eggs till very light and thick; 3 cups of flour and 1 teaspoon of cream of tartar sifted with flour and stirred alternately with the beaten eggs into the batter. Last, mix in the juice and grated rind of 1 large orange. Dissolve 1 teaspoon of soda in a little warm water and stir in. Beat until very light. A cup full of seeded raisins is an addition. Bake in a loaf, sheet or patty pans, in a moderate oven.

Wisecrack.

A couple living on the north side can look down on the back yard of a flat building, one of the numerous real estate holdings of Fred B. Snite, father of the famous smiling paralysis victim. One of the tenants was seen digging in the hard, clayish soil of the yard, unornamented except for a fringe of dejected looking plants a renter had planted.

"What's that fellow digging over there?" asked the neighbor looking out his window.

"Must be the Country Squire in the Snite House," wisecracked his wife, Cora Wallace.

Waller School to Hold Music Fete Tomorrow

The fall music festival of Waller High school will be held tomorrow evening in Le Moyne auditorium at 851 Waveland avenue. The school band, orchestra, girls' choir, mixed chorus, and massed choir of 200 voices will take part.

The advanced band, augmented by other musicians, will present a major portion of the program under the direction of Ivan Feldman. One of the band's selections will include a solo by the first chair player of each section, followed by a variation of the original theme by the entire section, with accompanist by the rest of the band.

Lily Pons Wins Great Audience in Role of Gilda

"RIGOLETTO."

Opera in four acts by Giuseppe Verdi. Libretto by Piave from Victor Hugo's "Le Roi S'Amuse." Presented by the Chicago Opera company in the Civic Opera house, Nov. 25, 1940.

THE CAST.

Gilda	Lily Pons
Duke of Mantua	Charles Kullman
Rigoletto	Alexander Sved
Sparafucile	Virgilio Lazzari
Maddalena	Lydia Summers
Giovanna	Hellyn Fix
Monterone	Mack Harrell
Borsa	Giuseppe Cavadore
Marullo	John Daggett Howell
Count Ceprano	Edward Stack
Countess Ceprano	Mona Bradford
A page	Annette Burford [debut]
An usher	Robert Ladoff
Conductor	Paul Breisach
Stage Director	Martin Magner

The presence of Lily Pons in last night's cast of "Rigoletto" attracted a capacity audience to the Civic Opera house. While her appearance alone is a special feature of any operatic performance, the event also marked the first time she had sung the rôle of Gilda in Chicago.

Lily Pons.

Those who turned out to hear her were not disappointed, and their applause indicated as much. For she was in her best form. The liquid, flutelike quality of her voice was as alluring as ever, and her top notes boasted the wonderful sheen and spangle that they always have. In the straightforward, lyric passages the line was clear and flowing.

Musically there is nothing about which one can cavil. Frequently the phrasing was exquisite, particularly in the familiar "Caro nome" aria and in the short sequence immediately afterwards, sung as she leaves the stage.

Miss Pons' characterization of Gilda was happily simple and appealing.

As the profligate duke, Charles Kullman sang extraordinarily well. His voice is not always completely controled nor always as sensual as it might be, but he presents his music in such a forthright manner, musically as well as dramatically, that the vocal deficiencies are easy to ignore. In the first and fourth act arias he lacked the requisite lilt and swing, but in the less spirited third act aria he was completely at home and delivered a first rate performance.

Alexander Sved repeated the title role, in which he made his debut a week or so ago, without much variance. His work is impressive because of the sheer size and beauty of his voice. During the second act he used it in a restrained and carefully modulated fashion, and the result was eminently satisfactory. Much of the third act, however, became monotonous from lack of accent and variation in tone. He redeemed himself at the end of the act by the conviction of his acting and won a warm response from the audience.

Virgilio Lazzari as Sparafucile, again demonstrated his wonderful understanding of the Italian tradition. Mack Harrell was a commanding Monterone, and Lydia Summers assisted excellently in the popular last act quartet.

In the orchestral pit Paul Breisach kept the whole performance moving right along, using generally admirable tempi and following the singers with precision. The orchestra, in matters of tone and ensemble, seemed better than ever. R. E.

Dr. Stock and His Orchestra Acclaimed by Boston Critics

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 25 [Special].—Boston's music critics, who are the inheritors of what is perhaps the oldest and most honorable critical tradition in this hemisphere, wrote favorably today of Frederick Stock and the Chicago Symphony orchestra and of the concert which they gave yesterday afternoon in Symphony hall.

Said Alexander Williams of the Herald: "In recent years here we have heard the orchestras of New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, and Washington. The Chicago Symphony is fully entitled to rank with the best of these. In fact yesterday's was the best all around concert by a visiting orchestra since the last time the Philharmonic came here under Toscanini."

Edward Downes of the Transcript declared that "from the volume of applause it was clear that the audience was not only interested but was enjoying itself thoroly. In the past Boston receptions for other orchestras than our own have often been on the frigid side. Yesterday this was happily changed."

In assessing the quality of the performance Mr. Downes said: "The Weber overture, hoary with age as it is, glowed with youthful enthusiasm and exuberance. The timbre of the orchestra is entirely different from that of the Boston symphony. It has not the brilliance nor transparency, but it has a solid, well integrated character of its own."

This critic went on to find some fault with the Brahms Third symphony. ["There was wanting a certain plasticity of dynamics and phrasing"] but ended his review with the statement that the performance of the Wagner excerpts had "true grandeur" and that "the Chicago orchestra has been too long away from Boston."

Said Warren Storey Smith of the Post: "One still senses the Germanic tradition in the playing of the Chicago Symphony orchestra: Sound, solid, substantial, clear, well balanced, unhysterical, undistorted, untroubled by personal interpretations. For those who prize these virtues, and they are not to be sniffed at, Dr. Stock and his Chicagoans have them to offer."

In the Globe, Cyrus W. Durgan described the Chicago orchestra as well disciplined, balanced, and responsive, and regretted that it does not come to Boston oftener. "It plays cleanly," he said, "with a firm, transparent tone."

Said L. A. Sloper of the Christian Science Monitor: "Like all great orchestras it [the Chicago Symphony orchestra] has a distinctive tone. Interpretatively, too, it goes its own way. The conductor, a thoro musician, shows a deep respect for a score as it was set down by the composer. Yet his is not a literal reading."

Mr. Sloper found the conductor and the orchestra at their best in the Wagner excerpts. "both of which were magnificently performed, with a beautiful clarity, subtle balance, rhythmic verve, and dramatic eloquence."

Thomas Sings 'Falstaff' Again Next Tuesday

Here's good news for the thousands who were unable to procure tickets last Thursday for the second sensational performance of "Falstaff" at the Civic Opera house:

John Charles Thomas.

A third "Falstaff" night is scheduled for next Tuesday, with John Charles Thomas singing the title rôle in Verdi's opera supported by the entire original cast. Announcement of a third production was made yesterday by James C. Thompson, business manager of the opera company.

Thomas' Falstaff, a rollicking, amorous old tippler, drawn in the broad comedy lines for which the great baritone is noted, will become, it is predicted, one of the legends of grand opera. Thomas sang the part here at a matinée on Wednesday, Nov. 9, for the first time.

The book, translated from the Italian, is in English, a fact highly pleasing to Thomas, who long has urged the production of opera in the English language. To prove his point that opera in English can be "singable and understandable," Thomas gave excerpts from "Falstaff" on the W-G-N "Pageant of Melody" program last Wednesday night. The result was the unprecedented rush at the box office of the opera house on the following day.

The Odor of Violets

By Baynard Kendrick

[Copyright: 1940: By Baynard Kendrick.]

SYNOPSIS.

Leaving their house guest, Chell Scott, Norma Tredwill goes to the city to break up the romance between her philandering ex-husband, Paul Gerente, and her stepdaughter, Barbara. She sees Barbara leaving Paul's apartment and discovers Paul Gerente murdered. Duncan Maclain, a blind detective, receives a visitor, who claims to be Paul Gerente, with orders in code from the naval intelligence. They are instructions in case New York should be plunged into darkness by war, giving the five vital points in the city where sabotage might occur. Worried for fear Barbara might be implicated in the murder, Norma telephones A. Cameron, the man in the apartment below Paul's, to find out whether he or some one in Paul's apartment let her in. Cameron dismisses Hilda, a girl visitor, and investigates Paul Gerente's apartment. Maclain finds Cameron there with the dead man and Cameron glibly confesses to the murder. Far off in California a man and a girl watch the nation's bombing planes testing the new bomb sights.

INSTALMENT VIII.

BOMBING SIGHTS.

"What do they do now, Francis? You know all about such things." The girl spoke with the delectable trill of an enthusistic debutante.

The man behind the wheel of the car sat silent, using his hand to shield his eyes from the glare. His lack of attention displeased his companion. She drew her fur coat closer about her in a gesture which raised her silken skirt a few inches higher, and repeated her question.

"What do the planes do now, Francis?"

The man lowered his hand and turned toward her when she pressed against his shoulder with the round smoothness of her knee.

"Why don't you watch them, Tina, darling?"

"They're getting so far away that I can't see."

"They'll come back again." He pointed to the left. "That's their target over there. They're going to bomb that house on the top of the hill." His eyes caught the warmth of flesh above the tops of her stockings. "You're lovely, Tina," he said and turned away.

From the west the bombers zoomed in like fleeting black spots out of the setting sun. A sigh went up from the crowd as the arrow formation broke and straightened into a single line. Silence followed, gripping the earth. The wings of the leader had turned at an angle. Tons of man-made metal were plummeting earthward. When it seemed that nothing could save it, the great mass flattened out and became an airship again, raining death from the sky.

Noise beat in from the hills as one by one the 12 planes played their game of follow the leader. The ground erupted beneath them, shattering the day with the burst of high explosives, the rending of wood which had been a dwelling, the tossing of timbers on high. When the last of the bombs had found its mark the quiet was so great that the noise of whirring propellers seemed lost in the turbid air. Slowly the smoke on the hilltop drifted away, but the eyes of the people kept watching, searching for a house forever gone.

"I'm glad those planes are ours," said the man in the coupé. "Every hit a direct one! I'd hate like the devil to have them flying over me in a war—unless they were on my side."

Beside him, the girl shivered slightly. "How do they do it, Francis—hit such a small mark every time from away up in the air?"

"Bombing sights," he told her, patronizingly proud of his knowledge. "They're the best in the world—and going to be even better, I'm told. Gilbert Tredwill, the Hartford engineer who invented them, is working on a new one now. We have to watch our step with everybody else in the world at war."

"Don't talk about it." She took off her sun glasses and her dark eyes looked troubled. "I just can't bear to think that if we get dragged in you'll be one of the first to go."

He laughed and patted her ankle affectionately. "You're sweet, Tina. Going to war is a chance that all of us take in the flying corps." He raised himself half up in the seat, and for an instant buried his nose in the large bunch of violets pinned to her breast. "You know," he continued seriously, "if I ever do have to go to war, whenever I smell violets I'll think of you."

The 12 bombers were wheeling down to earth in the light of the setting sun. The whiteness of their wings suddenly turned scarlet with a strange unearthly glow.

"Look, Francis," Tina's voice was husky. "Look at those planes. They're covered with blood right now!"

Somewhere off the coast of New England 17 men were bravely awaiting death on the bottom of the sea.

"How long now, Skipper?" asked the second in command. His question reverberated from the metal shell which formed their prison, but his voice was calm and devoid of fear.

A streak of light showed ghostlike thru blackness as the commanding officer moved his luminous wristwatch and turned up the back of his hand.

"It's now quarter past four in the morning," his laugh boomed out startingly. "You asked me that same question, lieutenant, exactly six minutes ago."

"Why not?" said the lieutenant. "There isn't anything else to do."

Voices began to fill the darkness with hollow raillery:

"Whatchu kickin' about, lieutenant? Submarine wolk's the nuts. Nuttin' to do but set on our bottoms 'n' draw extra pay!"

"Join the navy and see the world! Jeses!"

"Yeah. Me old lady got me in this because she said them airyplanes was fallin' all th' time. She's sure got me down about as far as I can go."

"Pipe down, you guys! You're using up the air!"

"That's a laugh. What air?"

"You tell 'em, Sandy. It smells like the pitcher show back home on bank night, when all them dames comes in from the factories."

"Don't you never think o' nuthin' but dames? Jeses, Slim."

"Mebbe you ketch yerself a mermaid, eh, Slim?"

"That's a laugh. Get himself a piece of fishtail!"

"Pipe down, you guys! You're using up the air!"

Silence, and blackness, and breathing, and carbon monoxide creeping up on men about to die.

"Jeses. All you hear about in the navy is how good them bastards in the coast guard is at rescues. They must be tryin' to gnaw their way thru!"

The lieutenant whispering:

"——at the Gardner's party at New London, skipper. You must remember her."

"There were 20 girls there." "She wore that white swim suit with the red trim and took a double somersault from the high board. Susan Rowland."

"I remember that dive all right. She had a brother there, didn't she? Surly cuss that played contract so well."

"That's the one. Well——"

A plaintive voice saying:

"What's the matter with Denny and that mouth organ? God knows it's the only time I've ever wanted to hear him play."

"He's playin' a harp, Cupie, in the other half of this can."

"Jeses. I've seen pitchers of guys like us using torpedo tubes."

"Pipe down, you! You're up in the air. We've been into all that crap about tubes before. The coast guard'll come thru."

"And so will the marines."

"You tell 'em, Sandy. We will find the streets all guarded by United States marines."

"What streets?"

"Heaven's scenes, the song says."

"The song stinks. We ain't goin' to heaven no how. We're goin' to hell in a handbasket."

"A seacasket!"

"Pipe down, you guys! You're using up the air!"

The lieutenant whispering:

"—and the last time I saw her was the night before we went away. She's sweet, skipper. God! There's something about a girl like that that makes a man feel good all thru."

"She's beautiful, all right, Mac, but I think she's older than you."

"It's the way she wears her hair. Funny thing, I had a letter from her just before we put out yesterday——"

"Yesterday, Mac?"

"Waiting for me at the base."

"I'll say it's funny. How did she know where to send it? Neither of us knew where we were going to be."

"She must have guessed, skipper. Here, smell it. It reminds me of her hair."

Heavy notepaper crackling in the darkness. Carbon monoxide creeping up on 17 doomed men. The scent of violets faint in the fetid air.

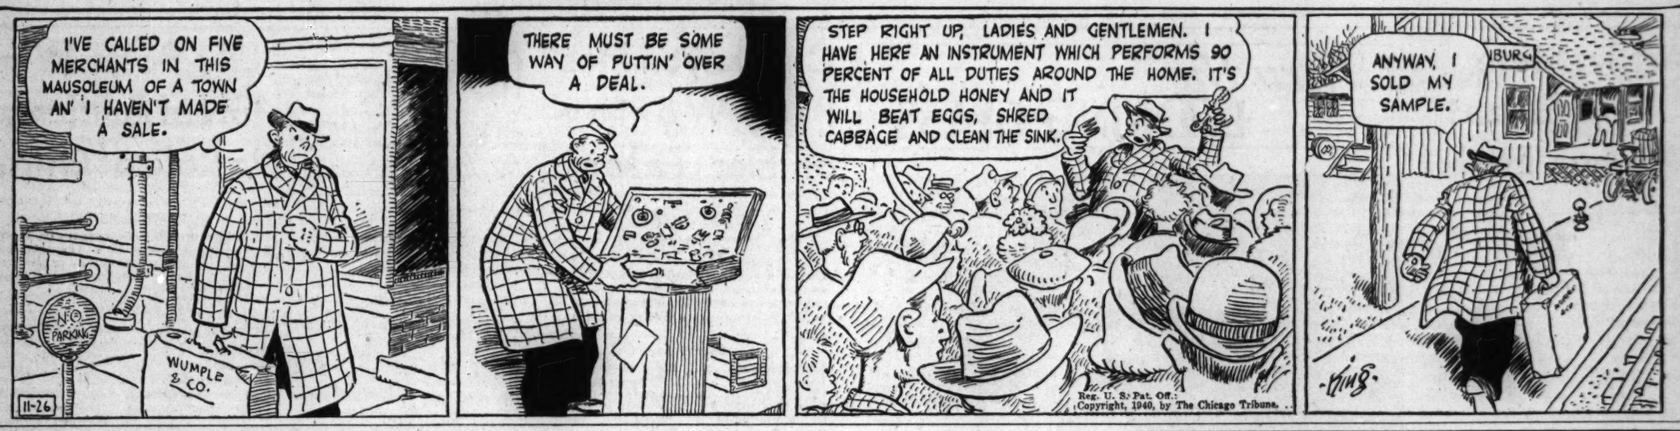
GASOLINE ALLEY—WILMER MARCHES ON



According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1940: By Ely Culbertson.]

Contestants in the recent bridge examination seemed to be more proficient in matters of play than in bidding situations. Their greatest general fault was, as in previous years, a tendency to be too conservative in opening the bidding and in raising partner. The answers to question 17, for example, were distinctly disappointing. This question was:

Neither side vulnerable, the bidding proceeds:

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	?

You are South, and hold:

♠ A K Q 9 5 ♥ 7 5 ♦ 6 5 3 ♣ 7 4 2

What call do you make,

Less than 35 per cent of the answers reaching me had the official answer, one spade. The other 65 per cent were unanimous in passing, their reason undoubtedly being the lack of an outside ace or king. Several disgruntled individuals wrote in, maintaining that I had "violated the principles of my own Gold Book which sets up two and one-half honor tricks with a re-biddable suit as the minimum requirements." The trouble with these players is that they read parts of a book, but overlook other parts entirely. On page 112 of the Gold Book I say:

"In order to get in the first blow, to interfere with the opponents' bidding and to indicate a favorable opening lead against an opposing no trump contract, the third hand player can make a strategic bid on a hand containing one and one-half to two honor tricks and a fairly strong trump suit."

I think no one will deny that the spade suit in question 17 is quite a bit better than "fairly strong." To make matters as easy as possible for the examinees, I made South not vulnerable, but confidentially, I would approve a third hand spade bid even if he were vulnerable. As I have said many times in the past, it is not weak opening bids that lead players to destruction, it is their weak overcalls and unjustified rebids.

Today's Hand

East, dealer.

NORTH.
♠ Q 10 9 4
♦ A 7 6 3
♣ K 6 3

WEST.
♠ None
♥ 10 8 7 2
♦ 9 8 5 2

EAST.
♠ 8 7 3
♥ A Q J 9 3
♦ K Q J 10

SOUTH.
♠ A K J 6 5 2
♥ K 4
♣ A J 10 9

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	2 spades	Pass	4 spades
Pass	5 clubs	Pass	5 diamonds
Pass	6 spades	Pass	Pass
Pass

West opened the deuce of hearts, East winning with the ace. The king of diamonds was returned and dummy won.

Declarer saw that the contract hinged upon the club finesse. Since this could be taken in either direction, he set about obtaining a count of the opponents' hands.

At trick three a diamond was led from dummy and South ruffed with an honor. A low trump was returned to dummy's nine and another diamond was ruffed. A second low trump was taken by dummy's ten and the last diamond was ruffed out.

At this point the declarer had a perfect count on East's hand. From West's failure to follow to the trump leads, East was marked with an original holding of three trumps. From West's opening lead of the deuce of hearts [showing four] East was marked with five hearts. East had shown up with four diamonds and, consequently, could have started with only one club. The last trump therefore was drawn and a low club led to the ace. When East followed with the four, which declarer knew to be his only club, the finesse could be taken thru West with complete assurance.

Good Morning!

What's in a name?

Nothing at all—if the name isn't known. . . . Which brings us to discussion of the World Playhouse's new movie.

It's a French production, made—I judge—back in the days when Paris and Cannes looked—like Paris and Cannes—and it spins the tale of two song and dance men of no importance who decide to let the world know they're alive.

When their act is cut from the revue "Gold and Silver" by the actress producer, Grace Gatwick, François and $nton go into a huddle, emerging with the following scheme:

François is, supposedly, to kill Teddy—after a heated argument over Miss Gatwick—which everybody in their boarding house is to hear. He is—supposedly—to throw a trunk containing Teddy's body into the Thames, be accused, arrested for and convicted of murder and—just at that moment Teddy is to appear out of the everywhere and cry out loudly that a mistake has been made. . . . Result—tons of publicity and success forever after. BUT——

Nobody believes that Verrier is a killer. That is, nobody believes it while Enton is able to fulfill his part of the bargain. When at last the former succeeds in getting himself in the toils of the law—AND how!—Enton, mistaken for a revolutionary general, is in several sorts of durance vile and totally unable to come to François' rescue. . . . At last, however—well—. The audience certainly has fun watching what happened after the "however, well——".

Messers. Chevalier and Buchanan make a fetching team—both having the same sort of flair for comedy that's droll rather than slapstick. I chuckled delightedly over Maurice's efforts to arouse suspicion and, later, over Jack's deft and frantic management of two varieties of head covering. . . . June Knight's pretty smooth, too as a lady who likes her publicity, but knows how to get it without much trouble. . . . Other rôles are brightly handled and Rene Clair again demonstrates that what it takes to direct a good movie, he has.

Universal day—Be practical. A good time to plan menus or think about diet.

December—Those born today, and all the others who are finishing a six-year this year, the month of December brings to a close some things which were part of the past few months, and should bring climaxing of others. You can close this chapter with either a sigh of regret or a smile of satisfaction. This month coming is not a time to start things but to bring them to a culmination. Express love, be generous and forgiving, and relinquish graciously.

Year ahead— seven-year is one which should bring a sort of retreat from too active a participation in the worldly side of life, so don't plan a social program.

Even if you and your family aren't at all fond of fruit cake, here's one you're almost certain to like. It's a light, cakey one, containing large pieces of fruit and whole pecans, and it is easy to make. The recipe came to me from a friend in Maywood who uses it every Christmas and reports that it is a favorite in her neighborhood.

My own family, which usually turns up its collective nose at fruit cake, devoured one whole cake, made from this recipe, within a day after it was baked.

Maywood Fruit Cake.

[About Seven Pounds.]

1 pound mixed fruit, cut in fairly large pieces
½ pound candied cherries
½ pound candied pineapple, sliced
1 pound white raisins
3 cup any kind of wine
1 pound butter
⅝ pound powdered sugar
7 egg yolks
1 pound pecans
4 cups flour [scant]
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
7 egg whites, beaten until stiff

Mix fruits and cover with wine [I used port in making my cakes, but sherry or muscatel would do nicely.] Let fruits stand overnight, or for several hours. Cream butter and sugar together, add egg yolks, and whip until light. Add fruit and nut meats [I used whole, salted pecans] and mix well. Sift flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon and add gradually to mixture. Stir lightly to mix. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and fill greased fruit cake or loaf pans about two-thirds full. Bake in a 250 degree oven for 3 hours.

I misread my handwritten recipe and put only ½ pound of the mixed fruit into the cake, but I was sufficiently fruity, nevertheless. The recipe filled two fruit cake pans, one star-shaped aluminum mold [this will be the Christmas cake] and one bread loaf pan.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Nov. 25.—This town's cowboys and hillbillies—and the woods are full of 'em—have decided that they, too, must do something for British war relief. Under the leadership of Republic's Roy Rogers, they have worked up a three hour radio program which will be broadcast from 9 to midnight Dec. 14. The program will go on local networks, will be shortwaved to England and Australia, and will be transcribed for use on other stations across the country.

It will be mainly an appeal to young western fans and listeners will be asked to contribute all the silver money they happen to have at the time of the broadcast. Rogers is trying to clear the Lone Ranger's yawp so the slogan will be, "Heigh-Yo, Silver—Come in!"

Two good local stunts are being prepared. Any one giving $25 or more may have the money picked up by a cowboy on a horse. And there will be wild west holdups in three night clubs, with the robbers taking whatever the victims want to give for the care of British children.

From a publicity release: "Olivia De Havilland, who spent last Christmas ill and alone, is planning an old-fashioned holiday week for friends, who, like herself, have spent lonely Christmases in Hollywood.

"The party consists of Jimmy Stewart; Olivia's sister, Joan Fontaine, and her husband, Brian Aherne; Geraldine Fitzgerald, and her husband, Edward Lindsay-Hogg, and Burgess Meredith."

Lonely, do they say? Ah, me!

Speaking of Christmas, Michigan's Tom Harmon will come here to spend the holidays with 20th Century-Fox's Marjorie Weaver—and to consider some screen offers. . . . A 13 year old British lass, Virginia McDowall will have a rôle in "How Green Was My Valley." . . . Leonid Kinsky, whose comic gigolo rôle in "Down Argentine Way" might not have pleased Argentinians, pleased American customers enough to warrant his being hired for Zanuck's next South American fling, "Road to Rio." . . . Bette Davis has a South Carolina drawl in "Far Horizon"—but not too fruity a one. . . . Add unusual props: For the Welsh mining picture, "How Green, etc.," Fox bought ten carloads of slag from a mine in Bisbee, Ariz., and had it transported to a location hillside near Hollywood. First time Bisbee ever had a customer for its mountains of waste. . . . James Cagney is giving his 60 foot schooner, Martha, one more chance. If it makes him seasick again he will put it in dry dock and stick to horse raising.

Pretty for All Occasions

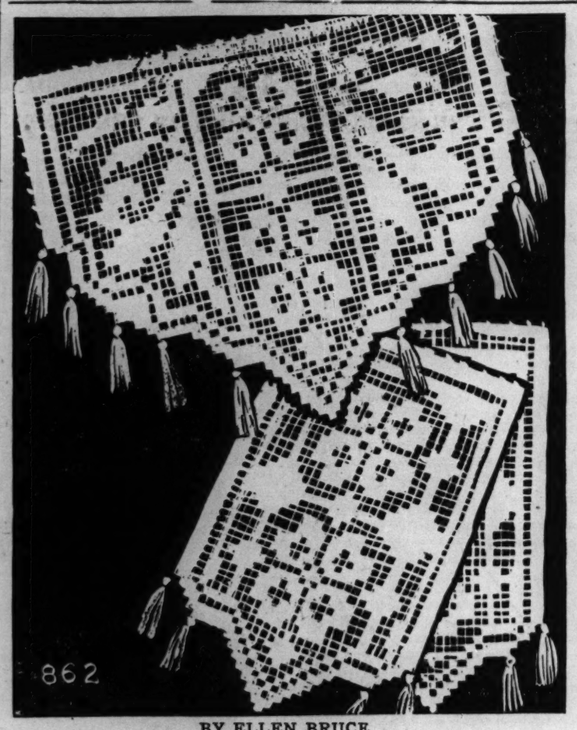
WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

The utter simplicity of this dress makes it handsome and practical for all occasions. Because it has no collar, its neckline is an ideal foil for clips and other costume jewelry. The self-fabric belt may be adorned with a distinctive buckle, if you like. All types of silks and sheer woolen, as well, make up well.

Style No. 2536 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48 inch bust measurements. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 39 inch material for dress with three-quarter length sleeves; 2⅞ yards of 54 inch fabric for long-sleeved version.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Crocheted Chair Sets



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

Crocheted chair sets, decorated with cord tassels, afford an attractive and serviceable bit of needlework for one's favorite chair. The pattern includes a simple chart to follow in making the set, and full directions for creating the tassels also are included.

For instructions in crocheting the tassel chair set, No. 862, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mauro of South Ashland avenue announce the marriage on Nov. 24 of their daughter, Celia, to Dr. John Gregorio, son of Mrs. Fulomena Gregorio of West Lexington street. The marriage took place in the Lady Pompeii church and was followed by a reception and dinner at the Hotel Knickerbocker. Dr. Gregorio and his bride have motored to Miami, Fla., for their wedding trip.

Everybody Out for Lily Pons Night at Opera

BY JUDITH CASS.

Even if armed with a wedge of silver plate, platinum or corrugated iron, you could not have pried your way into the Chicago Opera house last night. You couldn't even buy your way in after 4 p. m.

It was Lily Pons' night. It also was the night of ermine, camellias, Christmas holly, chinchilla, sables, business suits, top hats, military braid and polished brass. It was the night of long bobs around young faces, of scarves around gray heads, of worn sack suits on ardent music lovers. It was, in brief, a full house night with every one there, and eagerly so, from the pillars of Astor street to the pilgrims of the west side.

The boxes glittered. Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine, patrician in burgundy velvet rather than her customary black, had as her guests Mrs. John Crerar, also in burgundy velvet, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Sudler, Miss Helen Gilbert, and Russell Tyson. Sir Evelyn and Lady Wrench, in town for the English Speaking union reception today, were detained at the last moment.

Young Mrs. Bartle Bull, in wine crêpe with a brilliant green jacket heavily embroidered in gold, had as guests in the box of her mother, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mrs. Ernest A. Hamill, very Velasquez in burgundy velvet and taffeta, and Mr. Hamill, Mr. and Mrs. James Heyworth, and Sydney Heap.

Nearby Col. Maurice McGrath's party included Mrs. Hayden B. Harris, resplendent in rose-shot lamé, young Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cutter and Mrs. Sydney Lee of Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. James G. McMillan, Mrs. McMillan in black tulle horizontally striped with silver, had in their box Dr. and Mrs. Louis Hoffman, Dr. W. A. Hendricks, and Miss Claire McIntyre.

Robert Hall McCormick's box on the upper tier was formidably musical. It included Maestro Italo Montemezzi, who conducted his "L'Amore Dei Tre Re" Saturday night, and Mme. Montemezzi; Mme. Rosa Raisa, Miss Anna Fitzu, and Count de Noue.

Mrs. Lloyd Montgomery had as her guests in Mrs. Ernest S. Graham's box Mrs. Frances Carter and her daughter, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gore and Stanley Banyon.

Mrs. George Rasmussen, in blue velvet and ermine, was hostess to Mrs. O. M. Tevander, Mrs. Carl Hansen, Mr. and Mrs. George Albert Eddy, and Peter B. Nelson.

A galaxy of others came in singly, in small groups, or late. Mrs. Edward A. Leight, wearing silver striped blue tulle, entered alone, wearing an ermine collared black velvet wrap and carrying a short white fox cape. Mrs. Henry Platt Sr., regal in a black cape embroidered in silver, led the way for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Henry Platt Jr., in tasselled black; and Mrs. Theodore Chase of Boston. Young, brunette Mrs. John Clarke, fresh from her honeymoon, was lovely in black velvet and sables.

Incidentally, two women fainted during the evening. An official of the opera hazarded the hope that it probably was from ecstasy.

Community Fund Is Within Half Million Dollars of Its Goal

The Community fund drive is within half a million dollars of its goal. This season $3,604,000 is needed to finance the 185 charitable and social agencies supported by the fund. Merle J. Trees, campaign chairman, yesterday urged his 50,000 volunteer workers to wind up the drive by the end of the month.

Employés of the International Harvester company headed yesterday's list of contributors with a gift of $28,541. Previously the company had subscribed $50,000.

Among other donations listed were $3,000 from the Interlake Iron corporation, $2,900 from the Chicago Screw company and its employés, and $1,000 from the Phillips Petroleum company.

T. Crane is arranging the tea table. Sir Evelyn and Lady Wrench are staying at the Drake

With the British War relief and the Allied War relief now combined, Chicagoans are starting to organize a woman's board to coördinate the activities of all British war relief work in Chicago. Mrs. John Alden Carpenter, who headed the woman's board of the British War relief, has invited a committee to meet at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at 30 North Michigan avenue to discuss plans for a nation-wide project.

The girls and boys who belong to the Dinner-Dance club are making their next party a British War Relief affair and each young person will take with him to the party a bundle of old, but clean and warm, clothing. The dance will be given at the Saddle and Cycle on Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bernays, who have a teen age son, Peter, will be among the hosts that night.

Giving Cocktail Party for Miss Theodosia Smith.

Blake Blair is giving a cocktail party today from 5 to 7 o'clock at his apartment in the Pearson hotel for Miss Theodosia Smith of Pasadena, formerly of Chicago. Miss Smith arrived last Thursday and has been visiting her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Calhoun Smith, in Lake Forest. Today, however, she is moving in to the Pearson to be there for 10 days before joining Miss Alice Marble in Philadelphia.

After two weeks in the east, Miss Smith will return to Chicago to have Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Smith and the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Litsinger. Miss Smith plans to remain in Chicago for several months after Christmas in order to take a course in housekeeping at the School of Domestic Arts and Science.

Christmas presents, linens, and toys will be on sale at the Hull House shop Christmas sale to be held today in the home of Mrs. John Andrews King of Lake Forest from 10 to 6 o'clock.

★ Your Stars Today ★

By WYNN

Tuesday, Nov. 26.

Today's vibrations accent the ragged edges, the oppositions, and the need for coöperation among men and women of good faith. See the mutual needs of the situation; be ready to do your share; postpone the hasty word, the careless act.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead [from anniversary today] is active and creative, with need for full self-expression. Equals, partners, may bring gain, but also need your help—be coöperative. Danger: Dec. 29-Jan. 12; May 15-23.

Tomorrow.

Better in the smaller things; but don't go off any deep ends.

Do you want an individual interpretation for your own personal date? Send 10c for your 1941 horoscope (or 5c for balance of 1940 horoscope—15c for both) to WYNN, Tribune Astrologer, 286 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, date of birth, and address.

ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. Leslie R. Stafford of Fulton street announces the engagement of her daughter, Marjorie Ruth, to Raymond R. Olson of Oak Park, son of Mrs. Raymond Roy Olson of Urbana, Ill. The wedding will take place on Jan. 11. Mr. Olson attended the University of Illinois.

Field Museum Lecture.

CHARLEY GRIMM RETURNS TO BASEBALL AS CUB COACH

OLD MANAGER QUITS RADIO TO ASSIST WILSON

Reappoint Lotshaw Trainer.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Charley Grimm, Der Kaptin, as he terms himself, is returning to baseball thru the same door by which he made his exit July 21, 1938. On that date he went out the door, leaving behind the Cubs' managerial toga which was promptly donned by Gabby Hartnett, recently relieved of his duties by President-Owner P. K. Wrigley.

Grimm is returning to his former employers in the rôle of a coach to assist Jimmy Wilson, the new Cub manager.

Announcement of the Grimm recall was made yesterday by General Manager James Gallagher after Wilson, who is in Philadelphia, had made tentative arrangements in a long distance talk with Der Kaptin. Grimm is making sausage on his Missouri farm.

Dissolve Radio Contract.

Always anxious to get back into baseball in which he spent almost 23 seasons, Grimm gave the go-ahead sign to Manager Wilson as soon as the proposition was offered. It first was necessary to dissolve a radio contract covering Grimm's services for next season.

Officials of radio stations for which Grimm has broadcast baseball since his retirement from the game, yesterday consented to tear up the document. The formal signing of Grimm will take place shortly.

Grimm's place of business next season will be in the first base coaching box, but his duties will not be confined to that spot. He knows enough about baseball to take good care of those chores, but Wilson's prime reason for wanting Grimm was his off-the-field value. The Dutchman's keen sense of humor should help to relieve the pressure on the athletes when they get into the dumps, so frequently caused by batting slumps or the loss of tough games.

Breaks in with A's.

Grimm played his first big league baseball with the Athletics in 1916. He had a habit of working out at the St. Louis park and was spotted there one day by Connie Mack. He was with Durham in 1917, going from there to the St. Louis Cardinals, who shuttled him to Little Rock where he remained until the Pirates bought him in 1919. He played only 14 games at first base for the Pirates that year, but the next season became a regular, playing more than 100 games for 14 consecutive seasons.

Grimm became a Cub along with Rabbit Maranville and Wilbur Cooper in November of 1924. In the deal the Cubs sent George Grantham, Vic Aldridge and a rookie named Niehaus to the Pirates. Grimm turned over the first basing to Phil Cavarretta in 1935, playing only two games. In 1936, his last season of action, he was back on first, but only for 39 games. He was forced to the bench by a back ailment. He became manager on Aug. 3, 1932, succeeding Rogers Hornsby. Under his guidance the Cubs won pennants in 1932 and 1935.

Lotshaw Signs Again.

The Cubs' office also revealed yesterday that waivers on Hartnett's services had been cleared. There were no claimants, leaving Gabby, who is on a hunting trip, free to negotiate for a baseball job.

Another Cub announcement had to do with Dr. Andrew David Lotshaw, trainer for the last 18 years. Lotshaw has been engaged for another season. Dr. Rudolph Lind, who served as Lotshaw's assistant last year, will not return.

WILLIAM ALFS, PRESIDENT OF LIONS, RESIGNS

Detroit, Mich. Nov. 25 (AP).—Resignation of William Alfs as president of the Detroit Lions of the National Football league, was announced today by Fred L. Mandel Jr., owner of the club. Mandel said he would assume the presidency of the team which he purchased last spring. Alfs, a Detroit attorney, said the pressure of other business made it impossible for him to devote sufficient time to the operation of the Lions.

MOON MULLINS—BLACK OUT

OH, DEAR ME! IF JUDGE VAN TWERP WAS ONLY HOME.
TUT, TUT! WHY MY DEAR MRS. VAN TWERP, YOU HAVE NOTHING TO FEAR. I DON'T MIND REMAINING HERE UNTIL YOUR HUSBAND RETURNS.
AND ANYHOW, HONEY, THAT WAS PROBABLY ONLY WILLIE'S SHADOW THAT CHASED HIM INTO THE HOUSE. HE ALWAYS IS THINKING HE'S SEEING SOMETHING.
OH, YEAH—WELL, I KNOW MY OWN SHADOW, SWEETHEART, AND IT'D NEVER USE LANGUAGE LIKE THAT IF I TOOK A SOCK AT IT WITH MY STICK.
WILLIE, WAKE UP! I THINK I HEAR SOMEBODY DOWN STAIRS.
AW, GO TO SLEEP, PET. YOU'RE ALWAYS THINKING YOU'RE HEARING SOMETHING.

FENGER NAMED TO PLAY LEO IN ALL-CITY GAME

Selected Over Lindblom on Basis of Record.

BY JAMES SEGRETI.

In just about the same time it required Fenger's football team to get a touchdown—before it encountered Lindblom last Saturday—five members of the Public School league's football committee yesterday selected the 1939 champions to meet Leo, Catholic league winner, Saturday afternoon in Soldiers' field for the annual all-city prep title under the sponsorship of Chicago's Own Christmas Benefit fund.

The method of Fenger's selection remained as dark a secret as the hocus-pocus plays Leo's squad has concocted for the Public School league representatives. The usual procedure in deciding ties is the tossing of a coin. There were reports that a sound coin was not immediately available, and that Fenger's appointment was based on its record of 36 games without defeat and its huge edge in the statistics against Lindblom, altho the game ended in a scoreless tie.

Lindblom Makes a Case.

There were many Lindblom supporters who believed the squad deserved consideration because of its brilliant showing against Fenger. It halted the champions after they had marched to 11 consecutive victories while scoring at least five touchdowns in each game to roll up the state's record of 464 points. Lindblom, too, was unbeaten in league competition, altho it was turned back early in the season, 19 to 6, by St. Rita.

E. Lansford Moore, Lindblom coach, last night said that he and the school have no complaint to offer at Fenger's selection, but added he thought the tossing of a coin would have been more appropriate.

The five men who made the decision in the board of education offices yesterday morning were Ernest Wills, Marshall; Floyd Brown, Crane Tech; Ben Mosby, Du Sable; Edward Dow, Senn, and Robert Antonides, Morgan Park. Charles [Chuck] Palmer, Fenger's coach, is a regular member of the football committee, but his place on the board was taken by Antonides.

Lindblom Gets Title Share.

The five members of the committee and A. H. Pritzlaff, director of physical education, scattered shortly after the announcement was made and the only official statement available was that Lindblom and Fenger would be designated as co-champions of the Public School league and they will share equally in the prize awards from the interleague charity game.

Officials of the benefit fund crossed their fingers during Sunday's Catholic league battle between Leo and De Paul, but the steady toe of Henry [Babe] Baranowski did not fail as he kicked the point after touchdown in the fourth quarter, bringing Leo a 7 to 6 victory and its fourth title since 1934. It will be Leo's fourth appearance in the charity contest. The Lions lost to Lindblom, 6 to 0, in 1934, and again to the same school, 6 to 0, a year later. Three years ago the Lions were routed by Bill De Correvont and Austin, 26 to 0.

Predicts 80,000 Crowd.

Heavy sales were reported yesterday and Barnet Hodes, city corporation counsel and secretary of the benefit fund, said 80,000 would see the game and perhaps 100,000 if the weatherman turns in an ideal afternoon. More than 65,000 tickets already have been sold and remaining seats are available at all public and Catholic schools and in the benefit fund offices, 33 North La Salle street.

Mayor Kelly and Hodes last night spoke before coaches of the Catholic and Public School leagues at a dinner party in the Blackstone hotel. In addition to the prep coaches, the guests included Kenneth L. Wilson and Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern university; Jack Elder of the Catholic Youth organization, and Msgr. Daniel F. Cunningham, superintendent of Catholic schools.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

THE longest field goal in the 51 year football history of the University of Missouri was a 52 yard effort by Paul Shepard in the 1912 game with Kansas. . . . Jack Griffith, retiring captain of the Beloit college football team, will serve as trainer for the varsity basketball squad this winter. . . . Ted Williams is a name to conjure with in Boston. . . . In addition to the Red Sox's long range slugger there is a star half back of the same name on the Boston college football team. . . . Since Jimmy Crowley was named head coach in 1933 Fordham elevens have held opponents to an average of less than six points a game. . . . Phil Rizzuto, star infielder for the Kansas City Blues, who is expected to displace Frankie Crosetti in the 1941 Yankee lineup, is the son of a dock worker in New York City. . . . The Allentown baseball club of the Interstate league is attempting to liquidate its indebtedness with a series of winter card parties. . . . The Zuppke family seems to be having more than a normal allotment of hard luck. . . . Paul Zuppke, nephew of the Illinois coach, is in McKinley hospital in Champaign as the result of a kidney injury suffered in a touch football game. . . . He is a sophomore at the university. . . . Young Bob, Paul's brother, who won two letters with the Illini, did not return for the 1939-'40 school year, also because of injuries. . . . A book titled "Wings on My Feet," written by Sonja Henie, has just left the presses. . . . If Michigan State never sees Bob Kemnitz again it will be soon enough. . . . The Marquette guard beat State, 17 to 14, last fall with a place kick and gave the Hilltoppers the winning margin in a 7 to 6 decision this year with a point after touchdown. . . . Lynn Waldorf and Bert Ingwersen of Northwestern left last night for Texas where they will see Texas A. & M. play Texas Thursday. . . .

Walter Halas Jr., son of the Drexel college coach and nephew of George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, has starred at quarter back for his father's team this fall. . . . He tossed passes for both touchdowns in Drexel's 12 to 8 victory over Ursinus. . . . Charley Anastasio, Louisiana State right half back, suffered a broken leg in the third quarter of the game with Auburn, but refused to leave the bench until the game was over. . . . Then an ambulance was called to take him to the hospital. . . . Lou Gehrig received $361,500 for his 15 years' service with the Yankees. . . . Boston has produced two heavyweight champions—John L. Sullivan and Jack Sharkey—but it never has been the scene of a heavyweight title battle. . . . For that reason, if for no other, it deserves a better break than that Joe Louis-Al McCoy mismatch scheduled for Dec. 16. . . . Carl Snavely, Cornell coach, played pro baseball in the old New York-Penn league. . . . When better backs are developed, Illinois will have to face them on Saturday afternoons. . . . The list this fall included Peoples of Southern California, Harmon of Michigan, Juzwik of Notre Dame, Paskvan of Wisconsin, Hahnenstein of Northwestern, Scott and Langhurst of Ohio State, and Green of Iowa. . . . An Illinois all-opponents' team should make interesting reading. . . . The Harlem Globetrotters basketball team, which meets an all-college quintet in Chicago Stadium Friday night, has won 1,868 games while losing 131 for a percentage of .939 in the last 13 seasons.

STEVE MAMAKOS SCORES DECISION OVER MILT ARON

Marquart, Franklin Win by Knockouts.

Fight Decisions

At Philadelphia, Pa.—Sammy Angott beat Bob Montgomery [10].

At New York—Aldo Spoldi knocked out Irving Eldridge [1]; Everett Rightmire beat Charley Varre [8]; Joey Fontana beat Sal Bartolo [8]; George Zengaras beat Freddie Martin [8]; Primo Flores beat Al Moffett [8].

Steve Mamakos, rugged Washington, D. C. welterweight, handed Milt Aron a severe beating in a return bout of 10 rounds in the Coliseum last night. With the exception of the second round, which the lanky Chicago boxer won by deft use of rights to the jaw, Mamakos piled up points with his aggressive, two handed offensive to the head and body.

Despite the apparent one sidedness of the contest [the decision of Referee Tommy Thomas and Judges Ed Hintz and Harold Marovitz was unanimous] the constant threat of Aron's right, the wallop which knocked out Fritzie Zivic a year ago, kept the crowd tense.

Aron, who held Mamakos to a draw decision last Sept. 9, was unable to solve the powerful Greek's unorthodox style. He thereby lost a chance for an overweight match with Fritzie Zivic, welterweight champion.

Aron Launches Rally.

After catching a left hook to the chin which staggered him in the first round, Aron rallied in the next to even the score. In the third Mamakos landed a series of lefts which opened an old cut over his opponent's right eye and in the fourth he used his right to reopen a cut over Aron's left eye. As the lanky Chicago fighter bounded in to retaliate he was met with a left hook to the jaw which dropped him to his knees for no count.

Mamakos continued his swarming tactics in the fifth. He walked into a right to the face, but instead of slowing him down the punch only served to inspire him. He bounced lefts and rights off Aron's chin until the latter was forced to hold on. Aron fought back hard in the last five rounds. His courage and stamina saved him from a possible knockout.

Mamakos weighed 156 pounds, his weight being closer to the middleweight division. As a result, he will seek a bout with Tony Zale, national boxing association 160 pound titleholder, in his next appearance. Aron was at 153. The fight topped the first major show of the indoor season.

Castiglione Beats Tygh.

Billy Marquart, Winnipeg, Man., 138 pounder, scored a one round knockout over Pat Foley of Boston in the semi-final listed for 10 rounds. A left hook to the jaw sent Foley to the canvas for the count after 2:58 of the round had elapsed. The victory was the fourth in a row for Marquart, previous victims having been Nick Castiglione, Johnny Pleasant, and Aldo Spoldi.

Castiglione, west side lightweight, turned in the best performance of his career last night by beating Jimmy Tygh of Philadelphia in a 10 round event. The boys repeatedly traded blow for blow without letup while the 5,737 spectators cheered. It was Tygh's first setback in 11 starts this year.

Lem Franklin, hard hitting heavyweight from Cleveland, knocked out Eddie Blunt, of Corona, L. I., in the fifth round of the opener, scheduled for 10 rounds.

Angott Beats Montgomery in Close 10 Round Battle

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP).—Sammy Angott, National Boxing association lightweight champion from Washington, Pa., won a 10 round decision over Bob Montgomery of Philadelphia, in a hard fought bout here tonight. Angott weighed 137¾ pounds, Montgomery, 138¾.

Silver Skates Derbies Set for Jan. 18-19

The 24th Silver Skates Derbies annually sponsored by the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., will be held Jan. 18 and 19, in Garfield park. These dates were announced last night by Peter Miller, president of the Illinois Skating association, at a meeting in the Midwest Athletic club. Application will be made immediately to the Chicago park district for a permit.

Nearly all of the skating clubs in Chicago and suburban territory were represented at last night's meeting when plans for the season were explained by Miller and details of the association's annual dance were announced by Herb Knudten, chairman of the ticket committee. The dance, which is principal source of revenue for the Illinois Skating association, will be held Dec. 14 in the Logan Square Masonic hall.

Season Opens Dec. 29.

The first outdoor event of the skating season is planned for Dec. 29. This will be the Catholic Youth organization Derby in Garfield park. The Northwest Skating club will hold the city championships in Humboldt park on New Year's day and the state championships are assigned to the Glen Ellyn A. A., Glen Ellyn, Ill., Jan. 5.

In the event that the Silver Skates Derbies can not be held on Jan. 18 and 19, and the following week-end conflicts with the national or midwestern dates, the Silver Skates races will be held at the first opportunity during the week. The complete schedule follows:

Dec. 29—C. Y. O. Derby, Garfield park.
Jan. 1—Northwest Skating club's city championship, Humboldt park.
Jan. 2—Catholic Order of Foresters Derby, Garfield park.
Jan. 5—State championship, Glen Ellyn, Ill.
Jan. 12—Tri-state races, Elgin, Ill.
Jan. 15—Barrett A. C., Western open.
Jan. 18 and 19—Silver Skates Derbies, Garfield park.
Jan. 26—Tilden Skating club Derby, Jackson park.
Feb. 2—Rand A. C. Derby, Rand stadium.
Feb. 12—Illinois Skating association Derby, Humboldt park.

Assign Permanent Numbers.

Permanent racing numbers for all registered skaters have been adopted by the Illinois association. Entry fees also have been waived for all events sanctioned by the association with the aim to encouraged competition by young skaters. Registration fees, however, will be required. The budget of the association for operating expense is more than $900.

Hope Dwindles for Big Nine Vote to Play in Bowl

Western conference participation in a Rose Bowl pact with the Pacific coast conference apparently has been doomed to failure, it was indicated last night with announcement in Lafayette, Ind., that the Purdue university faculty had voted against the proposal.

Wisconsin, Northwestern and Minnesota, whose team could be the first to go if the Pacific coast conference's invitation were accepted at the December meeting, have voted against post season games.

Indiana, Illinois and Ohio State have not decided how they will vote in the conference meeting Dec. 6 and 7 and Michigan authorities were not available for comment last night. Iowa's representative has been instructed to vote to send the conference champion to the Rose Bowl each year and Chicago, which abandoned football last winter, will not participate in the balloting, altho the Maroons still have the right to vote.

GIANTS PURCHASE JOE ORENGO TO BOLSTER INFIELD

New York, Nov. 25 (AP).—The New York Giants took steps to strengthen their infield today when they purchased Joe Orengo from the St. Louis Cardinals for cash and two players to be named.

Orengo, who hit .287 in 129 games last season, was pretty much of a utility infielder with the Cards last season after coming up from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league. He played 77 games at second, 34 at short stop, and 18 at third base. The Cards first brought him up in 1939.

The Giants did not indicate whether he would be placed at second or third. Burgess Whitehead came back last season to play a bang-up game at second, but showed he also was a polished third baseman when injuries forced Manager Bill Terry to rearrange his infield.

ORDERS EAGLES AND STEELERS TO PLAY THURSDAY

Dayton, O., Nov. 25 (AP).—Carl Storck, president of the National Football league, announced tonight that the Philadelphia-Pittsburgh game, rained out yesterday, would be played in Philadelphia Thursday.

Storck had said earlier that the game would be delayed until after the Philadelphia-Washington game Sunday.

BLOCKING BACK WINS HONOR BY WIDE MARGIN

Becomes Candidate for Tribune Trophy.

Previous Winners

WINNERS of The Chicago Tribune silver football trophy, given the player voted most valuable in the Western conference, since the establishment of the award in 1924 follow:

1939—Nile Kinnick, Iowa.
1938—Howard Weiss, Wisconsin.
1937—Corby Davis, Indiana.
1936—Vernon Huffman, Indiana.
1935—Jay Berwanger, Chicago.
1934—Pug Lund, Minnesota.
1933—Joe Laws, Iowa.
1932—Harry Newman, Michigan.
1931—Clarence Munn, Minnesota.
1930—Wesley Fesler, Ohio State.
1929—Bill Glassgow, Iowa.
1928—Chuck Bennett, Indiana.
1927—Ken Rouse, Chicago.
1926—Benny Friedman, Michigan.
1925—Tim Lowry, Northwestern.
1924—Red Grange, Illinois.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 25 [Special].—Bobby Paffrath is the University of Minnesota's nominee for The Chicago Tribune's most valuable player award.

Robert Paffrath.

The Redwood Falls, Minn., player was named by his teammates at a special election tonight. Scattered votes were given Bruce Smith, brilliant triple threat left half back; Joe Mernik, Smith's alternate, famous for his kicking exploits; Capt. Bob Bjorklund and George Franck. Paffrath, however, won the honor by a wide margin.

Unsung Hero Honored.

Paffrath is a blocking back, It is the blocking back who carries the load, who leads the plays on which others win the headlines. Thus his nomination was a case of an unsung hero receiving Minnesota's highest football accolade.

Paffrath has been the Gophers' most valuable player in every sense this season, climaxing his three year collegiate career with his finest performances. On occasions he played both half back positions and could have operated at full back had the Western conference champions not had such stars as Bob Sweiger and Bill Daly.

Paffrath is short as football players go, standing only 5 feet 9 inches in height, but there are almost 200 pounds on his well knit frame, and all that weight was needed to carry the punishing burden borne by a blocking back.

Carries Ball Only Once.

On only one occasion did Paffrath carry the ball, even tho he was rated one of the fastest men on the Minnesota roster. Coach Bernie Bierman, searching for a blocking back, took Paffrath from right half and assigned him to blocking duties. Never was there a complaint from Paffrath—he was the symbol of a team that sacrificed individual glory for the collective good of the squad.

Paffrath was an all-around star at Redwood Falls High school. He came to Minnesota with a reputation for offensive maneuvers and speed. In a summary of his career, however, it was his defensive play that brought him commendation.

Intercepts Michigan Pass.

Many critics have called him the best defensive back in the Western conference. It was his interception of a Michigan pass over the goal line that stopped one of the Wolverines' numerous bids for a score that would have won the game. He was surprisingly effective for a short man on pass defense when at a distinct physical disadvantage. On several other occasions he made key tackles that shut off opposition rallies.

Football is Paffrath's only sport at Minnesota altho he was a basketball player in high school and competed in track and baseball as well. He is undecided whether to pursue coaching or go into another profession.

ARMY STAR, ILL, GIVEN GAME BALL BY IRISH PLAYERS

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 25 (AP).—Notre Dame's football team today presented to Harry Heffner, ailing Cadet back, the ball used in the Irish's hard earned victory over the Army in New York, Nov. 2.

Milt Piepul, Notre Dame captain, inscribed on the ball this notation: "Morally, it's yours." Notre Dame won only 7 to 0 after being expected to roll up a big score.

Every Notre Dame player autographed the ball and requested Bill Gillis, Army captain, to forward it to Heffner at the Army and Navy General hospital in Hot Springs, Ark.

IT STILL LOOKS LIKE REDSKINS, BEARS FOR TITLE

Each Rates to Beat Final Divisional Foes.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

History is well on the way today toward doing a little repeating. Week-end activities in the National Football league had little effect on probabilities in the division races, both of which will be decided on the final day of the season, Sunday, even tho the defeat of Washington and victories by the Bears and Green Bay preserved the possibilities the Packers and Brooklyn have been clinging to for several weeks.

Come nightfall next Sunday the Bears and Redskins, barring a miracle or two, will be duly qualified to meet in Washington on Dec. 8 for the world championship and the assignment in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S 1941 All-Star game.

First for Either Since 1937.

It will be the first time since 1937 that either has captured a division championship or appeared in the league playoff and it will have a special meaning to the Bears, many of whom still get a little surly at mention of that 1937 title contest in Wrigley field. The Redskins won, 28 to 21, over a sheet of ice when Sammy Baugh, Cliff Battles, and Wayne Millner proved better skaters than Bronko Nagurski, Jack Manders, and associated Bears.

The Bears, enjoying one of their periodic flights into offensive heights, gave one of the finest passing demonstrations in their history in defeating Cleveland, 47 to 25, Sunday. It was all the more encouraging because the headmen among the Bears' aerial corps were given a well earned rest.

Masterson Is Accurate.

Bernie Masterson, coming out of virtual retirement as far as actual competition is concerned, directed the attack expertly and hit receivers with exceptional accuracy. Nothing seemed to bother the husky veteran Sunday. Stan Anderson, a rookie tackle, nearly decapitated him on one play, jerking off his headgear and spinning him around. But Masterson recovered his poise, stood up above a posse of Ram linemen and started the most spectacular of the 10 scoring plays. This was the one on which Hampton Pool made a circus catch, then lateraled to Bob Nowaskey. The play covered fifty-four yards and produced the Bears' fifth touchdown.

Other Bears who did more than an ordinary day's work were Jack Manders, the elderly citizen from Minnesota, who was a star in the National league when most of his opponents and teammates were scaling fences to see the big boys play; Pool, big Ed Kolman, Jack Torrance, and Bill Osmanski.

Kolman Plays Well.

Kolman, switched back to left tackle, where he played three years while starring for Temple, did a workmanlike job of filling in for Joe Stydahar. Stydahar spent the entire afternoon on the bench, the first complete rest he has had this year, preparing himself for the Cardinal game Sunday and the playoff.

The Cardinals came home last night, still shaking their heads over Ace Parker, a one man gang from Flatbush who for the second time in a week had made a personal issue out of rallying Brooklyn to victory. The score of this game was 14 to 9. At one time the Cardinals led, 9 to 0.

BIRK'S BOWLERS WIN THREE; TAKE NORTH END LEAD

The Birk's Trophy Beers took the lead in the North End Traveling league last night, sweeping their three game series with the Curtiss Jolly Jacks, while Chapin & Gore dropped three to the Schamberger Schlitz. The Birks and the C. & G. started the night's bowling in a tie for first place. The Schambergers and Fox De Luxe moved within three games of C. & G., five games from the top. Scores:

GILLS SCORE 1,148 GAME.

The Joseph Gills set a season's record for high game in the Windy City league last night, bowling 1,148 and scoring 3,106 for high series of the evening. The Budweisers retained a three game lead over the Furman Funerals, with the Gills four games from the top.

Jerry Peck of the Nonebetters rolled high individual series of 658 with games of 179, 223, and 256. Joe Fliger of the Mineralites and Adolph Carlson of the Gills each totaled 647. Scores:

SEMI-FINALS IN C. Y. O. TOURNEY TO END TONIGHT

32 Survivors Meet for Titles Dec. 4.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

The last of the finalists in the 10th annual Catholic Youth organization amateur boxing tournament will be chosen in the second of a series of semifinal bouts in C. Y. O. center, 31 East Congress street, tonight. Finals will be held in the Coliseum Dec. 4 among 32 survivors, 16 in each of the open and novice classes.

Sixteen of these qualifiers—eight in each division—were determined last night after competition among flyweights, featherweights, welterweights, and light heavyweights in the open ranks and after battling among bantamweights, lightweights, middleweights, and heavyweights in the novice bracket.

Beginners Fight Tonight.

Tonight open bantamweights, lightweights, middleweights, and heavyweights will see action, as well as novice flyweights, featherweights, welterweights, and light heavyweights. Also on this evening's program will be eight contests involving boys in the beginners class. These 16 lads qualified during last night's fighting for the championships in this division, which was originated this year.

Thus there will be a total of 22 matches tonight, six between open fighters, eight between novices, and eight between beginners.

Qualify for Beginner Finals.

Qualifiers for the beginners' finals last night were:

118 pounds—Clyde Wilmoth, St. Anthony, and Edward Kudia, St. Bruno.

160 pounds—Don Worth, St. Patrick's, Joliet, and Walter Paritaus, St. Margaret.

175 pounds—Hiner Thomas, Corpus Christi, and Joe O'Connell, St. Nicholas.

The following are other finalists decided last night:

Open.

112 pounds—Al Noto, St. Angela, and Harold Dade, Corpus Christi.

126 pounds—Eddie Miller, Corpus Christi, and Tony Bausone, St. Mels.

147 pounds—Harry Sparrow, SS. Peter and Paul, and Louis Bobek, Sacred Heart.

175 pounds—Hiner Thomas, Corpus Christi, and Joe O'Connell, St. Nicholas.

Novice.

Heavyweight—John Eames, St. Sylvester, and Valley Coleman, Corpus Christi.

118 pounds—Mike Friar, St. Louis, and Pat Clangi, Our Lady of Pompeii.

135 pounds—Dennis O'Keefe, St. Kevin, and Robert Cooper, St. Mary's.

160 pounds—Jerry Cohan, Holy Name, and James Patterson, St. Theodore.

IZAAK WALTON LEAGUE OPPOSES STEWART BILL

The Izaak Walton League of America, in a letter sent yesterday to Senator Alva B. Adams [D., Colo.], chairman of the committee on public lands and surveys, protested enactment of the bill which would transfer to the war or navy departments national park lands for use in the national defense program.

The Walton league statement said the senate bill, as drafted and introduced by Senator Tom Stewart [D., Tenn.], would bestow on the President blanket authority to transfer national forest and national park lands during "effectiveness of the selective training service act of 1940." A companion house bill has been introduced by Representative Estes Kefauver [D., Tenn.].

"We certainly do not propose to obstruct legitimate defense measures," said Kenneth A. Reid, executive secretary of the Walton league, "but we do question the wisdom of including national parks in the purpose of the bills.

"If such a bill is passed," Reid said, "it will establish a dangerous precedent for those who wish to raid the national parks for selfish purposes."

The league statement expressed the fear that if the bills are passed the wildlife, which has found sanctuary in national parks, might be sacrificed in providing recreation for army and navy recruits.

MARQUETTE TO START ARIZONA TRIP TONIGHT

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 25 [Special].—Marquette university's football squad was intact today as it began practice for next Saturday's final game with the University of Arizona at Tucson.

Altho Left Half Back Jimmy Richardson was in uniform, he continued to favor the leg injury that kept him out of last Saturday's game with the University of Detroit.

The Hilltoppers will leave for the southwest tomorrow night, following a last hard workout at the home stadium.

YALE SELECTS BARTHOLEMY TO HEAD '41 TEAM

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 25 (AP).—Yale football letter men tonight unanimously elected Alen E. Bartholemy of Portland, Ore., an end, as next season's captain. He succeeds Harold B. Whiteman Jr. of Nashville, Tenn. Bartholemy was the outstanding player on this year's hapless Yale eleven.

1,228 Entered in Dog Show; Beat '39 Total

BY BOB BECKER.

Increased interest in dogs and dog shows was evidenced yesterday by the announcement that 1,228 purebred canines from many states have been entered in the Western Specialty Clubs association dog show to be held Saturday and Sunday in the Coliseum. This is an increase of 115 over the 1939 total of 1,113 entries.

A. F. Kramer, president of the Western Specialty group, announced that Doberman pinschers lead the entry list with 116 entered for competition. Cocker spaniels rank second with 113 entries, Boston terriers third with 67, bulldogs fourth with 63, boxers fifth with 58, and German shepherds, Great Danes, and Chihuahuas following with 57 each.

Complete List, by Breeds.

The complete list of entries, by breed, is as follows:

SPORTING DOGS: Cocker spaniels, 113; English setters, 51; English springer spaniels, 47; Irish setters, 46.

HOUNDS: Dachshunde, 56.

WORKING DOGS: Doberman pinschers, 116; German shepherds, 57; Great Danes, 57; collies, 56.

TERRIERS: Fox terriers, 54; Scottish terriers, 45; bull terriers, 39; Sealyham terriers, 34; schnauzers, 28; Irish terriers, 25; Airedale terriers, 22.

TOY DOGS: Chihuahuas, 57; Pomeranians, 32; Pekingese, 29.

NON-SPORTING DOGS: Boston terriers, 67; bulldogs, 63; boxers, 58; chow chows, 40; schipperkes, 36.

Name Prominent Judges.

The task of judging the large entry of Doberman pinschers will be divided between three widely known authorities on the breed. Dr. Edward H. Garry of Milwaukee, secretary of the Doberman Pinscher club of America, will judge all male Dobermans; John Cholley of Canton, O., will judge females; and William Schafer of Glenview, will officiate in all Doberman classes combining both sexes and also will pick the best of breed dog.

Joseph W. Crabbe of Chesterland, O., will be busy judging cocker spaniels both Saturday and Sunday. At 10 o'clock Saturday he will start weeding out entries in the bred-by-exhibitor novice stake for cockers, and Sunday he will judge the regular classes for American and English type cockers.

Many of the dogs entered in the regular breed judging also will go into the rings under the handling of boys and girls entered in the children's handling classes sponsored by THE TRIBUNE. This event will be held at 5:30 Saturday afternoon, with Judges Helen Nowicki and J. Paul Bishop passing on the youngsters' ability to handle dogs in the ring. Handsome trophies and pins will be awarded to the winners by THE TRIBUNE.

Paul Christman Accepts Bid to Shrine Game

Columbia, Mo., Nov. 25 (AP). — Paul Christman of Missouri said today he had accepted an invitation from Maj. Lawrence [Biff] Jones, Nebraska coach, to play in the annual East-West Shriners' charity game, Jan. 1 in San Francisco.

Early Morning Song.

I hear the ringing of a bell
That seems to come from far away,
When suddenly it dawns on me
It's time again to start the day.
And so I tumble out of bed,
Before I almost realize
I'm fixing coffee, eggs and toast
[And doing it with half shut eyes].
The lunches next are on the list
And so the sandwiches I. make,
Then add an apple or a pear,
Some cookies or a piece of cake.
Eventually the family's up
And breakfast finally is done,
Then into coats and hats they rush—
A kiss for me—and off they run.
I breathe a sigh of deep relief
At thirty minutes after eight—
Another morning's safely past
They're really off—and no one late.

N.U. Honors Its Wildcats and Coaching Staff

Northwestern university's football team and coaching staff were honored yesterday at a student mass-meeting celebrating Saturday's 20 to 0 victory over Notre Dame. Classes were dismissed for the day and after the massmeeting a victory dance was held in Patten gymnasium.

Coach Lynn Waldorf lauded the team for its performance thruout the season. "This team played closer to its real ability than any squad I ever have coached," Waldorf said. "The victory last Saturday was particularly gratifying since it was the first time in six years we have won the last game of the season."

Waldorf introduced members of the squad who spoke briefly. Coach Waldorf and Burt Ingwersen, line coach, left last night for a week's vacation in the south.

Notre Dame and Northwestern alumni also had their day at the Wailing Wall luncheon yesterday noon in the Sherman hotel. An overflow crowd greeted the Northwestern coaching staff and then saw movies of Saturday's game in Dyche stadium.

K. L. [Tug] Wilson, director of athletics at Northwestern, introduced Waldo Fisher, Wes Fry, and Ingwersen of the Wildcat football coaching staff. Then the program was turned over to Coach Waldorf who was commentator for the film.

LONBORG HOLDS DOUBLE DRILL FOR ALL-STARS

The College All-Star basketball players, numbering 15, went into the final phase of their workouts yesterday for Friday's game against the Harlem Globe Trotters, professional champions. The game will be played in the Chicago Stadium.

The collegians, under the direction of Arthur [Dutch] Lonborg, Northwestern coach, have been assembled in the city for several days. They are training in St. George's gymnasium in Evanston and yesterday Lonborg ordered a double session.

The All-Stars have been selected from every section of the nation, representing different styles of play. This has created the difficult job for Lonborg of working the men into a unit.

The Globe Trotters, before winning the pro basketball tournament in the Coliseum last spring, won 118 out of 121 games—all of them on opponents' courts thruout the country. Lonborg saw the pros play in the Chicago tournament.

STAGE AND FILM STAR HEADLINES DRAMA ON W-G-N

Ruth Chatterton to Take 2 Roles in Radio Play.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Ruth Chatterton, stage and screen star, will be headlined in W-G-N-Mutual's production, In Chicago Tonight, at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, in a specially written newspaper play, "Page Five, Column Two." Billy Gilbert, the sneezing comedian of motion pictures, will be featured in a comic sketch on the same broadcast.

A special musical score for this production was written by David Broekman, noted Hollywood composer. The play is by Ashmead Scott and William A. Bacher, who will produce the show.

Miss Chatterton, who appeared in a W-G-N production just a few months ago, returned to Chicago over the week-end and opened last night in George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" at the Selwyn theater. Gilbert is appearing at the State-Lake theater.

Plot Concerns Old Murder.

The plot of "Page Five, Column Two" concerns a small item supposedly appearing in that position in a newspaper. It reports the death of one Evelyn Vane, acquitted of a murder charge 20 years earlier. Thus the stage is set for retelling the story of the trial and the efforts of Evelyn and her daughter in a pitiless fight to escape notoriety. Miss Chatterton will take the parts of both mother and daughter.

Miss Chatterton has been a stage star since her early teens. Lately she has been dividing her time between the stage and screen.

Master of Sputtered Dialect.

Billy Gilbert will give listeners a chance to hear his mastery of dialects, sprayed and sputtered, not spoken. Now a man of multiple chins, Gilbert has long been a vaudeville favorite. In Hollywood he is the champion of "loaned out" stars. He is currently on view in Charlie Chaplin's "The Great Dictator." "A Little Bit of Heaven," and "Tin Pan Alley," all made by different studios.

Broekman's music is well known to In Chicago Tonight followers. He wrote the score for the stirring "Ode to Chicago" with Charles Laughton as star last September. Broekman conducted the W-G-N Concert orchestra for "Man With a Country" on W-G-N-Mutual on Nov. 3. His "American Rhapsody" was a musical highlight of this program.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: Second Story Man

Slated for W-G-N

Ruth Chatterton, stage and screen star who will head cast of play to be presented on W-G-N program, In Chicago Tonight, on Thursday.

'JOYRIDING COP' GETS 1-14 YEARS IN CRASH DEATH

Deny Probation in Dual Squad Car Tragedy.

Frank Hansen, former Hazel Crest policeman whose joy ride in a police squad car last Feb. 21 cost the lives of two persons, was sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary yesterday by Judge John P. McGoorty in Superior court. Hansen was convicted of manslaughter last July 25. Judge McGoorty, who presided in the Criminal court when Hansen was convicted, overruled a motion for probation. The sentence was mandatory.

Frank Hansen.

Hansen's conviction was for the death of William J. Knapp, 9963 Edbrooke avenue, into whose automobile Hansen's squad car crashed at 95th and Halsted streets after the policeman had spent an evening in several taverns with friends.

Second Indictment Pending.

A second manslaughter indictment in connection with the death of Evan M. Flora of Hazel Crest, who was riding with Hansen, is still pending.

Witnesses at the trial testified that Hansen, who was on duty when the accident occurred, was driving 60 to 65 miles an hour and that he ran a red light. Hansen said he was going only 45, and that he had been drinking coffee in taverns rather than the three glasses of beer and one drink of whisky credited to him by James Sarak, bartender in an East Hazel Crest saloon.

Woman Tells Different Story.

Hansen also said he had picked up the persons riding with him because they had been in a slight accident and wished to get home. A different story was related by Miss Gertrude Nord, 225 West 123d street, who said that she and Miss Eleana Ketola, 1217 East 55th street, had gone to several taverns prior to the accident with Hansen, Flora, and two other persons. Miss Ketola was injured in the crash.

Hansen's attorney said he will carry an appeal to the Supreme court. Meanwhile Hansen is at liberty in bonds of $10,000 set on the two indictments. He is married and has two sons, Edward, 13, and Floyd, 10.

AWARD OF $311,471 FROM JONES WON BY WILL COUNTY

Judge Luther B. Bratton, sitting in Will county Circuit court in Joliet, entered a judgment of $311,471 yesterday against Herbert R. Jones, Will county treasurer from 1930 to 1934. The suit, filed by the county board, resulted from a $436,471 shortage disclosed in 1936.

The Will county board accepted $125,000 from a surety company in 1938 in payment of that part of the shortage covered by the company. In an answer to an earlier suit Jones asserted part of the shortage occurred when his uncle, Ben D. Jones, was treasurer from 1918 to 1922.

Jones was indicted twice on charges of forgery and was acquitted twice. He also was indicted and acquitted on charges of perjury. County officials said neither Jones nor his uncle could be prosecuted on charges of larceny and embezzlement because the statute of limitations had expired. There is no statutory limitation in Illinois on forgery charges.

FARMERS TO GET 1ST CHECKS FOR ARMS SITE TODAY

Will county farmers will receive their first checks today in payment for land near Wilmington on which the government is erecting a munitions plant costing between 25 and 40 million dollars. Nearly all of the 62 square miles in the reservation is now under option.

The first of approximately 400 land owners to be paid are Harry S. Humphrey, owner of 98 acres appraised at $18,675; Oscar W. Deutschman, 240 acres, $12,810; and Richard G. Richards, 80 acres, $44,100. Assistant United States Attorney Clarence W. Beatty, who has been assisting with the purchase of the land, will deliver the checks at 10 a. m. in the office of the Will County Title company, Joliet.

It is estimated that the cost of the entire tract will be about five million dollars. Other owners will be paid as rapidly as titles and deeds are prepared, Beatty said.

HERBERT BAKER, AMERICAN CAN CO. PRESIDENT, DIES

New York, Nov. 25 (AP).—Herbert Abram Baker, 59, president of the American Can company, died tonight after a month's illness. Chemist, industrialist, and author of many scientific papers, Baker came to the United States from his native Canada in 1906 and became a naturalized citizen in 1934. He was a member of several scientific and social clubs and maintained a home in Scarsdale, N. Y. During the world war he was a member of the chemical tin plate apportionment commission and the food administration.

Motorist Gets $100 Fine for Driving While Drunk

Robert Ott, 414 North Ridgeway avenue, was fined $100 yesterday by Judge Frank M. Padden in Safety court. Ott was convicted of drunken driving. He was given a year's probation in which to pay the fine. George Cameron, colored, of 4124 South Park way, was sentenced to serve five days in the county jail for reckless driving.

Prof. H. Earl Young Dies; Editor of Farm Magazines

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 25 [Special].—Prof. H. Earl Young, 61, editor of farm publications, died of a stomach disorder late today. He was state leader of farmers' institute work at Purdue for nine years. He graduated from Michigan State college in 1902.

DRIVES INTO PATH OF TRAIN AT ZION CROSSING; KILLED

Henry Minors, 27 years old, 1705 Herman avenue, Zion, was fatally injured yesterday when his automobile was struck by the Shoreland flyer of the North Western railway at 25th street and Eden avenue in Zion. Minors, a maintenance engineer in a publishing house, waited at the crossing while a southbound suburban passenger train passed, then started across and was hit by the northbound train on another track. Police said warning signals at the crossing were operating.

Spyridon Lyras, 47, of 823 Cabrini street, a laborer, died in County hospital of injuries suffered Sunday night when he was struck by an automobile at 627 Blue Island avenue. The driver was Charles Long, 2419 Harrison street.

A woman who was fatally injured by an automobile Sunday in Cermak road near Kenton avenue was identified yesterday as Mrs. Katherine Abramowski, 63, of 2041 South Washtenaw avenue, wife of a WPA worker. The driver of the car was Robert Visk, 7839 Chappel avenue.

Walter McGowan, 45, of Fairmont, an unincorporated community adjoining Lockport in Will county, was killed by an automobile as he was walking in route 4A south of Fairmont. The driver was Eugene Faut of Fairmont. McGowan was a plumber.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 793 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 576 were killed in Chicago, where 21,477 were injured during the same period.

Betty Bundesen, Injured in Crash, Reported Better

Betty Bundesen, who is in a Sanford, Fla., hospital recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile accident, is "much better and appears to be out of danger," her father, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Chicago board of health, said by telephone to Chicago last night. Miss Bundesen, who is 20 years old, was injured when the automobile in which she was returning to Rollins college at Winter Park, Fla., where she is a student, overturned. Dr. Bundesen flew to Sanford Saturday to be with her.

SAVED FROM LAKE; REVIVED.

Hjalmar Swanson, 64 years old, 1701 North Karlov avenue, an unemployed painter and carpenter, was revived by Park Policeman Charles Koester yesterday after being pulled from the lake at Pearson street by passersby.

OBITUARIES

Col. Thomas Sinclair.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Nov. 25 (AP).—Col. Thomas Sinclair, Conservative member of parliament for 17 years, died today. He was 81 years old. As a British army surgeon in the world war, Col. Sinclair caused official credit to be given to Capt. Roy Brown, Canadian aviator, for shooting down the German flying ace, Baron Mannfred von Richtofen. Richtofen's plane crashed after a fight with Brown. Australian infantry also fired on the German. Col. Sinclair examined the body and decided Richtofen had been shot by Brown.

FIRST ANIMALS IN CHICAGO FOR LIVE STOCK SHOW

The leaders of the live stock parade to Chicago for the International Live Stock exposition arrived yesterday and were bedded down last night in the International amphitheater at 42d and Halsted streets, where the show will open Saturday to run eight days.

The first samples of grain to arrive also were arranged for display.

Among the early live stock animals were "Lucky Strike" and "Prince," two Angus steers fed by Eleanor Koster, 16 years old, and her sister, Ethel, 14, two 4-H club girls of Gladbrook, Ia. The total number of animals entered in the show is estimated at 13,500.

TARGET SHOOTER WOUNDS SELF.

Robert Scott, 24 years old, 2917 Leland avenue, accidentally shot himself in the right leg last night while in the shooting at targets in the basement of his father's home at 4336 North Troy street.

HOSPITAL WOMAN DOCTOR FOUNDED MARKS 75 YEARS

Dr. Mary Thompson believed the first woman physician to practice in Chicago, rented a house at what now is Rush street and Grand avenue in 1865 and began taking indigent women and children as patients. That hospital—the Women and Children's, now located at Maypole and Ashland avenues—will observe its 75 years of service today, tomorrow, and Thursday.

During its entire existence the hospital has been staffed and managed exclusively by women, a distinction shared only by one institution in Boston, Mass., and one in New York City. Of the 203 patients cared for the first year only one paid the full rate of $5 weekly. Expenses were met in part by the board, which included J. Young Scammon and Mrs. Joseph Medill, and by the Christian commission, the Red Cross of its day.

Dr. Thompson founded a medical school for women in 1871, and the hospital's nursing school, started in 1874, is said to be the oldest in the midwest. Milk from the mothers' milk bureau at the hospital, first in Chicago, was sent by plane to the Dionne quintuplets in Canada.

RITES TOMORROW FOR MISS HAGEN, HOME FOUNDER

Funeral services for Miss Mary Frances Hagen, founder of the Frances Juvenile home, will be conducted at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow from the chapel at 3058 Van Buren street to Our Lady of Sorrows church. Burial will be in Mount Carmel cemetery.

Miss Hagen, who was 73 years old, died Saturday in County hospital. She had been ill of a heart ailment for several months. She was born in Troy, N. Y., and had engaged in nursing in Chicago for more than 50 years.

While a nurse in County hospital she saw the need of an institution for the treatment of children infected with venereal diseases. Her work led to the founding of the home in 1909.

CLEVELAND SITE IS SELECTED FOR AVIATION PLANT

U. S. Laboratory to Cost $8,400,000.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25 (AP).—Cleveland was chosen today as the site for an airplane engine laboratory for which congress appropriated $8,400,000. John F. Victory, secretary of the national advisory committee for aeronautics, announced the selection after a long survey of scores of sites thruout the United States.

Dr. Vannevar Bush.

Victory said Cleveland was considered a logical location for the laboratory which had been proposed as an aid in developing the country's airforces for national defense.

Dr. Vannevar Bush, chairman of the aeronautics advisory committee, said bids for construction would be invited immediately and work should get under way next month.

Study 72 Possible Sites.

A site at the Cleveland Municipal airport was recommended by the special committee after a study of 72 possible sites in 62 cities.

"Decision of the committee was arrived at after a very complete appraisal of all factors affecting efficient operation of the laboratory," Dr. Bush said, "because of the finding that in its combination of advantages the Cleveland site will best serve the interests of aviation and of the nation."

Authorities said the laboratory will be in partial operation within a year. Approximately 100 engineers, physicists, mechanics, and riggers will be moved from Langley Field, Va., site of the committee's largest laboratory, to Cleveland as rapidly as equipment becomes available, and 200 additional workers will be added to the highly specialized force as they are needed.

Plans Vast Wind Tunnel.

Plans for the buildings call for a large scale wind tunnel and at least three test stands on which engines of 3,000 or more horsepower can be tested to determine their maximum output.

At present, in addition to the Langley Field group of laboratories, the committee is completing the Joseph S. Ames laboratory at Moffett Field, Cal., to provide facilities for west coast airplane manufacturers, and the United States army air corps is rushing to completion new testing facilities at Wright Field, Dayton, O.

Dr. George W. Lewis, research director of the NACA, declared that "since the engine is the heart of the airplane" and because research facilities are cramped for lack of room at Langley Field "the new Cleveland laboratory is urgently needed." He added that "altho America's airplane engines are as good as those of any other nation, there is great room for improvement."

CHICAGOANS DISAPPOINTED

Chicago interests expressed disappointment yesterday in the selection of Cleveland as the site for the $8,400,000 airplane engine laboratory.

"It is difficult to figure out wherein the superiority of Cleveland, as against Chicago, lies in respect to the logical location of the plant," commented one official.

"Certainly the superiority does not lie in safe location, for Cleveland is 10 minutes by air from the Canadian border; certainly not in accessibility to existing engine plants nor in the scope of research work by universities and private laboratories, in diversity of manufacturing in the metal trades, in fuel research, or in availability of electric power.

"It is difficult to see how Cleveland can outweight Chicago on the basis of economic, scientific and military factors."

Steel Mills to Continue at Peak Rate This Week

Steel mills thruout the nation will operate this week at 96.6 per cent of capacity, unchanged from the year's peak established last week, the American Iron & Steel institute reported yesterday. Operations a month ago were at 95.7 per cent of capacity and a year ago at 94.4 per cent, the highest rate of 1939.

Let 73 Million Ammunition, Plant Contract

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25 (AP).—The war department today gave the Remington Arms company of Bridgeport, Conn., a $73,575,261 contract to procure the equipment for a small arms ammunition plant near Lake City, Mo., and operate it for an unspecified period.

Officials said the contract covered production of some $60,000,000 worth of ammunition for rifles, semi-automatic rifles and machine guns. How much of the $13,575,261 difference between this figure and the total contract price would go for equipment, and how much for management charges was not disclosed.

12 Miles from Kansas City.

The war department's announcement said that agents selected by the quartermaster corps were now in the process of purchasing approximately 2,200 acres of land for the project near Lake City, which is about 12 miles east of Kansas City, Mo.

Officials said this large area would be needed because there was some element of danger in assembling small arms ammunition. The plant, they said, would be scattered in relatively small buildings so that trouble in one would not readily reach another.

Will Be Government Owned.

The plant will be the first government owned one of its kind undertaken in the present armament program. Powder will be obtained elsewhere, probably from the projected DuPont-operated government plant at Charleston, Ind.

Negotiations for the construction of plant buildings have not yet been completed, but informed persons estimated that the buildings would cost slightly less than $10,000,000. The cost of constructing the buildings will be in addition to the $73,575,261 contract.

After completion, officials said, title to the plant and equipment would remain with the government.

CHECK BUSINESS CLIMBS IN WEEK OF THANKSGIVING

Business done by check last week gained sharply over preceding periods, the federal reserve board reported yesterday. Thanksgiving and other seasonal factors boosted check transactions in the 7th [Chicago] reserve district over 25 per cent and almost 8½ billion dollars in the United States as a whole.

The reserve board attributed the $8,447,000,000 gain in the seven days ended Nov. 20 over the preceding week in check transactions of banks in 274 leading cities to pre-holiday buying, midmonth pay roll transactions, and the stimulating effect of the defense program. A gain of $8,467,000,000 was shown over the corresponding 1939 week.

Checks written in the 7th district as reported by 155 banks in 40 cities aggregated $1,547,051,000, compared with $1,223,771,000 in the preceding week and $1,222,326,000 in the corresponding week a year ago. Chicago check transactions totaled $862,127,000, compared with $694,850,000 in the comparable 1939 period.

BUTTER FUTURES EXTEND RISE TO THREE YEAR PEAK

Butter futures continued to extend their almost uninterrupted rise since the start of the month by reaching new three year highs yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. Active buying and covering resulted in net gains of 0.20 to 0.40 cent a pound, with November showing the wider advance at 33.30 cents.

Large consumer demand again was reflected in a ¼ cent a pound boost in the cash market where 92 score butter sold at 33¾ cents, its peak since December, 1937.

Egg futures closed 0.10 cent a dozen higher to 0.10 cent lower in active trading. November contracts advanced to 19.45 cents and January declined to 18.50 cents.

CORN PRODUCERS OF ILLINOIS RAP NEW LOAN PLAN

Many Say They Will Not Enroll.

Growing opposition in central Illinois was reported yesterday to the department of agriculture's new corn loan program. Many farmers definitely declared they would not enroll in the program because it provides that the corn shall be sealed for three years instead of only one year.

Reports from Champaign county and other places in the eastern central portion of the state said a majority of farmers opposed the new program. Tenants and landowners in the Bloomington and Decatur areas are lined up solidly in opposition, reports stated.

Tenant farmers declared farm owners would not permit them to seal corn on their farms for three years. They said that most corn belt farms do not have crib room in which to store two consecutive crops.

Loan Aid Defends Plan.

"It means building extra cribs, and we've already got two crops stored on the place," one landowner commented.

Charles Hunter, senior administrative official of the Commodity Credit corporation in Chicago, said that farmers opposing this year's corn loan program apparently had not studied the plan thoroly and become familiar with all of its provisions.

"I personally believe it is the best corn loan program we have had," Hunter said. "The farmer can wait until next September before deciding whether or not he wants to seal his corn under the plan. Heretofore, he had to decide before March 31.

"While this year's program provides that the corn shall be sealed in the cribs for three years, anybody can deliver his corn at the end of two years if he so desires. We are making the loan according to the wishes of the farmers."

Says Farmers Asked Change.

Hunter said many farmers had asked for longer loans. The new plan, he said, would eliminate making out of complete new loan papers at the end of each year if the farmer wanted to keep his corn sealed for another year.

"The plan provides that if the owner should die, the tenant should move, or any changes should be made in the tenancy or ownership of a farm the corn under the new loan plan can be delivered at the end of one year," Hunter said.

124% INCREASE MADE IN EXPORTS FROM BALTIMORE

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 25 (AP).—Exports from the port of Baltimore in 10 months this year were valued at $155,791,000, an increase of 124 per cent over the corresponding months last year, G. H. Pouder, association of commerce executive vice president, said today.

Pouder predicted export trade for 1940 would "set a 20 year record" in Baltimore, ranked in 1938 as the nation's third largest port in total tonnage handled.

Increased war born traffic with Africa, the far east, United Kingdom, and Latin America accounted for the big gain, Pouder said, despite the closing of many other markets because of the war.

Grain shipments for the 10 months totaled 20,195,000 bushels, or "nearly 500 per cent above last year."

Report Canada to Put Ban on Automobile Imports

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 25 (AP).—Orders in council will be issued soon banning importation of new model automobiles, radios, and other supplies, it was reliably reported tonight in trade circles here. The bans would protect Canadian manufacturers who already have been ordered to confine their production to existing models, involving no drain on available machine tool output.

ILLINOIS EMPLOYMENT OFFICES PLACE 16,177 WORKERS IN OCTOBER

The Illinois state employment service filled 16,177 jobs during October, an increase of 13 per cent over the 14,279 placements made in September, Martin P. Durkin, state director of labor, announced yesterday. Jobs filled in October, 1939, totaled 13,661. work obtaining their new employés work obtaining their new employés thru the employment servce, Durkin reported that skilled workers, especially in the metal trades, are more in demand. He advised unemployed workers of this type to register at one of the employment service offices.

Durkin said that the gain in jobs filled last month did not mean that general employment had increased by a similar percentage. He attributed much of the increase to the fact that more workers have become familiar with the placement service. Jobs filled in the Chicago area during October numbered 7,988.

British Seek to Buy Eight Black Diamond Line Ships

Boston, Mass., Nov. 25 (AP).—The United States maritime commission disclosed today that British interests had sought permission to purchase eight 5,000 ton freighters of the Black Diamond line to replace sea warfare losses. If the commission approves the sale, the vessels would be transferred to British registry as they returned from present voyages. They were built 20 years ago for the old United States shipping board, and have a speed of 12 to 13 knots.

EXTRA DIVIDEND VOTED ON STOCK OF NINE FIRMS

Standard Oil (Ky.) Pays 30 Cents.

Extra dividends were declared yesterday by nine more companies, including Standard Oil Company of Kentucky and the Holland Furnace company. Two of the nine, moreover, announced increased payments, and several other firms authorized the first disbursements this year.

Directors of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky voted an extra of 30 cents in addition to the regular quarterly 25 cents on the 2,604,796 shares of common stock outstanding.

An extra dividend of $1 a share on the 1,000,000 shares outstanding was declared by the South Penn Oil company, Pittsburgh, together with the usual quarterly disbursement of 37½ cents.

Votes Two 50 Cent Payments.

With the declaration of a 50 cent extra dividend in addition to the usual 50 cents, the Holland Furnace company, Holland, Mich., raised total distribution for the year to $2.50, against $2 in 1939. There are 450,442 shares outstanding.

An increased dividend of 35 cents and an extra payment of 15 cents were authorized by the General Telephone corporation, New York. The company, which serves about 2,500 communities in 17 states, paid 30 cents in previous quarters this year.

The Marchant Calculating Machine company, Oakland, Cal., also announced an increased dividend of 37½ cents and an extra disbursement of the same amount on the 226,642 shares of common stock outstanding. In earlier quarters this year, the regular payment was 25 cents. This declaration will place the company's regular distribution on a basis of $1.50 a share per year, according to Edgar B. Jessup, president.

National Bond to Pay Extra.

Extra payments were also declared by the National Bond and Investment company, Chicago finance company, 80 cents; Draper corporation, Hopedale, Mass., maker of cotton mill machinery, $1 payable in December and $1 payable in January; Scott Paper company, Chester, Pa., 25 cents, and Harvey Hubbell, Inc., Bridgeport, Conn., manufacturer of electrical wiring devices, 25 cents.

General Railway Signal company, Rochester, N. Y., resumed dividends on the common stock with declaration of 50 cents a share.

STOCK MARKET EDGES HIGHER IN LIGHT TRADING

Steels and Industrials Are Buying Favorites.

New York, Nov. 25 (AP).—Quiet buying of steels and selected industrials gave the stock market a lift today, but many leaders were unable to make much of a showing.

Favorites rose fractions to 2 points in the forenoon. Then there was a letdown and at the close many gains were cut or converted into declines.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks finished with a net advance of .1 of a point at 44.5, its first plus sign since Nov. 18. Transfers totaled 521,260 shares, smallest turnover for a full session since Oct. 28. Last Friday's volume was 714,050 shares.

"Correction" Believed Ended.

The better action of the list was attributed by brokers partly to the belief the market had already experienced a substantial "correction" from the lengthy upswing.

Increased and extra dividends, together with expectations of higher payments, aided a number of issues. Earnings statements, generally, remained cheerful along with most business items. War news apparently was a secondary influence.

Steels were propped by the ability of production to maintain a record peak.

Offsetting the favorable business news was the sale of a stock exchange seat for $34,000, off $6,000 at a new low since 1914.

Chicago Stocks.

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange continued their irregular course yesterday, with 32 issues advancing, 35 declining, and 31 closing unchanged. Transactions totaled 23,000 shares. Commonwealth Edison, the volume leader, closed at 28⅛, up ⅛ point.

A comparison of several stocks listed both in Chicago and New York, showing the changes here in the hour after the New York close, follows:

	New York, Chicago, Chge.
Borg-Warner	21⅞ 21½ .....
Butler Brothers pfd	19½ 19½ .....
Commonwealth Edison	28⅝ 28⅛ -⅛
Consolidated Oil	6¼ 6 -¼
General Foods	35 35 .....
Swift International	18 18 .....

New York Bonds.

New York, Nov. 25 (AP).—Renewed demand for high priced bonds acted as a stabilizer to other groups today, enabling the market as a whole to advance moderately. Two divisions used in the Associated Press averages —the low yields and industrials—established new highs for recent years at 114.2 and 105.8, respectively, each up .1 of a point.

Sales were $5,573,250, par value, compared with $8,329,400 last Friday. It was the fifth time since last Monday that the industrials used in the compilation crossed the previous highs and the fourth time the low yield group attained this distinction. Brokers have attributed the sustained demand for these issues—many of par—to large scale institutional buying to fill out portfolios before the close of the year.

Issues gaining fractions to a point or more included Montana Power 3¼s, Shell Union 2½s, Studebaker 6s, Great Northern 4s, Commonwealth Edison 3½s, and Anaconda Copper 4⅜s.

United States governments closed 8-32 of a point higher to 1-32 lower. Falling back for small losses were International Paper 5s, Alleghany Stamped 5s and Missouri Pacific 5s. Foreign dollar loans were neglected and finished irregular.

FEDERAL HOMES TO BE BUILT FOR 6,750 FAMILIES

Private Capital Lacking in Eleven Communities.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25 (AP).—With a finding that defense housing needs in 11 communities would not be met by private capital, President Roosevelt authorized the Federal Works administration today to proceed at once with the construction of homes for 6,750 families.

Morton Bodfish is named to aid private housing.

The work will be financed out of approximately 290 million dollars of federal funds available for such projects.

Officials said that private capital would provide additional housing for defense workers in some of the communities, but that private development was hindered by fears that employment in defense industries and in army and navy establishments would diminish after a few years.

Announce Bodfish Appointment.

Charles F. Palmer, defense housing coördinator, announced the President's finding and also disclosed the appointment of Philip Norton of Los Angeles and Morton Bodfish of Chicago to encourage expansion of private enterprise in the housing field.

Officials said the homes authorized by the President would be multiple dwellings—mostly row houses with fronts varied to relieve the monotony of that type of construction. They will be for married couples, and will have two or three bedrooms each. Most will be occupied by civilian employés of the army and navy or civilian employés of defense industries.

Officials said that construction generally would be frame, but that the houses would be built to last as long as the average. Methods of management after their completion have not been decided upon, but there has been some talk of having management brokers or local housing authorities collect the rentals.

May Go to Local Agencies.

After the need for defense housing is passed, it was said, the homes might be turned over to local housing authorities.

The number of dwellings to be constructed in the 11 communities are as follows: Jacksonville, Fla., 300; Pensacola, Fla., 100; Charleston, S. C., 600; Philadelphia and Camden, N. J., 1,000; Indianhead, Md., 650; New London, Conn., 300; Boston, Mass., 1,050; Vallejo, Cal., 950; Bremerton, Wash., 800; Island of Oahu, Hawaii, 1,000.

John M. Carmody, the Federal Works administrator, has yet to designate which of the agencies under his jurisdiction shall undertake the construction.

Properties of Landstrom Furniture to Be Auctioned

Rockford, Ill., Nov. 25 [Special].—All physical properties of the Landstrom Furniture corporation will be placed on the auction block for sale to the highest bidder Dec. 11 and 12. Plans for the sale were announced today by L. C. Rudolph, one of the two principals in the purchase earlier this year of Consolidated Industries, of which the Landstrom company is a part. Rudolph announced that Consolidated Industries would not continue operation of the Landstrom plant.

Two Lines Seek to Operate Bus Service in Mattoon, Ill.

Two bus lines yesterday sought permission from the Illinoice commerce commission to operate buses in Mattoon, Ill., which has no local transportation line at present. Applications were filed by the Mattoon City Bus Line company and Mattoon Bus Lines, Inc. The Mattoon City Bus Line company formerly operated buses in the city, but its service was discontinued.

SENATORS FLAY PAST PRACTICES OF WABASH ROAD

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25 (AP).—Senators Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], and Harry S. Truman [D., Mo.], charged today that in 1930 when the Wabash Railway company "was on the brink of receivership, it continued to paint on its books and in its published statements a rosy picture of corporate wealth."

The allegation was contained in a report of the senate interstate commerce committee, the latest in the series which the committee has released.

"While false economies and income items, no more than bookkeeping entries, were being set up on the books in such a way as to conceal the true state of affairs, the Wabash's actual income was not being husbanded," the report said.

"Altho the railroad was almost on the brink of receivership, directors ordered the payment of $3,700,000 in dividends, nearly half to the Pennsylvania railroad, which owned nearly 50 per cent of Wabash preferred stock. They also voted an extraordinary salary increase and bonus to the chairman of the road."

2 ROADS RELEASE LAND CLAIMS TO GET RATE BOOSTS

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25 (AP).—The department of the interior announced today the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroads had filed land grant claim releases permitting them to cancel reduced rates for certain classes of government freight and passenger traffic.

Early laws granting land to railroads required that some government freight and passenger traffic be moved at reduced rates. The transportation act of 1940 provided roads could discontinue the reduced rates when they filed a formal release of all claims under such land grants.

Land office records showed that grants to predecessor or subsidiary companies of both roads had been closed and settled many years ago, but they had to file formal release before the increased rates could be put into effect.

PENNSYLVANIA'S LIQUOR CONTROL IS CHALLENGED

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 25 (AP).—Pennsylvania retail liquor dealers today challenged the constitutionality of the state's 80 million dollar a year liquor monopoly.

John P. Crane, president of the Philadelphia branch and legislative secretary of the State Retail Liquor Dealers' association, filed the action in the Dauphin county [Harrisburg] court.

The particulars will include a test of sections forbidding retailers to buy from distillers and to sell bottles over the counter. Now they buy from the state stores with a 16.25 per cent discount, and may sell only by the drink.

The state monopoly was established in 1933 for former Gov. Gifford Pinchot. Profits, ranging around $15,000,000 a year, go into the general fund, earmarked for unemployment relief.

Business Failures Show Rise in Holiday Week

Business failures in the United States increased to 256 in the 5 day week ended Nov. 21 from 203 in the preceding short week, Dun & Bradstreet reported yesterday. A year ago, also a holiday curtailed week, failures totaled 252.

PLAN IS OFFERED TO REVAMP UNIT OF MIDDLE WEST

Recapitalization of the North West Utilities company has been proposed by the Middle West corporation, the parent company, it was announced yesterday. Hearings on the plan have been set by the Securities and Exchange commission for Dec. 6.

Under the plan the common stock of North West would be surrendered and canceled, its preferred stock exchanged for $70 par value common stock, and its prior lien stock undisturbed.

The capital would be reduced from $8,346,031 to $5,932,850 and the deficit in the surplus account eliminated.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Heavy selling of spring pigs reduced hog prices yesterday. Both the top and average showed 10c less, at $6.25 and $6.10 per cwt. respectively.

Cattle supplies were large again, but demand was brisk and most steers and yearlings held fully steady with last week's close. Heifers sold steady to a little higher.

Mostly steady prices were paid for lambs and sheep.

Hog receipts, 33,000; shipments, 1,000.
Cattle receipts, 15,000; shipments, 3,500.

SUPREME COURT SPLITS, 6-3, ON TWO TAX SUITS

Transfer of Bond Coupon Held No Bar to Levy.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 25 (AP).—The United States Supreme court split 6 to 3 in two income tax decisions handed down today, both of which represented victories for the government.

Justice James C. McReynolds wrote the dissenting opinions, in which Chief Justice Charles E. Hughes and Justice Owen J. Roberts concurred. The majority opinions were written by Justice Harlan F. Stone.

The first held that Paul R. G. Horst of Brooklyn, N. Y., was liable for a tax on the income from interest coupons which he had detached from his bonds and transferred to his son as a gift. The son collected the $50,677 interest and included it in his own tax return.

The second found that a life insurance agent, Gerald A. Eubank of New York City, was liable for a tax on $15,612 of renewal commissions on policies sold, altho he had assigned the commissions to a corporate trustee.

Called Surtax Evasion.

The government contended that a transaction like Horst's would afford taxpayers "a ready means by which it Eubank's position were sustained, "the opportunity for tax avoidance would be alarming."

"The import of the statute is that the fruit is not to be attributed to a different tree from that on which it grew," Stone's opinion concluded. It also said that the assignor controled the source of the income and his transfer of it did not relieve him of the tax.

The dissenting opinions declared in both cases that the transferred income was placed completely beyond the donor's control.

Idle Tax Review Refused.

The court refused to review a Georgia Supreme court decision which state officials asserted would "seriously endanger" the administration of unemployment compensation programs of 33 states. The decision barred the state from lumping concerns under the same ownership into a single unit to determine whether there were enough employés to warrant the collection of assessments under the unemployment compensation statute.

A 1937 Georgian law permitted assessments against such concerns if, together, they employed eight or more persons.

The court also declined to review a Maine federal court ruling that brokers are liable for misrepresentation under the 1933 "truth in securities" act even when the securities they sell are owned by others.

SOCIETY BROKER IS BARRED BY N. Y. ON FRAUD CHARGE

New York, Nov. 25 [Special].—accused of "fraudulent practices which caused an aggregate loss to his customers of $333,387, Joseph Warren Burden was enjoined today from ever engaging in the securities brokerage business in or from this state. The injunction was signed by Supreme Court Justice Isidor Wasservogel.

Burden lives on his estate, the Rise, Fox Lane, Mt. Kisco. His wife is the former Margery K. Maude, daughter of the British comedian Cyril Maude. A son, Joseph Warren Burden Jr., is listed in the 1041 social register as at Oxford, England, and a daughter, Pamela M. Burden, at Chatham Hall.

The suit, brought by Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr., dealt with approximtaely 50 accounts of customers, some of them friends of social position and others "well known figures in public life," according to the attorney general. He added that all had waived claims against Burden to recover funds.

Ernest C. Hoy, formerly of Newark, N. J., has been named manager of the Chicago branch office for the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada. He succeeds Douglas J. Scott.

L. F. Donald of Milwaukee has been appointed assistant general manager of the Milwaukee Road's eastern lines. He will make his headquarters in Chicago.

L. F. Donald (left), Miss Norma R. Thompson, and Paul E. Burbank, whose names appeared in yesterday's business news.

Paul E. Burbank is the Chicago area manager of the new field organization of United Air Lines to handle air express shipments.

Miss Norma R. Thompson has been appointed to the newly created position of chief stewardess nurse for the Baltimore & Ohio and Alton railroads. Miss Thompson is a graduate of St. Luke's hospital in Chicago.

The Chicago Association of Commerce will hold a luncheon meeting tomorrow to mark the 20th anniversary of the establishment of the first transcontinental air route across the United States. Among the speakers will be Capt. Jack Knight, who made the first night air mail flight.

FETE ORIGINATOR OF HYBRID CORN ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Dr. George Harrison Shull, professor of botany at Princeton university, and originator of the hybridization method in corn production, will be honored at a dinner Friday night in the Palmer House.

Farm leaders, public officials, farm editors and champion corn growers from the middle west will attend. The dinner will be sponsored by the DeKalb Agricultural association. A diamond studded medal will be presented to Dr. Shull in recognition of his work.

Dr. Shull began his experiments hybridizing corn 35 years ago. Hybrid corn yields more per acre than ordinary corn. The planting of hybrid corn has increased tremendously in recent years. This year 25 million acres in the United States were planted, more than twice that in 1938.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL SHOWS SMALLER OCTOBER PROFIT

Rock Island Operating Net Largest Since 1930.

The Illinois Central railroad yesterday reported net profit of $1,249,312 for October, compared with $2,238,851 last year. The road had a net loss for the first 10 months of 1940 of $885,882, compared with net income of $1,006,066 for the corresponding period last year.

The Rock Island lines reported the largest net railway operating income for October since 1930. The road's net from operations for the month [before bond interest] was $1,670,312 compared with $1,331,979 a year ago. For the ten months ended Oct. 31, net operating income mounted to $6,-139,717 from $4,298,018 a year earlier.

The New York Central's net operating income for the month shrank to $5,339,057 from $7,064,476 in the corresponding month in 1939. However, the road reported a gain for the ten month period, net operating income climbing to $32,975,898 from $28,418,-491 a year earlier.

An increase of $245,160 in net operating income for October was reported by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, with a total for the month of $3,653,298 compared with $3,408,-138 a year earlier.

WALGREEN SALES AND PROFITS FOR FISCAL YEAR RISE

Employe Pension Plan Put Up to Stockholders.

tin W. Dart, general manager, said in the report to stockholders.

"The cost of this work was substantial, and, in accordance with the company's long standing policy, all of it, except that of removable fixtures installed, was charged off against the year's income. We closed or disposed of 30 stores. During the ensuing year we plan to continue our store improvement program."

The company announced also introduction of a pension plan for employés to be known as the Charles R. Walgreen Memorial Pension trust. Payments by the company into the trust would vary with earnings per share on the common stock. Stockholders will be asked to authorize the plan at the annual meeting on Dec. 11.

Employés to Contribute.

Under the plan, if the company's net income amounts to $1.80 a share of common stock, the company will contribute $1 for each $1 contributed by the participating employé. In the event the net profits are higher than the $1.80 figure, the company's contribution will be proportionately increased while the contribution likewise will be lower in case of a decrease in the per share earning. The plan specifies a 25 per cent minimum contribution by the company, with the maximum being not more than 300 per cent of the employé's contribution.

The company agrees to pay to the trustees an amount equal to the aggregate contributed by employés up to $500,000 as an initial payment, after which it will match employés' payments so long as common share earnings remain at the basic figure of $1.80 for any fiscal year.

The basic age of retirement will be 60 years, but the plans specify that the rule shall not be construed as indicating that it will be the policy of the company to retire employés reaching that age.

Net proceeds of the life insurance been reserved for the proposed employés' retirement income plan, according to the profit and loss account.

Rayonier Earnings Rise.

Despite provisions for higher federal taxes, Rayonier Incorporated, producer of pulp and paper, made substantial gains in net income for the three-month and six-month periods ended Oct. 31, Edward M. Mills, president, reported.

In the three-month period, net profits totaled $1,053,557, or 77 cents a share, compared with $652,236, or 55 cents a share, in the corresponding period last year. The six-months' consolidated net income came to $2,139,109, or $1.57 a share, against $870,152, or 25 cents a share, in the comparable period in 1939.

Mills said that during the six months this year federal taxes totaled $1,924,093, of which $948,089 was set aside for excess profits taxes. In the corresponding six months last year, federal taxes amounted to $171,697. The company has main offices in San Francisco, Cal.

Consumers' Goods Steady Business Group Reports

Prices of consumers' goods are fairly stable and increases are not expected soon altho forces are at work which will probably lead to a rise in the future, the domestic distribution department committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States reported yesterday. The committee, headed by B. F. McLain, Dallas, Tex., met in the Palmer House to discuss problems of distribution, especially in relation to the defense program. Their recommendations will be considered by the directors on Dec. 6 in Washington.

MISSOURI PACIFIC COMPLETES BIG TERMINAL DEAL

New York, Nov. 25 (AP).—A deal for the sale of terminal properties at St. Joseph, Mo., to the Missouri Pacific railroad was completed today with the transfer of checks totaling $1,050,000 to Terminal Shares, Inc., a subsidiary of Alleghany corporation.

Guy A. Thompson, trustee in reorganization of the Missouri Pacific, turned over a check for $400,000. Another check for $650,000 represented cash withdrawn from the assets of Union Terminal Railroad company.

Under the contract all litigation growing out of an original deal for the sale of terminal properties in St. Joseph and Kansas City to the Missouri Pacific by the Van Sweringen interests in 1930 is to be voided.

The sale of the Kansas City terminal properties is being held up by litigation involving condemnation proceedings. Alleghany corporation will apply the cash to retirement of bonds.

CHARGE HOPSON JUGGLED BOOKS TO HIDE PROFITS

New York, Nov. 25 (AP).—Evidence purporting to show book juggling allegedly ordered by Howard C. Hopson was produced in Federal court today at the resumption of his trial with two co-defendants on mail fraud and conspiracy charges in allegedly defrauding Associated Gas and Electric system investors of $20,000,000.

Mrs. Bertha E. Herrmann, for many years supervising bookkeeper for many of Hopson's holding companies, testified that in 1934 at Hopson's direction she drew up new ledgers for two of his Newfoundland holding companies, International Public Utilities Investing Company Ltd., and North American Development Company Ltd.

The government contends Hopson ordered the change in an effort to conceal millions of dollars of illegal profits he allegedly made thru manipulation of a $63,000,000 Associated Gas and Electric bond issue.

Burlington Mills Calls Vote on Issuance of New Stock

New York, Nov. 25 (AP).—A special meeting of stockholders of Burlington Mills corporation has been called for Dec. 6 to vote on proposals to create a new issue of 130,000 shares of cumulative preferred stock and increase the authorized amount of common to 1,200,000 shares from 700,000 now outstanding. It is proposed to sell for cash to an underwriting group 80,000 shares of the new preferred.

Salesmen.

MEN WITH CARS.

We have attractive openings in our rapidly growing organization in the Chicago area. Northern Indiana, and Illinois, for men who recognize a real opportunity when they see one.

The men we want must be willing to work diligently, enthusiastically, and loyally in an organization that offers a permanent connection with advancement and steady financial progress to those who qualify. This is dignified work featuring a home service for better nutrition and involves ABSOLUTELY NO CANVASSING. Men selected will operate on a commission and bonus basis with expense allowance. Average earnings upwards of $180 a month. Maturity is an asset in our business providing a man has faith in himself. See or write MR. GUSTAFSON, Hotel Pearson, 190 East Pearson-street.

Specialty Salesmen.

If you have the ability and self confidence required to successfully work cold and sell on one call—if you have a background of experience selling intangibles, books, membership, or service—then you can make good money by presenting our patriotic educational program to executives, business, and professional men in Chicago. High commissions and bonuses are paid immediately upon acceptances of orders, and offer opportunity for advancement. You will represent a Washington organization of 16 yrs. standing. If you feel you can qualify, write us in detail telling us what you have sold, and average earnings for the past few years. Address M G 535, Tribune.
